

EVENTS OF DAY IN WEST SCRANTON

EX-MAYOR FELLOWS AROUSED COUNCILMAN OLIVER.

The Ex-Mayor Insinuated That Councilmen Are Too Friendly to the Scranton Traction Company. Business Transacted by the Board of Trade—Social Session of St. Cecilia Society—Another Convention Secured for This Part of the City—Social Events of Last Week.

An insinuation by ex-Mayor John H. Fellows that the councilmen of this city are inclined to be too friendly to the Scranton Traction company caused a small-sized disturbance at last night's meeting of the board of trade and drew forth a red-hot retort from Joseph Oliver, secretary of the organization, and common councilman of the Fifteenth ward.

The board decided to take up the matter of transfer as regards public accommodation on the Scranton Street Railway lines and from the broaching of this matter before the board grew the insinuation and retort. A motion which implies a reaching out to the legislature was passed regarding street car fares. The board also discussed the desecration, library, sewers and several important communications received due attention.

The meeting was well attended and President Holmes presided. The little details which gathered a sort of factional strength verging on an explosive conclusion as more attention was given them, arose from a motion made by J. T. Reese. This motion embodied a suggestion that the board request our representatives in the legislature to introduce legislation which would make a half fare sufficient remuneration for any person who was compelled to stand while riding on the street cars. The motion was passed. Following this, the transfer business came up. The injustice done passengers, who going to the central city from West Scranton and requesting transfers, were compelled to get off the car at a designated point and there board the other car to which the transfer had been issued, or lose the transfer's benefit, was talked over.

It was suggested that the matter be brought to the attention of the West Scranton councilmen. J. H. Fellows suggested such action would be nullified by the good feeling which apparently existed between the members of council and the Street Railway company, and that no results would be obtainable. This statement brought Secretary Oliver, who is also common councilman of the Fifteenth ward, to his feet. He vehemently stated that it was his belief that the people or public could blame no one but themselves. That little interest was shown by any of the councilmen in their representative's actions while in council except at irregular intervals. That when a councilman did stand for what was right and beneficial, he failed to receive either the moral or active support necessary thereto. When tried and true councilmen, against whom not even the slightest word of censure had been spoken failed in being re-elected by the people he represented so ably and well, then what could those same people expect. W. Farrell here made a motion to the effect that a committee of three be appointed to visit the officials of the street railway company and make known the position of the board. Mr. Farrell, S. R. Jones and T. Fellows Mason were forthwith appointed.

S. R. Jones, chairman of the social committee appointed to represent the board in the proposed establishment of a West Scranton branch free library, reported for the committee. They had conferred with Librarian Carr and found that temporary arrangements were already in shape. This matter was treated at length by The Tribune about three weeks ago. The board instructed the committee to further the work of having the temporary branch made permanent.

A communication was received from W. R. Jones, of St. Paul, Pa., secretary of the Anti-Scale Association, which is endeavoring to secure an equalization of the alleged exorbitant freight rates on coal shipments from local operators, through an Interstate Commerce law. The communication stated that legal action was to be taken and that funds were necessary. Would the West Side board subscribe $100 to this fund? The board instructed its secretary to communicate the fact to Secretary Lord that it was not prepared to get just so, at present.

The promoters of the anti-scalping law which will soon come up for consideration by the United States senate, also wanted some assistance. It was agreed by the board that the parties most affected could help themselves most abundantly.

D. D. Evans suggested that the board seek to have the stockholders on this side who, by keeping open on the Sabbath day, desecrate it, close up their places of business. The board instructed Secretary Oliver to confer with the mayor about this question of affairs. The proposed bond ordinance and its present chances of becoming a law were talked over, but no action was taken on it by the board. The action of the mayor in signing the asphalt repair ordinance was also discussed by the members. J. S. Reynolds, of Lincoln Heights, was admitted to membership.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

Miss Hannah Richter and Andrew Moor were united in marriage last Saturday evening at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Richter, of Mount Dewey. Rev. A. L. Ramer, Ph. D., pastor of St. Mark's Lutheran church, officiated. The bride was attired in ecru lace trimmed with white silk. Miss Mamie Wertz, of Pittston, and Arnold Roth, of South Scranton, attended the couple. Many friends and relatives of the contracting parties were present at the ceremony. A wedding supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. Moor will reside near the latter's parents in a newly furnished residence.

The marriage of Miss Hilmar Molline and Hilmar Carlson, both of this side, was solemnized Saturday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Kuelberg, of 207 Jackson street. Rev. A. L. Ramer, Ph. D., pastor of St. Mark's Lutheran church officiated. The couple were unattended. The bride wore a becoming gown of brown cashmere with plenty of trimmings. The

GATHERED IN SOUTH SCRANTON

STAMP AGENCIES AND MORE CARRIERS WANTED.

Postmaster Ripple Will Be Appealed to in the Matter—Case Against John Stoerber, Who Is Charged with Obtaining Sand Under False Pretenses, Has Been Settled—Meeting of the Century Hose Company Tonight—Notes About Y. W. C. A. Work—Personal Jottings.

The abandonment several weeks ago of the various sub-stations and stamp agencies of the postal department of this city is much more keenly felt than in the upper section of the Twelfth, Nineteenth and Twentieth wards. The nearest place where stamps and envelopes can be obtained in any of the three wards is on Pittston avenue, and with one exception, West-fall general store a sort of stamps is a courtesy. For a long time previous to the date when the order went into effect discontinuing stamp agencies there were several of them in the upper districts of South Scranton.

In absence of them it is greatly regretted. Ambrose Herz, of Stone avenue, in talking to a Tribune man yesterday said it has been proposed by a large number of the residents of his locality to draw up a petition to be signed by the people thereabouts and to present a program of special services Christmas afternoon.

There will be a meeting for mothers at the South Side Y. W. C. A., 102 Cedar avenue, this afternoon. All mothers are invited to come. Cake and coffee will be served.

An "at home" evening will be enjoyed at the association rooms Thursday evening. All the young women are invited to come and bring their sewing, mending or fancy work. A delightful social time is expected.

The Friday evening glee club will meet at 2:30 o'clock from the family residence. Interment in Forest Hill cemetery.

CASE SETTLED.

John Stoerber, whose arrest and arraignment before Alderman Lentz was noted in this column yesterday, was released from the county jail later in the day, a settlement having been effected with the Lackawanna Iron and Steel company by its agent, George Okell.

The fifteen loads of sand Stoerber procured under false pretenses and all costs were paid by his employer.

NUGS OF NEWS.

The fourth annual masquerade ball of the Sunset Baseball club was held at Natty's hall last night. The dance was one of the largely attended and most enjoyable events of the year. The Ringgold band and the Patriotic Sons of America drum corps were present and between dances rendered pleasing selections.

The Century and William Connell Hose companies yesterday received invitations from the entertainment committee of the approaching fair of St. John's church, asking that the companies attend in uniform the fair on the night of Jan. 4, which will be firemen's night at the fair.
