PLEASING ENTERTAINMENT AT SIMPSON M. E. CHURCH.

Over $350 Realized for the Church Fund-Marriage of Charles F. Boidry to Miss Sarah Davis-Election of Officers of Robert Morris Lodge, True Ivorites-Hampton Street M. E. Church Conducts an Entertainment-Other Interesting Views and Personal Notes Over the River.

That complete success which attends continued and strong efforts, came to the ladies who have so strenuously labored towards that end, in the giving of an exceptionally first-class entertainment last evening at the Simpson Methodist church. The purpose of the affair was to obtain funds towards a part liquidation of the outstanding church debt. A philanthropic lady met all the expenses and the proceeds will reach nearly $250. The committee of arrangements was Mrs. G. Saxe, Mrs. B. Sweet, Mrs. J. P. Acker, Mrs. J. B. Peck, Mrs. Byron Slote and Mrs. W. W. Davis. Miss Margaret Gibbs had direction of the entertainment Mrs. J. R. Hughes and Dr. E. Y. Harrison acted as the finance committee.

Miss Susie Black, soprano soloist sang "Oh, That I Could Be Loved." by White, and "Perfumes of the Orient. by Bellenghi. Both very difficult selections were given in a masterly man-ner. J. T. Watkins' interpretation of "Bandelero," by Stuart, was in this sie Mayo Slote and Mr. Griffen recited. Miss Grace Acker filled the trying position of accompanist in her usual perfeet manner. Miss Mabel Rennie, organist, appeared for the first time in the prelude and gave Dudley Buck's "Triumphal March," an excellent rendition. As an interlude she played the "Communion," in G, by E. D. Baptiste, A march, "Pontifical," was her selection as the postlude.

Two very pretty tableaux were given. trayed by the petite misses of class No. 7, taught by Mrs. G. Saxe. This class comprises Misses Ruth Acker, Cora Summerhill, Jeannette Fellows, Grace Greenwood, Helen Gilette, Laura and Birdella Smith, Bessie Slote, Adeline Thro. Frances Roberts, Elizabeth Thomas Gertrude Powell, Ida Watkins. Rachel Peck and Elizabeth Miller, The "Revel of the Naiads" was given with pretty effect by the Misses Bertha Williams, Ethel Bevan, Annie Tiernie, Bessie Diehl, Susie Gross, Bertha Carson, Phemie Gibbs, Pearl Davis and Bessie Each were white and carried wreaths of roses. Messrs. Ginader and White accompanied with mandolins, Several selections were given by the Harwood Mandolin club. Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the programme.

Hampton Street Methodist church last evening under the direction of nembers of the I. H. W. circle of the church was largely attended. The circle realized a substantial return for The their labor. An excellent programme was rendered, Rev. James Benninger, pastor of the church presiding. Miss Maud Fave Lowis, of Kingston, an eleeutionist of no mean ability, assisted with several recitations. Solos were sung by Mrs. Randolph Jones and Mrs. M. J. Boston-Williams. Messrs. Percy and Hughes played two duets, guitar autoharp, and Mesers, Hinman and Whiting played a zither duct. Miss Marion Hutchinson acted as ac empanist for the soloists. The evening's pleasure was concluded with the serving of ice cream, cake and cocon.

LODGE FLECTS OFFICERS. The members of Robert Merris lodge No. 58, Order of True Ivorites, met in regular session last evening in their rooms in Ivorite hall, on South Main Considerable business was transacted and officers for the ensuing

After Dan had recovered the officers at the city jail gave him whisky as a loke, just to see him caper about the lot. It came to be a serious matter, however, says the Kansas City World, as drinking became a habit with him, and he required whiskey at regular intervals. The frequent raids upon the aloons at Topeka, at which a large quantity of whisky was generally se cured and confiscated, furnished abundant opportunity for the patrol driver to include Dan's unusual appe-

The police department changed hands n July 1, and ever since that time Topeka has been the scene of a temper ance crusade. The practice of giving vhisky to Dan was discontinued. He began losing flesh, got off his feed, and finally became incapacitated for duty on the patrol wag in. Those who understood the habits of Dan said the cause of his sickness was the loss of his accustomed drinks of whisky.

In order to test the matter whisky has been given Dan at regular intervals during the last three days. He drank it greedily and soon began showing signs of recovery. He is now a sound and well horse, doing duty on the wagon. Those who have witnessed the experiment say that Dan can take tumblerful of whisky and drink it own as gracefully as any man-and he does not require a chaser.

