SAMPSON SAILS INTO SHAFTER

upon the apparently extraordinary openness which every detail of hope, effort, or suggestion on the part of the army has been published. The unwisdom of such procedure is too manifest for discussion."

INDEFINITE TRUCE.

After referring to the existence of what he terms an indefinite truce at that time, Sampson quotes a message from Shafter dated July 10, asking him to begin firing on the city according to programme, but to be careful to put his shots well to the westward, near the bay, to avoid a disastrous moral effect upon his soldiers, and the admiral says that reports from army headquarters show that shells were fired with great effect, starting several fires in the city and only a few falling in the water. He quotes a dispatch of Shafter's to this effect. He also quotes a dispatch from Secretary Long saying that the secretary of war desires Sampson to force the harbor; that he wishes to do all that is reasonable to bring about the surrender, and leaves the matter to Sampson's discretion, "except that the United States armored vessels must not be risked."

The admiral says: "I take this to be a continuation of the preceding matter to which I have referred. I think that the falsity of the suggestion that the navy was unwilling to co-operate in forcing an entrance to Santiago is already sufficiently shown. I would, however, add, to show the good will of the navy and my desire and understanding that in case the enemy failed to come to terms through bombardment, the harbor entrance should be forced, that in the meanwhile all preparations were completed for countermining, the mines having been removed for this purpose from the Resolute to the collier Lebanon. Lieutenants Roy Smith and F. E. Caphart, who are mining experts, were placed aboard the Lebanon and everything arranged for action whenever desired. The only reasons for postponement came from the general commanding the army.

"The navy has been placed in such an invidious and false position before the country through the very unwise publication of General Shafter's telegrams that I think this matter should in some way be made clear to the public."

When Shafter signalled that Miles and himself were to have a conference looking to the surrender of Santiago, Sampson sent a message to Shafter saying he desired to be represented in any conference which included the surrender of the shipping. Shafter agreed to this.

LETTER TO SECRETARY LONG.

On July 14, Sampson sent the following to Secretary Long:

July 14, 1898. Published telegram of General Shafter, Herald of July 6, reflect on the navy. I wish the department and the president to understand that the first requisite to opening harbor of Santiago de Cuba is the occupation of forts and entrenchments at its entrance guarding mine fields and that the general has never made a move to do this, although before his army landed he stated that such was the primary object of his operations. If the general chooses to ignore the sea approaches and to attack Santiago to the east and north, that is his affair, but it should be clearly understood that this attack does not influence the situation at the harbor entrance from which his left flank is distant not less than four miles. I have been ready at any time during the last three weeks to silence works, to clear entrance of mines and to enter harbor whenever his army will do the part which the proper conduct of war assigns to it. To throw my ships to certain destruction over mine fields would be suicidal folly and I have not the force to form landing party strong enough to insure the capture of the forts. No disagreements mentioned by the paper have been brought to my notice by General Shafter.

Admiral Sampson gives a number of dispatches showing that he was asked to participate in the terms of surrender and tried to find out when he should send a representative, but owing to one or two delays, no time was fixed. Sampson's comments follow:

"The foregoing certainly shows clearly the most absolute joint action and I took for granted that we should be joint signatories of any capitulations, as is customary in all services in such circumstances.

"Captain Chadwick arrived at the front at the earliest hour it was possible for him to do so and informed General Shafter of my expectancy in the matter, but General Shafter peremptorily refused. The convention had already been signed and he stated as one reason that nothing had been said of the army in my report of the fleet's action of July 3. There would have been as much reason for mentioning the navy in the report of the land action of July 1, when assault was made by our army on the Spanish lines.

"No mention was made of the shipping in the capitulation and Captain Chadwick informed General Shafter that all Spanish ships would be regarded by us as property to be turned over to the navy. He said he would refer such a matter to the secretary of war, but that, of course, could have no bearing upon what I considered my duty in the matter, particularly in the view of our late experience of Spanish perfidy in regard to injury of ships, which, in my opinion, made it necessary to look after their safety at once. I thus, after the hauling down of the Spanish flag, sent prize crews on board the gunboat Alvarado and the five merchant steamers in the harbor. An officer of the army was found on board the Alvarado, who stated he had been sent to take charge of her, whereupon I addressed the following letter to General Shafter:

CAPTURES A GUNBOAT.

