not of one mind for at midnight they were still out. That they had not come to an agreement is known from the fact that Judge Yerkes instructed them that they might separate as soon as they had found a verdict.

When the murder trial was resumed the killing and submitted to a lengthy cross-examination by Assistant District Attorney Thomas.

Mr. O'Brien made the closing argument for the defense, speaking for over two hours. It was a masterly effort and was said by Judge Verkes, in chatting with a group of lawyers at the conclusion of the case, to be the best homicide speech be had ever listened to. Judge Verkes tried forty homicide cases last year. The closing address of Assistant District Attorney Thomas was more modest as to length than that of the defense, but for logic, reasoning and force was quite as descrying of encomium as Mr. O'Brien's effort. He contended that Moran and Gilligan had a long-standing feud, that both were spotting for a fight, that Moran invited the combat company paid yesterday at the Clinton and that the circumstances did not jus-collery at Vanding and the trainmen on tify his use of a deadly weapon on his adversary.

FOUND DEAD IN BED.

Heart Disease Supposed to Have Caused Mrs. O'Neill's Death.

John O'Neill, a steelworker, returned yesterday morning from his night's work and found his wife dead in bed. is thought she died from a disease of the heart house yesterday morning he pounded long and loud at the door before it was opened by the eldest of his three children, a girl il years old. He thought it strange that his wife was not out of bed but supposed she had overslept. He learned from the children that they had not seen her.

O'Neill went at once to his wife's bed. A glance and a touch showed him the palor and the cold that proclaims the presence of death. In hopes that there might be some chance to resuscitate her, he summoned a physician. It was his opinion that the woman had been dead several hours and had died peacefully while sleeping.

On Tuesday evening Mrs. O'Neill visited some neighbors. They saw nothing to indicate that she was in other than the best of health and spirits. It was said yesterday that she had been subject to slight attacks of heart trouble but the correctness of the statement has not been verified. Coroner Longstreet was not informed of Mrs. O'Neill's death until during the evening and not then by the family or the physician. He thought the case warranted investigation and will look into it today, although it has not been said that death was due to other than natural causes. It is possible that the oroner will perform an autopsy.

REASONS FOR NEW TRIAL.

Grounds on Which Keller Hopes to Get Another Hearing. Reasons for a new trial in the Kelle murder case were filed vesterday by Attorney John F. Scragg, of counsel for the defense. Judge Edwards will consider a motion for a rule for a new trial, Saturday morning, before passing

Among the reasons advanced in support of the plea for a new trial are that court erred in allowing the "chal lenge for cause" of Juror Albert Westpfahl; in permitting the introduction of the alleged photograph of the deceased; and admitting the rebuttal evidence of Officer Dyer; in not compelling the commonwealth to call all the eye-witnesses of the killing, and in the manner in which comment was made on the matter of uncommunicated threats, the law of self-defense and in the speech to the jury when they asked to be discharged and when court stated that it had no power to discharge them.

Mr. Terppe Says He Has Not the Time Necessary to Devote to the Duties of the Office-He Was Appointed About Two Years Ago Without Having Solicited the ENTREE SETS: Position-Letter Sent Mr. Terppe by Judge Archbald in Accepting the Resignation.

Fred L. Terppe yesterday resigned rom the poor board and his resignation was accepted by President Judge P. W. Archbald, His successor has not yet been named.

Mr. Terppe gives as his reason for resigning that he could not devote to he office the time and attention it requires. On a previous occasion Mr. Terppe asked to be relieved, but at the request of Judge Archbald withdrew his plea. This time he accompanied his resignation with an earnest plea to Judge Archbald that it be ac

The following letter was sent to Mr. Terppe by Judge Archbald accepting the resignation Scranton, Pa., Dec. 14, 1898. My Dear Mr. Terppe: I regret very nuch that you feel compelled to tender me your resignation as a member of the poor board. You have made a most con-relentious and satisfactory director, and I have always been glad at having been guided to select you for the place. The office came to you without solicitation and almost without your knowledge un-til just as you were called upon to fill it. I have been aware that its duties in the three years that you have held it, have been at times most irksome to you and but on several occasions you have felt as though they were more than in justice to yourself you could meet. At my resuest, however, you have continued on, and I should have been glad to have seen you continue to the end. As you again represent to me, however, your desire to be relieved of the effice, I am constrained to accept your resignation of a, as I now do, testifying at the same time. s I now do, testifying at the same time of my continued high regard and esteem.

Yours very truly.

R. W. Archbald, President Judge.

Mr. Terppe was appointed two years ago to succeed John Gibbons, whose term expired. He did not seek the office and did not know he was being considered for it until he was asked if he would accept the office.

MUCKENFUSS They Cause Trouble in the National League-A Scheme to Reduce the League to Ten Clubs.

New York, Dec. 14.-After a session of an hour and a half, the delegates to the National league meeting by a vote of 9 to 2 recognized B, S. Muckenfuss as the representative of the St. Louis club and then adjourned until tomor-

During the meeting, Messrs, Abell, of Brooklyn, and Von der Horst, of Baltimore, who had been appointed yesterday as committee to try and bring the two St. Louis men to an amicable arrangement, submitted a report which was not adopted. Von der Ahe and Muckenfuss were both present when the vote was taken and the clubs which stood by Von der Ahe were Baltimore and Brooklyn. The New York proxy vote was cast by Mr. Soden, of Boston, in favor of Muckenfuss.

As soon as the secretary announced the vote and the meeting adjourned,

Von der Ahe said: "Well, I am not down and out by any means and will fight it out in the St. Louis courts, I cannot be robbed of my rights and don't intend to stand by idly. You bet I will come out on top when this thing has been properly adjusted." At tomorrow's meeting Von der Ahe will be permitted to be present during the proceedings, but Muckenfus will have the sole right of voting. The board of directors went into session at 2.45 o'clock. The business to be transacted is of routine order. As soon as this meeting adjourns the board of arbitration will meet for the adjustment of claims in which clubs belonging to leagues other than the National body are interested.
