CANDIDATES WHO HAVE DE-CLARED THEMSELVES.

Some of Them Will Go Before the People at the Coming Spring Election-Farewell Party Tendered to Rev. Edwin H. Romig, of Lebanon at the Home of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan P. Daniels-Personal Jottings and News Notes of a Minor

What West Scranton's position will be in the coming spring election seems to be the momentous question nowa-

For mayor so far only one would-be candidate has banded in his name for registry in compliance with the new rules. This is Benjamin Smith, of North Main avenue. Another well-known West Sider's name has been mentioned for the mayoralty nomination. The gentleman referred to is Common Councilman Joseph Oliver, of the Fifteenth ward. Mr. Oliver, however, has not filed his name, and has said that it is all a joke. Mr. Oliver's career in common council for two terms has been preductive of much good for his con-

For terasurer, George B. Carson, of Washburn street, is an announced candidate. He is senier member of the firm of Carson & Davis, merchants, and is a popular man. His record as school controller from the Fifth ward for several years, and as president of the board, will bear the closest scrutiny. George H. Benore, of South Main avenue, is spoken of as a candidate for this He is a junior member of the firm of John Benore & Son. Mr. Benore represented the Fifth ward in the select council previous to Mr. Williams' incumbency, and has a creditable rec-

For controller, one candidate is an nounced from this side. Elias E. Evans, of Eynon street, who is at present serving as school controller from the Fifteenth ward, is out for this office. He is senior member of the firm of Evans & Powell, shoe merchants, and has resided on this side practically all his life. So far no other West Sider has either announced himself or been talked of as a possible candidate for the city controllership.

For city assessor, so far there are two West Scranton candidates out by their own announcements. They are H. D. Jones and Gwilym Jones. The foris a retired merchant and resides on North Hyde Park avenue. He has already served one term on the board of assessors, and is actively conduct ing his canvass for this second candidacy. Mr. Jones lays great stress upthe benefits accruing to property holders especially those on the West Side, during his incumbency in the office, by reason of equitable assess ments.

Gwilym Jones is a resident of South Hyde Park avenue and an employe of the Delaware, Luckawance and Western company. He is a young man, a party worker, and was considered as a possible party nominee for common council from the Fifth ward at the recent caucus, but he would not antagon ize Mr. Walker, who was out for a

FAREWELL PARTY. Rev. Edwin H. Romig, of Lebanon, who conducted a series of special zervices at the Plymouth Congregational church, was tendered a farewell reception Friday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Morgan P. Daniels, of Division street. The honored divine has made many friends on this side. Vocal and instrumental selections were given during the evening by the Misses Joseph, Ethel Bevan and Anna B. Williams. Mrs. Gomer Price, Misses Jennie Daniels and Nattle Elias assisted Mrs. Daniels with her duties as hostess.

The guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Eynon, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Owens, Mrs. Bevan, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Louise Howells, Misses Nettle Elias, Lily, Gladys, Agnes and May Joseph, Anna B. Williams, Margaret Evans, Mary Owens and Mae M. Evans; Miss Mary Phillips, of Kingson: Anna Davies, Jennie Daniels, Margaret Davies, Rev. E. H. Romig. Elias E. Evans, H. Parsons, William James, Thomas Evans, Enrys Joseph. Daniel Thomas, Everett Davies, Abel Stover, Parry and Price Thomas, Chas, E. Daviets.

Rev. Romig was also bonored previously by Mrs. Anna Joseph, of South Hydo Park avenue, Wednesday evening, and by Mr and Mrs. A. B. Eynon, of North Hyde Park avenue. Thursday evening.

EFFECTS OF STORM.

Several fences and numerous wires were blown down in West Scranton. The Street Railway company, telephone and electric companies had men out all evening straightening out broken and crossed wires. The Illuminating company experienced the greatest trouble. burned out early in the evening by a cd flattering progress. Nominations crossedwire some place.

One accident grew out of the trouble with this system. Miss Crace Thayer, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Thayer, of 313 South Main avenue, was severely shocked and burned about 9 o'clock in the evening. The young lady went into the bath-room, on the second floor, to turn off the electric lights. The chandelier is a combination one, in which the button for turning off the lights is attached. She conched the switch and instantly there was a flash of light. The house was immediately darkened and the folks downstairs were frightened by a crash and fall.

