ANNUAL MEETING OF CATHOLIC PRIESTS

EVERY PARISH IN THE SCRANTON DIOCESE REPRESENTED.

Bishop's Cabinet, Consisting of Six Priests, Selected and a Number of New Rules Promulgated—Beginning Next June, All Priests Less Than Five Years in the Ministry Will Have to Pass an Annual Examination in Theology—Synod to Be Held During the Coming Year.

The annual convention of the Catholic priests of the Scranton diocese was held yesterday morning in St. Thomas' college hall. Every parish was represented. Bishop O'Hara and Bishop Hoban were both present, the latter actively presiding.

The principal business transacted was the selection of the bishop's cabinet, consisting of six priests, three of whom are appointed by the bishop and three elected by the convention. It. Rev. Bishop Hoban, Rev. Dr. E. A. Garvey, V. F. O'Connell, and Very Rev. P. Nagel, V. F., of Wilkes-Barre, were the appointees. Those elected by the priests were: Rev. P. J. McManus, of Green Ridge; Rev. Thomas F. Kierman, of Parsons; and Rev. M. F. Crane, of Avoca. The other diocesan officers were continued. They are Very Rev. John Finnen, of Pittston, vicar general; Rev. Thomas F. Coffey, of Carbondale, secretary and chancellor; Rev. J. P. O'Malley, of Pittston, defense counsel; Rev. P. E. Broderick, of Susquehanna, promoter fiscalis.

Announcement was made by Bishop O'Hara, through Bishop Hoban, that the examination of junior priests will be inaugurated during the coming year and continued annually thereafter. The council of Baltimore made a rule that priests must pass an examination in theology annually after they are ordained until they shall have been five years in the priesthood. This rule is now to be strictly enforced, the first examination being set for June.

Instructions were given pastors to transmit to the bishop deeds of all real estate and inventories of all personal property owned by their parishes. A new rule was also promulgated providing that no pastor must hereafter incur a debt exceeding $500 without the written consent of the bishop and attention was called to the fact that it is contrary to the act of 1878 for a pastor or other trustee of church property to mortgage it without the consent of the congregation.

Notice was also given that a diocesan synod will be convened during the coming year, when the local church laws and policy will be discussed, and, if deemed expedient, codified. At this synod the bishops will be selected to conduct the examination of the junior priests and teachers in the parochial schools and a synodal committee will be chosen to deal with the filling of any vacancies that may occur in the irreparable rectories.

These positions, which are most desirable in the diocese, are open to priests who have served ten years as rectors. Their applications are submitted to the synodal committee and three names transmitted by this committee the bishop makes a choice.

RUSH TO PAY TAXES.

Yesterday Was the Last Day on Which Payments Could Be Made Without Incurring a Penalty—Amount Received.

One check for $12,000 in payment of taxes was received by City Treasurer Boland yesterday. It is the largest tax payment received and the next largest was a check for $7,000, also received yesterday.

Yesterday was the last day for the payment of taxes without penalty and the office of the city treasurer and the corridor outside was thronged during the day with persons anxious to make their payments before the close of office hours.

The crush was so great that it was necessary to keep the office open until 7 o'clock in the evening. Then the three clerks sat down to a supper furnished by order of City Treasurer Boland and served by Lohmann, of Lackawanna avenue. Supper, however, did not end the day's work, several hours were required on the books before the office was closed for the night and the clerks went home.

About $75,000 was received during the day. On Monday the receipts were $20,000.70, Tuesday, $47,925.55; Wednesday, $56,822.28, a total of $199,754.53 during the four days of the week.

The amount of money received on any one day would offer a tempting bait to thieves despite the strong vault in which the money was placed every night. So, in accordance with the custom of past years, a policeman was stationed in the office every night. Patrolman "Babe" Jones had this year the extremely pleasant duty of sitting throughout the night with his eyes on an iron door which hid a fortune.

COAL CONTRACT MUDDLE.

School Controllers May Have Trouble in Settling It.

When the board of control meets in adjourned session next week, Friday evening, there is going to be a big row over the proposals to furnish coal to buildings in the Fourth district—the North End.

At Monday night's meeting of the board it was voted to award contracts for the first three districts, but not for the Fourth, as only one proposal for that district was received. On recommendation of the supply committee it was voted to re-advertise. The one proposal received Monday night was from James Kearney. The figures contained in his proposal were read, published and made public and he quite naturally feels disposed to combat any attempt of the board to award the contract to any one who has had the opportunity to profit by the publicity given his (Mr. Kearney's) bid.

