CHRISTMAS

Music in the Churches.

Below will be found in detail the programmes that will be rendered in many of the churches of this city tomorrow:

Elm Park Church.

The Christmas Praise Service which will be given tomorrow evening in Elm Park church will be the most elaborate ever given in the history of the church, and this for a church which is noted for its special musical services is saying a great deal. The service will consist of vocal and instrumental solos, mixed choruses, male choruses, childrens' choruses, carols, hymns and responses, with a short address by the pastor, Dr. C. M. Giffin.

The entire service will be under the direction of Prof. J. Alfred Pennington, who, with the church quartette, consisting of Miss Elizabeth Thomas, soprano; Miss Margaret Jones, contralto; Mr. Alfred Wooler, tenor; Mr. Richard Thomas, basso, will be assisted by a select chorus consisting of Mrs. L. M. Gates, the Misses Edith James, Livia Jones, Josephine Medway, Katharine Mongan, Elizabeth T. Rice, Mrs. G. F. Reynolds, the Misses Clara Simpson, Elizabeth Thomas, Mary Thomas, Messrs. H. H. Beidleman, F. W. Emrich, Henry Evans, Hector James, W. T. Leonard, A. L. Thomas, R. J. Thomas, Alfred Wooler; Mrs. Annie L. W. Price, Pianist, Mrs. J. A. Pennington, Organist, Mr. Frederick L. Widmayer, Violinist, and a Brass Quartet, consisting of Mr. Allan Lawrence, cornetist; Mr. Bert Mason, cornetist; Mr. John Jay, trombone; Mr. Phillip Chiara, trombone.

A specially enjoyable feature of the service will be the singing of Old English Carols by the male chorus and childrens' chorus; the children seated in the gallery in the back end of the church, and this for a church which is noted for its special musical services is saying a great deal. The service will consist of vocal and instrumental solos, mixed choruses, male choruses, childrens' choruses, carols, hymns and responses, with a short address by the pastor, Dr. C. M. Giffin.

The entire service will be under the direction of Prof. J. Alfred Pennington, who, with the church quartette, consisting of Miss Elizabeth Thomas, soprano; Miss Margaret Jones, contralto; Mr. Alfred Wooler, tenor; Mr. Richard Thomas, basso, will be assisted by a select chorus consisting of Mrs. L. M. Gates, the Misses Edith James, Livia Jones, Josephine Medway, Katharine Mongan, Elizabeth T. Rice, Mrs. G. F. Reynolds, the Misses Clara Simpson, Elizabeth Thomas, Mary Thomas, Messrs. H. H. Beidleman, F. W. Emrich, Henry Evans, Hector James, W. T. Leonard, A. L. Thomas, R. J. Thomas, Alfred Wooler; Mrs. Annie L. W. Price, Pianist, Mrs. J. A. Pennington, Organist, Mr. Frederick L. Widmayer, Violinist, and a Brass Quartet, consisting of Mr. Allan Lawrence, cornetist; Mr. Bert Mason, cornetist; Mr. John Jay, trombone; Mr. Phillip Chiara, trombone.

A specially enjoyable feature of the service will be the singing of Old English Carols by the male chorus and childrens' chorus; the children seated in the gallery in the back end of the church, accompanied by their own organ, will sing carols which will be responded to by the male chorus in the front end of the church, accompanied by the piano.

A beautiful souvenir program, containing the words of all the vocal selections (a splendid specimen of the printer's art) will be freely distributed at the evening service.