Running up, they found the young lady struggling to disentangle herself from the chandelier. She coolly explained that when she received the shock she felt drawn up and took hold with her right hand. She then fell and dragged the chandelier loose. The index finger of the left hand is severely burned and the thumb and index finger of the right hand are blistered. She ilso suffered from the shock. Coroner-elect Roberts attended her. In a number of the churches the electric lights were extinguished, and the congregations were left in darkness until the gas could be lit. In the Sumer Avenue Presbyterian church, which is not supplied with gas, lamps had to be borrowed from the neighbors.

ANNIVERSARY OF HICKORY STREET CHURCH.

Observed with Special Services Yesterday Morning and Evening-Interesting Review of the History of the Church by Rev. W. A. Nordt at the Evening Session-Organization of the Fifteen Friends. Names of the Charter Members. Short Paragraphs of News.

Despite the weather of yesterday, and particularly of last night, the anniversary services at the Hickory street Presbyterian church both morn ing and night were largely attended and were of a very impressive and interesting nature. The occasion was the tenth anniversary of the new edifice of the congregation and the fourth anniversary of the beloved pastor, Rev. William A. Nordt.

The morning services were about as the usual Sabbath morning services of the congregation. The special features were the sermon of Rev. Mr. Nordt and the singing of the church choir. Rev. Nordt chose for the text of his sermon words from psalm 28, verse 8: "Lord have loved the habitation of Thy louse and the place where Thy honor dwelleth." The discourse of Mr. Nordt was edifying and instructing. The afternoon was devoted to the young people's society and the Ladies Aid society, two energetic organizations of the congregation. The programme carried out was of an informal nature. Mr. Nordt was present and spoke in laudatory terms of the inestimable good which the societies have accom-

EVENING SERVICE.

When the evening service was open ed at 7.30 o'clock the large auditorium of the church was filled to its utmost and a pleasing and noteworthy incident was the attendance of a goodly number of the old members of the congregation. An organ prelude by Prof. Schmidt was given, followed by prayer by the pastor. The church choir sang. accompanied by the Lawrence orchestra. The sermon of the occasion was then given by Mr. Nordt. His text was taken from the Ephesians, chapter 4, verses 20 to 24: "But ye have not so learned Christ, if so be that ye Jesus, and yet put on the new righteous and true holiness." The reverend speaker's efforts were scholarly and masterful. He spoke briefly confining his remarks to a review of the congregation since its formation forty-two years ago. From the church records from that time to the present day, which have been kept in good shape, many interesting incidents were

Mr. Nordt spoke of how in January in '57 a number of sturdy young men assembled in the Odd Fellows' hall, which at that time food where is now the "company store." on upper Lackawanna avenue, and organized the congregation which had spread to one of he most influential in this city. It being decided to organize, a call was sent to Rev. Henry Neith a young minister then filling a pulpit at Jeffersonville, N. Y., to accept to pastorate. A month later Rev. Neith wrote the board of elders and said he would proceed to Scranton at once and assume the duties of the call. Rev. Neith's letter of acceptance of so many years ago was read again last night by Rev. Nordt. When Rev. Nelth took charge of his small flock they worshipped in the old Odd Fellows' hall.

CHURCH ERECTED.

Energetic efforts were put forth, and within a few months a church for the congregation was under way. It was built at where now stands the massive stone structure, and was known as the White Church." The building is used now as a church hall, and stands in the rear of the present church. Mr. Neith was pastor for three years, he resigning and going to Johnstown, where he still resides. A sad incident of his Johnstown life was the perishing of his wife and only daughter in the memorable Johnstown flood. Rev. Charles D. Rosenthal succeeded him, and remained for five years, and at the close of his term went to Paterson, N. J. He died at that city twenty-five years ago. The third minister was Rev. William Wunderlich, now retired and spending his remaining days at his native place, Leipsic, Germany. Rev. Wunderlich was the pastor for over a quarter of a century.

During the latter years of his pastorate the movement to build the new church was begun. The work was begun with vigor and pushed to a grand conclusion ten years ago. Rev. Wunderlich resigned eight years ago, and went direct to Leipsic, where he and his neighbor, Rev. Father Shelley, who was for many years pastor at St. Mary's Catholic church, which edifice is adjacent to the Presbyterian church, spent a few years together in quiet-

When Rev. Mr. Nordt accepted the call to the church he came to guide a flock which, as is fresh in the memory of our people, was much disorganized. When Mr. Nordt assumed charge there was remaining a debt of over $10,000, which has been cleared with the exception of a small sum. He organized the Young People's and Ladies' Aid societies. A handsome parsonage has been erected and paid for. The congregation has a membership of four hundred families and is in a most flourishing condition. At the close of Rev. Nordt's interesting retrospect, the congregation sang and the services closed with