The controversy has been well started by Mr. Kearney's friends, in that out of the board, and will be made more complex by the contention of the new bidders that the board is bound to accept the lowest bid or republish its advertisement soliciting proposals. Mr. Kearney says he would have no objection to the re-advertising if his bid had not been opened Monday night.

MYSTIC SHRINERS HERE LAST NIGHT

CLASS OF TWENTY-FOUR NOVICES WERE INITIATED.

By Special Dispensation Item Temple, of Wilkes-Barre, Met in the Rooms of the Board of Trade—The Session Was Followed by a Banquet at the Hotel Rudolph—Special Train of Three Passenger Coaches Came Here with Members from Down the Valley.

Nearly two hundred prominent Masons of this part of the state participated last night in a meeting of Item temple, Ancient Arabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, in the board of trade rooms and later, in a banquet at the Hotel Rudolph. At least half of this large party were well known men who reside outside the city.

While the Mystic Shrine is not a Masonic organization it is composed exclusively of Masons. Item temple is chartered to hold its meetings at Wilkes-Barre, but a special dispensation was granted for last night's meeting in Scranton. The particular business of the session was the initiation of a class of twenty-four novices.

The ritual members of the temple gathered at 6 o'clock at Masonic hall and, accompanied by the Lawrence band, went to the Jersey Central depot to meet a special train bearing the members from Wilkes-Barre and other cities down the valley. The train was composed of three passenger coaches and an engine and reached here about 7 o'clock.

A SHORT PARADE.

Headed by the band the local and visiting members marched to the board of trade building via Lackawanna avenue, Wyoming avenue, Spruce street and Washington avenue. By a previous and regular train a special baggage car had brought the paraphernalia necessary to the work in hand.

The board of trade assembly hall was utilized for the chief work of the evening. The initiation proceedings were conducted by the following officers: Frank Dietrick, potentate; W. L. Raeder, chief rabban; William Callen, assistant rabban; W. L. Wilcox, oriental guide; Warren R. Bowman, high priest; Oswald C. Voltes, marshal; Burton Voerches, ceremonial master; Charles S. Landis, captain of the corps de Arabic; Isaac E. Labar, whose office can best be described by Shriner's themselves, and H. N. Rust, ex-orator.

It was 10:15 o'clock before the work was finished and the Nobles went to the Hotel Rudolph for the banquet, and it was nearly 2 o'clock before the feast was ended and the down-the-valley members left on their special train.

The repast contained twelve courses composed of the most delectable of the season's delicacies and was served by a large corps of waiters especially engaged for the occasion. The Nobles sat on either side of three tables, each of which traversed the length of the dining room. There was not much time available for formality or speech-making but what there was of that kind of thing was presided over by Potentate Dietrick, who is Wilkes-Barre's city clerk. During the banquet there was music by the Lawrence orchestra of eight pieces.

PURELY SOCIAL.

The Shriner's did not herald their proposed doing in Scranton for the reason that they are not of the world. Though under the wing of a far-reaching organization the Mystic Shrine is purely social and for itself and does not aim to have its affairs discussed except by novices and it is not likely that they will say too much.

There are only four temples in this state. Syria, of Pittsburg; Lulu, of Philadelphia; Rajah, of Reading, and Item, of Wilkes-Barre. The latter's jurisdiction covers one-quarter of the commonwealth.

FIRST DEGREE CONFERRED.

ASKED COL. WATRES' ADVICE.

Miss Rebecca Parry Is Being Prosecuted at Bellefonte.

A dispatch from Bellefonte, this state, states that Miss Rebecca Parry, of that town, a Christian Scientist, to whose influence a coroner's jury in a verdict recently ascribed the cause of Mrs. Garbrick's suicide, has consulted with Ex-Lieutenant Governor Watres of this city, about the matter. Mrs. Garbrick, who received Christian Science treatment from Miss Parry for bodily ailments, went out one night and deliberately lay down on the railroad tracks, allowing a train to cut off her head. In commenting on the verdict of the coroner's jury the dispatch quotes Ex-Lieutenant Governor Watres as saying, in a letter to Miss Parry: "Of course, if any one stops to think and to parse the article and the verdict of the coroner's jury, it will appear perfectly absurd that you should be charged with the death of this woman. Personally, you have nothing to fear. If you should hear of the case again you will have ample opportunity to defend yourself."

This is a free country and religious beliefs cannot be interfered with, nor rights trampled upon. One has a perfect right to employ an all-natural, homeopathic, electrophor, or any other kind of a doctor, and they have a right to employ no doctor if they see fit, but to rely upon Divine power, and this without fear of molestation. So far as this case affecting the truth is concerned there need be no fear of that. The truth will maintain itself and the harder it is pressed the more it will be demonstrated."
