"SLEIGHING IS GOOD."

So Reported Constable Henry Burschell of the Fifteenth Ward. "Sleighting is good," was the exciting report presented to court yesterday by Constable Henry Burschell, of the Fifteenth ward. It was the quarterly return day of the constables and Mr. Burschell was anxious to report something.

No liquor is sold in the Fifteenth ward, unlawfully or without a license, neither are children born out of wedlock, so Mr. Burschell could not report on these specifications of the return sheets. There is a line requiring a report on the condition of streets and bridges and this was Henry's opportunity.

"Sleighting is good" represents a condition of streets and the worthy constable decided to report that fact to the court to the end that it might know officially that in the distribution of his New Year's favor the weather man was as kind to the Fifteenth ward as to other parts of the city. Constable Matthew Bean, of Old Forge, reported that Mary Snyder is engaged in the illegal sale of liquor there, and the matter was referred to the district attorney for consideration. All of the other constables reported a scrupulous observance of the law and a dead level of respectability in their bailiwicks.

HIGH DEATH RATE.

But the Number of New Diphtheria Cases Decreases. Last week showed a very high death rate. The board of health received reports of 49 deaths from all causes, which is about ten or twelve above the normal rate. Of the 49 deaths there were two each from diphtheria and membranous croup.

Only 5 new cases of diphtheria were reported. This is the smallest weekly number in nearly three months. The cold weather is attributed as the cause for lessening the prevalence of the disease. It is held by some of the older physicians that their younger brethren are beginning to recognize the folly of proclaiming severe cases of throat trouble to be diphtheria, that they have been calling everything diphtheria in order to get credit for cures.

BLAZE IN Y. W. C. A. ROOMS.

A Match and Fine Decorations Were the Cause. A blaze in the parlor of the Young Women's Christian association rooms on Washington avenue caused some alarm for a few minutes late yesterday afternoon. Around one of the chandeliers evergreens were entwined and when one of the attendants endeavored to light the gas about 5 o'clock the pine was set on fire and made an ugly blaze for a minute or two.

Patrolman Joseph Block was at Washington avenue and Spruce street at the time and assisted in the work of smothering the fire, which was confined to the evergreen. Aside from ruining a rug and filling the rooms with smoke no damage was done.

O'BOYLE PROPOSES TO BE VERY SEVERE

SIDEWALKS MUST BE CLEARED OF SNOW AND ICE.

He Is Tired of Being Courteous to Men Who Don't Appreciate the Amount of Leeway Given Them. If They Don't Clean Their Sidewalks and Keep Them Clean He Will Have Warrants Issued for Their Arrest—Time for Action Has Arrived.

"I'm tired of notifying people to clean their sidewalks," said Street Commissioner O'Boyle yesterday. "And that comment applies to business men in particular," he continued. "They ought to know the law as well as I do, and if they don't know the law, I don't see why personal pride or common-sense don't prompt them to try and make walking possible."

Mr. O'Boyle's manner indicated that he was somewhat angry—and not without reason. The last snow fell on Sunday, yet many of the sidewalks in the business district were permitted to remain uncleared during the two succeeding days, and yesterday it was necessary to send the police patrolmen from door to door notifying alert business men and others to remove the ice and snow from in front of their properties.

"We ought to have a town-crier," said Mr. O'Boyle as a final comment, which revealed his disturbed state of mind. During his conversation with a Tribune reporter, the street commissioner said he found himself forced to have recourse to the law, the same as were his predecessors in office, and that he would today have warrants issued for all occupants of properties whose uncleaned sidewalks were reported by the police at 10 o'clock this morning. "I'm asking permission to withdraw the attorneys stated that they had the case continued at the last term because they could not get any trace of their client. They have not heard from him since and, not knowing his wishes in the case, had no desire to proceed further with it. Judge Gunster allowed them to withdraw.

PERMITTED TO WITHDRAW.

Attorneys Had Not Heard from McAndrew in a Long Time.

When the equity suit of Thomas Jennings and others against Joseph P. McAndrew and others was called before Judge Gunster yesterday, Attorneys Younburg and Dawson and L. P. Wedeman, who represented McAndrew, asked for permission to withdraw the case.

