

EVENTS OF DAY IN WEST SCRANTON

EISTEDDFOD IN WELSH CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

Was a Very Successful Event—Names of the Officers and Prize Winners. Banquet of the Electric City Wheelmen—Those Who Attended the Enjoyable Event—Entertainment at the Simpson Church—Cantata at the Plymouth Congregational Church—Personal Notes.

The eisteddfod held yesterday in the first Welsh congregational church of South Main avenue, under the auspices of the young people of the church, was a successful event, considered in all of its phases. There were two sessions held, one in the afternoon, the other in the evening. Both sessions were conducted in a most enthusiastic manner, owing to the large number of competitors on solos and duets. It was necessary to hold a preliminary contest between the hours of 1 p. m. and 4 p. m. in the Robert Morris lodge rooms.

Professor Thomas Reese, G. T. S. C. of Kingston, Pa., was adjudicator of music. Mrs. George Howell of Scranton, adjudicated on recitations and questions. Miss Norma Williams was accompanist. The afternoon session was exceedingly interesting. The principal competition was the "Sailors' Chorus."

The first session began at 2 o'clock. Rev. David Jones, who was to act as president, failed to be present, owing to an attack of illness. Dr. J. L. Roberts was to appear as conductor of the afternoon session, but was called away by professional duties. Mr. S. R. Jones was appointed conductor of the opening session and made a neat address of welcome. Mr. David Stephens opened with a beautiful Welsh melody entitled "Hilch."

FIRST COMPETITION. Following this the competitive solo "Almost Persuaded," for children not over 15 years of age, first prize, $1.00, second prize 50 cents. There were seven contestants who appeared at the preliminary. Sarah Davis, Edith Woodly, Blodwyn Davies, Lizzie May Lewis, Sarah Douse, Jenima Morris and Sadie Lewis. The first, second and seventh named were chosen from the number to appear on the stage.

The first prize was awarded to Edith Woodly and second prize to Sarah Davis. Competition—"Questions on the Life of Christ, according to the Gospel of Mark." First prize, 75 cents; second prize, 50 cents. Three contestants appeared, Thomas W. Evans, John T. Davis, John Lloyd. Eight questions were asked. John Lloyd was given first prize and John T. SOPRANO COMPETITION. Soprano solo, "Springtime is Returning," prize $3.00. The four ladies who tried on this number were Edith W. Watkins, Annie Griffiths, Lizzie Jenkins and Norma Hughes. Miss Edith W. Watkins was awarded the prize. A second prize of $1.50 was given to Miss Lizzie Jenkins. The prize of $1.50 for eight reading was divided between Gwilym Lewis and Mrs. G. W. Powell.

There were eight contestants for the prize. The reading was "Age" by Longfellow. Children's duet, "Have You Any Room for Jesus?" prize $1.50, was awarded to Blodwyn and Chester Davis.

Male voice chorus, "Sailors' Chorus," by Parry, for a party not less than twelve in number, prize $12. There were two parties entered in the contest, "Rough Riders," W. E. Reese, conductor, and "D. L. & W. Machine Shop Glee club." Hector James leader. The prize was awarded to the "Rough Riders."

The evening session opened with a neat introduction of the conductor, Rev. Dr. Harris, by S. R. Jones, who acted in that capacity, owing to Mr. R. H. Williams being unable to be present. Miss Lizzie Hughes fringed song for the evening, "When the Heart is Young" in an excellent soprano voice, accompanied by Miss Norma Williams on the piano. The first number for competition was a tenor solo entitled "Total Eclipse," prize $3, donated by Colonel E. H. Rippe. There were seven contestants for the prize, namely, Thomas Elias, Harry Evans, David J. Davis, William Jones, Harry Jones, Thomas Abrams, Charles Richards, Evans, Davis, Abrams and Richards were admitted to the stage. David J. Davis, of Fourteenth street, was awarded the prize.

RECITATION FOR CHILDREN. Children's recitation, "Little Jim," first prize, $1, second prize, 50 cents. Five contestants tried for the honors, three were admitted to the platform, Louisa Nicholas, Lizzie Lewis and Norma Griffiths. The five children were given prizes for their excellent recitation. Lizzie Lewis had 38 points; Louisa Nicholas, 35; Norma Griffiths, 25; Nora Davis, 25; Amanda Morgan, 25. For a quartette of mixed voices, "Redemption," two parties tried. Lizzie Jenkins, M. J. B. Williams, D. J. Davis, David Jenkins, second party, Edith W. Watkins, Gertrude Watkins, Harry Evans, and Richard Watkins. The prize was divided between both parties.

In the contest for answering the largest number of questions on Palestine, first prize, 75 cents; second prize, 50 cents. John T. Davis and T. W. Evans entered for the honors. J. T. W. Davis was given first prize and T. W. Evans second prize.

The next number on the programme was the chief solo, "Jesus Lover of My Soul," to the tune "Aberystwyth" for a party not less than twenty-five in number, prize $20. Three choirs entered: Jackson street Baptist church choir, William J. Thomas, leader; Taylor choir, conducted by Richard Watkins; Welsh Congregational church choir, led by David Jenkins. The prize was divided between the two last named choirs.

LAST NIGHT'S BANQUET. The banquet given by the Electric City Wheelmen at the club house on Jackson street last night was an enjoyable event. The rooms were prettily decorated with palms and ferns. Three tables were set, the first one at 4 o'clock, second at 7 and the last at 5 o'clock. The menu and service were excellent.