United States Flagship New York, July 17.

Sir: Upon sending in an officer to take charge of the captured Spanish gunboat, the Alvarado, it was found that one of your officers was on board evidently with the expectation of taking charge of her. It should hardly be necessary to remind you that in all joint operations of the character of those which have resulted in the fall of Santiago, all floating material is turned over to the navy as all forts, etc., are to the army. I have been lying within 500 yards of Morro, from which the Spanish flag was hauled down at 9 o'clock and upon which the United States flag has not yet at 2 o. m. been hoisted. Although my forces have frequently engaged those forts and yours have not exchanged a shot with them, I await the arrival of a detachment of your troops to take possession as they must eventually occupy them. I expect the same consideration.

I request that you will relieve Lieutenant Carrithers of the duty given him, as I have directed Lieutenant Marble to assume command of the Alvarado.

After quoting some further correspondence on the matter in which Sampson claims the prize he refers to the expulsion of Lieutenant Doyle from captured vessels and the failure of Shafter to invite any of the squadron officers to be present at the surrender.

SHAFTER'S TART REPLY.

Shafter's rejoinder came Aug. 1, directed to Admiral Sampson as follows:

Santiago, Aug. 1, 1898.

I do not acknowledge the authority of the secretary of the navy in the matter in which you wire me. The surrender of Santiago was made to me by General Toral in person, in surrendering verbally all the prisoners and public property of Spain in the district commanded by him and I accepting the same in the presence of troops representing all the respective armies. The details for carrying this into effect were arranged by three commissioners on each side. These articles were signed by the respective commissioners in duplicate, one copy handed to General Toral and the other was sent by me to the secretary of war. Neither General Toral nor myself signed them. Certainly could not and would not remit these articles to any officers signature, my own not being affixed, and I shall protest to the secretary of war against your signature to that document. I respectfully invite your attention to the fact that no claim for any credit for the capture of Cervera and his fleet has been made by the army, although it is a fact the Spanish fleet did not leave the harbor until the investment of the city was practically completed and Cervera had sufficient losses on land on July 1 and 2, notably among them his chief of staff.

(Signed) W. R. Shafter,
Major General.

Sampson says that he acknowledged receipt of the same without argument and that the matter should be decided at Washington. Meanwhile he cites a number of telegrams and signals that Shafter had the assistance of the fleet in bringing about the surrender.

IN THE PLAY HOUSES.

"Shall We Forgive Her?"

Marie Wainright, as statuesque and beautiful as ever, was at the Lyceum theater last night in a play of strong human interest entitled "Shall We Forgive Her?" in which she has been seen heretofore in this city.

She had the support of a very competent company.

Modjeska Tonight.

Madame Helena Modjeska, who will be here tonight, is the only surviving member of that great coterie of actors of which Edwin Booth, John McCullough, Christine Nellson, Lawrence Barrett and the elder Salvini were such shining lights. The elder Salvini has only retired, it is true, but the rest have all joined the silent majority and Modjeska alone remains to show what the drama should be. She will play in "Macbeth" at the Lyceum.

"Fencing Master Tonight."

The Milton Aborn opera company sang "Fra Diavolo" at the Academy of Music yesterday afternoon before a large audience. Last night "Boccaccio" was heard. This afternoon the company will sing "Said Pasha" and tonight "The Fencing Master."

"What Happened to Jones?"

"What Happened to Jones" is the title of about the most successful farce produced last season. It will be given at the Lyceum with a clever company, including Fert C. Thayer, Soldene Powell, Barney McDonough, Frank Hope, Philip Calvert, Charles Greene, Cora Williams, Blanche Johnson, Eleanor Broadhoy, Helen Harcourt, Kate Weston and Frances Lois Clarke. "Jones" was written by George H. Broadhurst and is one of these complicated mix-ups so often encountered in the field of farce.