GATHERED IN SOUTH SCRANTON

A YOUNG MAN STOLE MONEY FROM ST. MARY'S CONVENT.

Entered the Building in the Guise of a Workman in the Employ of the Scranton Gas and Water Company David Walsh, of No. 5, Injured in the South Mill-William Neher's Hand Torn Open by a Revolving Chisel-Other Happenings.

A young man clad in the ordinary working clothes of a mechanic went to to the convent of St. Mary's church on River street Wednesday and secured $42 in a clever manner. When one of the sisters opened the door he said he was an employ of the Scranton Gas and Water company and was engaged in that neighborhood in making inspections of the gas and water pipes in the various buildings thereabouts.

The unsuspecting nun bid the young fellow enter and proceed on his alleged mission. He went about the job in a business-like manner. After finishing he stated he would return yesterday to make some needed changes on the water pipes. Later the money that he took was missed from a desk in th reception room. The thief was afford ed a good opportunity for his work. The sisters while he was in the house busied themselves with their various duties, not paying any attention to the fellow. ...e police have been notified, but a clue that might lead to the whereabouts of the man is not at hand.

A SERIES OF ACCIDENTS. David Walsh, who resides at No. 1 an employe of the south mill of the Lackawanna Iron and Steel company, was painfully hurt while in the per formance of his regular duties yesterday. A heavy box of iron fell from the charging floor, striking Walsh's left leg a little above the knee. A deep gash was made in that member. Dr. Walsh was summoned and dressed the injury. Later the injured man was removed to his home.

William Neher, of Alder street, also engaged at the south mill, is confined to his home, suffering from a severe accident that occurred yesterday. Neher, who is a machinist, when injured was working at a machine, guiding a revolving chisel, when his hand slipped, landing in front of the instrument. In an instant his hand from the extreme end to the middle of the recond finger was torn open, almost severing the member in two. Neber was taken to his home and given medical attention by Dr. J. R. Ritz.

William Tross, of Pittston avenue who several weeks ago fell from a skylight at the Connell building on Washington avenue, Central City, and was badly injured, is again laid up, the result of falling on the pavement yes terday. Tross when he fell placed his right hand downward to save him-Striking the ground the hand came in contact with a pointed piec of ice badly injuring it.

AT HOME MEETING.

The "at home" meeting of the members and friends of the Young Wo men's Christian association, held at the rooms last night, was a highly enjoyable affair. The young ladies brought with them fancy work and sewing, They sat around in a homelike fashion, chatting and occasi taking of some excellently prepared popearn, coffee and cake.

Miss Fairborn, of New York city, whis in town, the guest of Miss Charlotte Savage, secretary of the central city association, was a special guest of the evening. She delighted her newlymade friends with a narration of her extended stay in Europe. Incident to the several features, a programme of music was given, Mrs. C. D. Simpson, of Olive street, having kindly sent her music box over for the meeting. The Loyalty club will meet in regular session tonight, and in attendance will be Miss Jessie Ripple and party, who will teach the young women how to successfully make home-made candies. Miss Van Nort will lead the gospel services Sunday afternoon.

AN EVENING WEDDING.

THE LATE HAROLD FREDERIC. How He Made a German Lieutenant Repair an Insult.

from the Lendon Saturday Review. Harold Frederic's self-confidence and power of dominating strangers stood him in good stead in one of his first visits-if not his very first visit-to Berlin. The incident, as he related it. seemed natural enough to an American not brought up in awe of military caste, but to those who know Germany it was almost surprising that he came through with his life. He had been paying some formal diplomatic calls and in the evening dropped in at the Cafe Bauer in the unwonted glory of a frock coat and a tall silk hat. This hat was carefully hung on a hat stand, and Frederic sat down to read an English newspaper just arrived. Enter a particularly fine specimen of the lieutenant, booted and spurred and sworded and enauletted. He brushed against the hat stand, knocked Frederie's hat over into the saw dust and swaggered to his scar without so much as looking around. The slight to the hat was more than Frederic could en-

In a towering passion he went to the licutenant, stood over him, and pointed to the object on the iloor. "Pick up that hat, sir." he roared. The officer stared amazea, the waiters were paralyzed with terror at heaving one so much more human so addressed by a civilian. "Pick up that hat," repeated Frederic, in a tone more menaing than before. And the lieutenant did what he was told. He was as it resistibly dominated by the courage and force of the man as a school boy before his master; or perhaps he thought Frederic carried the customary west American revolver.
