snow the church services yesterday were not well attended in the morning, but in the evening the churches were well filled. At the Presbyterian church Rev. George Guild gave a very iteresting discourse, which was the first of the series which will continue throughout the week. The choir, in charge of Prof. Whitemore, rendered some choice anthems. At the Baptist church the programme of Christmas night was rendered. The evening was entirely taken up by the service of gong. The services in the Puritan Congregational church in the morning were poorly attended. The pastor gave an able discourse on "Woodman Spare That Tree." At the evening service there was a good turn-out, who listened to a sermon on "The Old Year's Lament and the New Year's Greeting."