After the inner man had been fed the music and literary programme was commenced. E. G. Peters being chairman. The first number on the programme was a delightful piano solo, executed by Miss Edith Swingle, followed by Thomas Gipple with a tenor solo. The well known elocutionist, Miss Bessie Slote, favored the audience with one of her gems, accompanied on the piano by Miss Margaret Gibbs. Miss DePue followed with a fine recitation. Professor David Owens sang a baritone solo. It pleased so well that he was compelled to respond to an encore. Mr. Thomas Gipple followed with a comic recitation.

Part second of the programme was opened by Miss Minerva Hopp with a delightful whistling solo. Mr. Griffin gave a recitation. Mr. Gipple then sang a solo; Miss Bessie Slote executed a fine recitation. Miss Williams closed the programme with a piano solo. The accompanists of the evening were Misses Williams, Swingle and Siebert. The committee which arranged this delightful affair consisted of G. R. Ralph, chairman; D. A. Hall, F. E. DePue, Gus Weising and William Row. The president, W. S. Meers, deserves special mention for the success of the affair. He labored incessantly to make it a grand affair and that he succeeded goes without saying. Mr. Meers is an indefatigable worker in the interest of the club.

Those who enjoyed the event were: Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Tague, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Reese, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Ralph, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Smith, Dr. and Mrs. Peach, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. GATHERED IN SOUTH SCRANTON

NEW YEAR'S CELEBRATED BY THE CLUB OF FIFTEEN.

Members Had a Dinner and Then an "Open House" at Hotel Best. Hundreds of Persons Attended the New Year Reception at the Y. W. C. A. Rooms on Cedar Avenue, Where a Fine Entertainment Programme Was Rendered—Other Items of News.

New Year's Day, or rather Jan. 2, the day on which it was celebrated, was passed quietly, but enjoyably by the people of South Scranton. There were several kinds of entertainment for the many.

The Club of Fifteen gave its first dinner for members at the quarters of the organization at Hotel Best. But very little pretension was made in arranging an elaborate programme. However, the committee in charge, gave a most agreeable surprise to the brother members. Covers were laid for twenty-four and the courses given consisted of the choicest of the season's delicacies. Steward Philip Graf, of the club, assisted by Harry Saft, and a corps of waiters, served the tables.

The lavish decorations used by the Fourteen Friends at their annual celebration Sunday night were, by permission of the club, assisted by Harry Saft, and a corps of waiters, served the tables.

The honor of being toastmaster was afforded to John J. Gordon, secretary of the club. When the order of cigars was reached, the toastmaster made some appropriate remarks. Fred Phillips made the address of the day. In his chosen words he congratulated the club on its initiation effort as an entertainer. He extolled the aims and objects of the organization. Michael Natter, who has been justly styled the "father" of the club, followed with an interesting speech.

Mathias Schneider, Daniel Melvin, Joseph Conrad and Casper Tauber made fitting remarks. The remainder of the evening was passed in an informal manner. An "open house" was given, at which members of the Fourteen Friends, and friends of the members of the club were guests. Present at the dinner were: President, Mathias Schneider; vice president, Martin Merrick; treasurer, Joseph Conrad; secretary, John J. Gordon; steward, Philip Graf; sergeant-at-arms, Daniel Melvin; Michael Natter, Casper Tauber, George Schumacher, William Red, George Huesner, Henry Jacke, Fred Phillips, Simon Scheuer, Thomas Murray, Peter Dipple, Gus Maghan, Harry Saft, William Poole, Richard Wolfe and John Rader.

Y. W. C. A. RECEPTION. The yearly reception of the South Side branch of the Young Women's Christian association, given at the rooms on Cedar avenue, yesterday afternoon from 4 to 10 o'clock, was the most brilliant event of the kind in the corner of the association on this side. Much preparation for the affair was made, and the numerous details incident to conducting the large undertaking in a successful manner, were accorded due attention. It is estimated that fully five hundred ladies and gentlemen were entertained during the reception hours.

As was noted in this column Saturday a programme of music, vocal and instrumental, recitations and tableaux, were given. The big array of talent was present as previously announced and delighted the gathering. Refreshments were served all day. The interior of the rooms were beautifully decorated, and they presented an enchanting scene. Mrs. Edward Jackson, Mrs. W. T. Hackitt and Miss Hayes, of the central city, Miss George Jones, Mrs. Andrew Kibler, Mrs. D. W. Humphrey, Mrs. John Scheuer, Jr., Mrs. William Lion, Mrs. Talmie, Misses Dora Blatter, Anna Rankin, Mary Dyer, and Miss Lizzie Christophel, of this side, comprised the reception committee.

HORSES RAN AWAY. John Greiner, a delivery boy employed by Henry Armbrust, the Cedar avenue butcher, had an exciting experience Friday. He was out driving but failed to keep the horses under proper control and when near the South Side works they ran away and soon had the wagon reduced to firewood.

Greiner fortunately escaped without injury.

SING A SONG. If you'll sing a song as you go along, In the face of the real or the fancied wrong, In spite of the doubt if you'll fight it out, And show a heart that is brave and stout, If you'll laugh at the jeers and refuse the taunts, You'll force the ever-rebelling cheers That the world denies when a coward cries.

To give to the man who bravely tries, And you'll win success with a little song— If you'll sing the song as you go along!

If you'll sing a song as you plod along, You'll find that the busy, rushing throng Will catch the strain of the glad refrain, That the sun will follow the blinding rain, That the clouds will fly from the blackened sky.

From where the placid rainbow bends; And all because of a little song— If you'll sing the song as you plod along! If you'll sing a song as you trudge along, You'll find that the singing will make you strong; And the heavy load and the rugged road, And the sting and the stripes of the rod, Will soar with the note that you set afloat; That the beam will change to a trilling note; That the world is bad when you are sad, And bright and beautiful when glad, That all you need is a little song— If you'll sing the song as you trudge along!
