

IN THE PLAY HOUSES.

"The Man-o'-War's Man."

An audience that taxed the capacity of the Academy of Music was present last night to see the Shea-McAuliffe ompany produce "The Man-o'-War's Man." It is a pairiotic drama full of change of scene and action and was greatly enjoyed by last night's audionce.

This afternoon the company will produce "Kidnapped" and tonight 'Way Down in Maine."

Bauer's Band Concert.

Bauer's band was twenty-two years old last July. In all these years the personnel of the organization has experienced many changes, yet their magnetic conductor remains, and some will ask why this unqualified success and present popularity? Mr. Bauer comes of a nusical family, who have for generations been recognized as musicians of ability. Mr. Bauer, cradled in musie and song, has been an ardent student of the Divine art since childhood. and received his first instructions at his father's knee, and was later placed under the able instructor Herr Zens, of New York city. When a more boy he was made a member of the Klein Opera House orchestra. Later became director of Bauer's band and orchestra and has continued to this day in this nues; for a stove in the William Conapacity; with the above thorough school and practical experience he is pre-eminently fitted for the leadership t the neerless band we call our own. The selections for 'Thursday evening's concert at the Lyceum have been severely rehearsed and the playing of the band is superb. The boxes and loges are all sold and a great demand for soats is unprecedented. The diagram opened vesterday morning and the demand for seats was brisk. Those who will occupy boxes and loges are: Henry Belin, ir., A. D. Blackinton, Colonel A. | pain and prevent the threatened at B. Blair, E. L. Fuller, Colonel George Sanderson, ex-Sheriff Charles Robinson, Conrad Schreeder, A. J. and P. J. Casey, Hon. L. A. Watres, C. G. Boland, Wade M. Finn, W. P. Boland and party, John Jermyn, Theo. M. Miller, Jonas Long's Sons, Dr. W. E. Allen Edward A. Clarke and Hon. E. H. Rip ple.

"Rupert of Hentzau."

The first annual tour of James K Hackett under Daniel Frohman's management is now progressing. Mr Hackett comes to this city shortly at which time he will make a production "Rupert, of Hentzau," Anthony Hope's dramatization of his now fam ous book of that name. For the past three years Mr. Hackett has been a member of the Lyceum Theater company in New York, having made his first success in the "Home Secretary," following this with a substantial hit in the title role of "The Prisoner of Zen-Sine then he has appeared to advantage in "The First Gentleman of Europe," "The Late Mr. Castello," The Mayflewer. "The Courtship of Leonie" and "The Princess and the Butterfly." Last muson he played in "The Tree of Knowledge" at the Lycoum in New York. Mr. Hackett and company will present "Rupert of Hentzau" at the Lyceum tonight

The Old Homestead.

Those who have hitherto refused to accept "The Old Homestead" without

Thompson, will be pleased to learn that during its presentation here at the Lycum Friday evening, they will have in opportunity to witness this famous actor in his original creation of "Joshua Whitcomb" the Swanzey farmer, who goes to the metropolis to look for an erring son, finds him, and returns for a life that will be presumably one of eace and quietness. The case is th esu the play has ever had, and the ettings are realistic of the views speciied.