The action was brought for the purpose of reforming a deed which was alleged did not specify as much land as was bargained to be sold. In asking permission to withdraw the attorneys stated that they had the case continued at the last term because they could not get any trace of their client. They have not heard from him since and, not knowing his wishes in the case, had no desire to proceed further with it. Judge Gunster allowed them to withdraw.

COLONEL BOIES' PORTRAIT.

Finished and Ready for Hanging in Board of Trade Rooms. A portrait of Colonel H. M. Boies, one of the ex-presidents of the board of trade, has been received by the secretary of the board and will be hung today in the assembly hall alongside the six portraits of ex-presidents which already appear on the walls. Colonel Boies' portrait is in oils, and the others. It was painted by John Willard Raught, of Dunmore, and in color, true likeness and other detail is a very finished and excellent piece of work. It was painted to represent—and probably is from—a standing pose and is thoroughly realistic in its subject, including the rose, without which no painting of Scranton's distinguished citizen would be complete.

CALL WILL ISSUE TODAY.

Democratic City Committee Will Meet Saturday Night. D. J. Campbell, chairman of the Democratic city committee, will today issue a call for a meeting of the Democratic city committee, which will be held in the St. Charles hotel next Saturday night. The committee will probably name Saturday, Jan. 21, as the time for holding the primaries, and in that event the convention will have to be held on Monday, Jan. 23, to allow the certificates of nomination to be filed within the time prescribed by law.

CHARLES HORN INJURED.

He Is the Son of Attorney George S. Horn.

Charles Horn, son of Attorney George S. Horn, received a serious injury Thursday at Painted Post, N. Y. The exact nature of the injury has not yet been ascertained. When the war broke out last spring Mr. Horn was a student at Dickinson college at Carlisle. He enlisted in the eighth regiment of Pennsylvania volunteers and went to Camp Alger, where early in August he was taken ill with appendicitis. He was operated on Aug. 16 and when he was strong enough to be moved, his father, who was at his bedside almost constantly, had him removed to his home in this city.

When recovering from the effect of appendicitis operation he was again laid low, this time by typhoid fever, and for a time was in a serious condition. He was removed to his home in the city, and on Saturday went to Painted Post, N. Y., with his father and sister to spend New Year's day with relatives. They started home Monday morning and on the way to the train at Corn- ing where they would get a train for home. Miss Horn had secured a seat and Mr. Horn and his son had just entered the car when it started with a sudden jerk that threw both from the train and to the forward end of the car.

Soon after the accident the son of severe pain in the vicinity of the place where he had been operated upon for appendicitis. At Elmira his condition was so serious that he had to be taken from the train and a physician summoned. He was removed to his home in this city with much difficulty. Dr. Fulton is attending him. The exact nature of the injuries, which are of an internal nature, have not yet been learned.

ACTION WITH DOUBLE PURPOSE

Want to Recover Damages and Prove Title. An action to recover damages for timber cut and to prove their title to thirty-three acres of land in Ransom township was brought yesterday by Tobias and Abram Stein, through their attorney, H. J. Seargent, at the defendants in the action are James Green, the alleged owner of the land, and Sterling R. Evans, Frederick Webber, Ernest Webber, Thomas Hill and William Hill, workmen employed by Green in removing the timber.

Green's title to 294 acres of land sold in 1891 at a tax sale as unseated land. It is alleged that the sale was illegal for the reason that the tax was paid. The trouble, it is claimed, was between the title to the land to two different persons. The thirty-three acres claimed by the Steins adjoins their farm and they have been in possession of it since 1861, they allege.

SERGEANT DAY IS RECOVERING

He Expects Soon to Be Able to Leave Hospital. William Emaus has returned from St. Joseph's hospital at Reading, where he went to visit his friend, Sergeant Lona Day, of the Thirteenth regiment, who for a time was very low with typhoid fever. Sergeant Day's many friends will be pleased to know that he is recovering rapidly and expects to be soon able to leave the hospital.

Sister Georgina, who nursed Sergeant Day and other Scrantonians through their attacks of the fever, has succeeded in securing a certificate of when Mr. Emaus left the hospital her death was expected hourly. All of the Scranton soldiers who were in St. Joseph's hospital testify to the tender care of the sisters who cared for them. No one of them was more assiduous in attention than Sister Georgina and Mr. Emaus says the convalescents were much depressed by her serious illness.

GUARDSMEN ARE ANXIOUS.