Shea-McAuliffe Stock Company.

Our theater goers are offered a treat all next week at the Academy as the Shea-McAuliffe Stock company, with Jere McAuliffe, is entirely different from anything in the line of repertoire that has been given in this city. The management announces for the first production the new "Fire Patrol." It will be remembered that this melodrama had a most successful run in this city some time ago and the way this company is said to mount the play is hailed with delight. On Tuesday night Thomas L. Shea's new drama play "The Man-o-War's-Man" will be [illegible]

ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD.

A NEW DICOVERY WHICH IS WORTH THAT MUCH

To Any One Afflicted With Piles.

The Pyramid File Cure, the new, painless remedy which has been so remarkably successful in curing every form of piles and rectal diseases, has recently been placed on sale at druggists, and it is safe to say that when its extraordinary merit becomes fully known, there will be no such thing as surgical operations for the cure of this obstinate and common trouble.

Mrs. M. C. Hinkly, of 601 Mississippi St., Indianapolis, Ind., says: I had been a terrible sufferer from piles for 15 years and no remedies benefited me, until I saw an advertisement of the Pyramid File Cure; I got a package, also a package of Pyramid Pills and used both according to directions. I was astonished at the immediate relief obtained and I now honestly believe the Pyramid to be the only certain cure for piles.

That you may realize how bad I was, I will say that I was confined to my bed and went before the college physicians here, who said my case was a new one to them and wanted seven or eight hundred dollars to undertake a cure; the great pain had brought on a rupture, and I knew an operation would be death to me on account of blood poisoning. Nearly everyone here knows of my terrible suffering from piles and I feel that I cannot praise the Pyramid Pile Cure enough, and the Pyramid Pills also. My husband will join me in highly recommending the Pyramid, my daughter was cured by one box only. For several years I weighed but about 90 pounds, now I weigh 150 and feel in perfect health.

This seems to be the universal testimony of every sufferer from piles who have ever tried the Pyramid: it is the safest, most painless pile cure yet discovered; contains no opiate, morphine, cocaine or any poisonous ingredient whatever; has a soothing, healing effect from the first application, and the manner in which it places it within the reach of everyone needing treatment. The Pyramid Pile Cure is sold by druggists at 50 cents and $1.00 per package and the Pyramid Pills at 25 cents per box.

Send to Pyramid Co., Marshall, Mich., for free book on cause and cure of piles.

THE MARKETS.

Wall Street Review.

New York, Nov. 30.—The market for stocks in Wall street hinged very largely today on the financial situation abroad. Berlin was again evidently the source of the pressure for accommodation and its urgent needs resulted in the sympathetic hardening of the rates for money at London and Paris, call money at London rising to 4 per cent. The early declines were largely recovered but the day's net changes were decidedly mixed. Total sales were 423,700 shares.

JERMYN AND MAYFIELD.

It has been a long time since the members of the Crystal fire company have asked the people of this vicinity to contribute anything toward their expenses, but the funds in the treasury are getting low and there is never a fire without a loss or breakage of some kind that requires money to replace, and as they have always responded promptly to every call for help, they feel they have a right to expect a little help occasionally, and it is a fact well known, that when they ask the people to patronize any entertainment for their benefit that their patrons will be treated to something that is first class in every respect, and such an entertainment is to be given in Enterprise hall Wednesday evening, Dec. 7, by the Edison Kinetoscope company for the benefit of the Crystals. Diagram of reserved seats is now open at Davis, drug store.

The borough council will hold its regular monthly meeting tomorrow night. Two months ago the council directed the Crystal fire company to see to it that the fire alarm system was put in first class working order, but as yet nothing has been done, and the fire alarm is useless. Somebody should take this matter up and see to it that some kind of a fire alarm is put in working order at once.

Miss Mary Walker, of Mayfield, was the guest of friends in Carbondale Tuesday.

Mrs. M. J. Shields, Mrs. John Mellon and Mrs. John Graves were in Scranton yesterday attending the Women's Home Mission convention at Elm Park church.