Regiment a Unit in Its Desire to Go to Harrisburg. Commissioned officers and other members of the Eleventh regiment made numerous inquiries yesterday in reference to their orders for the command to participate in the approaching inaugural at Harrisburg, but no word had been received here at the close of office hours at the afternoon. From the inquiries made, Colonel Waters and his adjutant, D. B. Atherton, are quite satisfied that the command is practically a unit in its desire to take part. Colonel Waters is most thoroughly in favor of the matter for personal reasons as he is a very man, but he desires it for the good of the guard generally and his regiment in particular. "Practice makes perfect," he says, and on that account he would like to see the guard put to the test toward the better utility of the new organization of citizen soldiery.

FAULTY FIRE ALARM.

City System Out of Gear But the Trouble Was Located. The fire alarm from Box 12, near the Weston mill on Lackawanna avenue, about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, was a test alarm sounded by order of Chief Hickey.

For several days the alarm system has been in bad working order and the alarm was sounded in an effort to try and locate the trouble. During the morning each company was notified that the alarm would be sent in. According to instructions, a permanent cord was attached to each indicator and recorded the taps. By this method it was determined where a grounded wire was located and the system was put in correct working order.

VAN BUREN IS A VERY LUCKY MAN

HE HAD A NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH.

He Is the Janitor in the Board of Trade Building and Was Engaged in Repairing an Elevator Door When the Carriage Descended and Hit Him on the Head—He Sustained a Severe Gash in the Head But Was Knocked Out of Harm's Way.

Fred Van Buren, janitor of the board of trade building, had a narrow escape from a horrible death yesterday. He was leaning through one of the elevator shaft doorways on the fourth floor and was hit on the head and knocked senseless by one of the carriages. It was only by good luck that he missed falling into the shaft.

Both of the carriages were in use at the time and this fact was not known to Mr. Van Buren, who was engaged in repairing the screen on the door opening into the shaft nearest the street. The carriage which hit him was loaded with six passengers and noiselessly descended at full speed from above him. He was leaning into the shaft, but was not far out, and his feet were quite a distance into the corridor, the better to lower his body into a proper position for doing his work.

To his peculiar attitude and the smooth mosaic floor of the corridor Van Buren probably owes his life, for when the bottom of the carriage hit his head it knocked his feet from under him and hurled him against the corridor wall. There he lay, limp and apparently lifeless.

The carriage was stopped and Van Buren was carried into the office of Dr. Reed Burns, where his injuries were diagnosed. The rally followed by he escaped without any serious hurt. The top of his head was painfully bruised, but was not cut. There was a gash in his face beneath the left eye, where he had struck against the latch of the shaft door. Van Buren later appeared about the building, but was finally obliged to go to his home, 308 Kressler court. Those acquainted with the details of the accident were unable to understand how he missed plunging headlong four stories to the foot of the shaft, or escaped being crushed beneath the floor of the carriage and the door sill.

RAILROAD Y. M. C. A. RALLY.

Was Held Last Night and Was Preceded by a Supper.

Over a hundred members last night participated in the annual mid-winter rally of the Railroad Young Men's Christian association. During the progress of the supper which began at 6 o'clock with R. F. McKenna, the vice-chairman, presiding. A blessing was given by Rev. Arthur Lucas, of Broadway, N. J., a former Railroad Young Men's Christian association secretary. During the progress of the supper there was music by the Orpheus club, instrumentalists. At the conclusion of the spread, the speakers from outside the city and others were introduced. Then followed a well-arranged program of addresses and other entertainment.

There was an address by John Armstrong, the physical director, and an exhibition of fancy club swinging by a team from the gymnasium class. Arthur Shiffer read a paper on "Education," an address was made by F. D. Glover, instructor of penmanship and arithmetic, and a paper was read by W. C. Lamping. Some clever impersonations by C. J. Davis were well received.

PENDELL FATALLY INJURED.

Crushed by a Fall of Coal in the Hampton Mine.

William Pendell, a miner employed at the Hampton mine, was fatally injured while at work yesterday morning. He was engaged in knocking down coal when the roof fell, a large quantity of coal falling upon him. The unfortunate man was extricated from his perilous position by fellow-workmen and removed to the West Side hospital, where the physicians made an examination.

They found that three ribs had been broken and he had been injured internally. Pendell died while the examination was being made. The remains were removed to his late home. He was a married man and leaves a family.
