CITY NOTES

ARM FRACTURED—Philip H. Delbridge fell yesterday and fractured his right arm.

REOPENING OF SCHOOLS—The West Hill South Scranton kindergarten connected with St. Luke's church will reopen Monday morning after the holiday vacation.

MINE EMPLOYEES RECEIVE WAGES—The Delaware and Hudson Coal Company paid the men employed at the trassy islands, Delaware and Mill Creek collieries yesterday.

LICENSES TO WED—Stanley Pardon and Mary Dura, Scranton; William Boston and R. Rogers, Scranton, were granted marriage licenses by Clerk of the Courts Daniel J. Conroy.

"BOOTS" GOES TO JAIL—"Boots" Newman, arrested Thursday evening for the larceny of an overcoat and suit of clothes from a South Washington avenue clothing dealer, was committed to jail in default of $500 bail by Alderman Miller yesterday.

DIED FROM HEART DISEASE—An autopsy performed yesterday by Coroner Roberts on the body of Patrick Grady, the hermit, whose body was found in the snow last night, showed that death was due to heart disease. A verdict was rendered accordingly.

FUNERAL OF MISS RAMSAY—The funeral of Miss Mabel Ramsay was held yesterday afternoon from the home of her mother, 129 Linden street. The services were conducted by Rev. J. J. Conroy and were held at the home. Interment was made in the Dunmore cemetery.

IN FAVOR OF SCHWARZ—Archibuteo Fayer, Peck and Ballentine yesterday made an award of $25 in favor of Philip Schwartz against the defendant in which damages were claimed for millions prosecution. Rosenbluth will also pay the costs on this case, which will aggregate about $100.

DRIVERS 1499 BROKEN—E. A. Wheeler, a driver for the Union Transfer company, fractured one of his legs yesterday morning while carrying a heavy package out of a building on Spruce street. His package fell on his leg. He was taken to the Lackawanna hospital.

BASKET BALL PLANS—A meeting of a number of athletic young men was held last night at Zang's cafe and arrangements made for forming a basketball team. A number of who were expected to be present probably remained at home on account of the disagreeable weather and the meeting was postponed until some night next week.

ROBERT EMMETT ANNIVERSARY—At a recent meeting of the officers of the John Mitchell club, it was decided to hold the Robert Emmett anniversary exercises March 5, at the Academy of Music. The officers of the club are: President, C. T. Boland; vice president, Thomas Jordan; treasurer, M. J. Bunas; corresponding secretary, J. P. Foley; financial secretary, Patrick Conlan.

HIS GOOD NAME BINGED—Dominic Conli lived in Dunmore, he said, Frank Merrill, "Frank had a revolver and it disappeared. He had Conli arrested for carrying a gun, but Conli was a jury refused to believe that Conli was guilty and said so. Now Conli wants $200 damages from Merrill for injury done to his name. The action in the case was filed yesterday by Attorney M. J. Ruddy, who represents Conli.

NIGHT SCHOOL TO REOPEN—The night school conducted by the Christian brothers at St. Thomas' college will re-open for the second term on Monday evening next at 7 o'clock. A large number of young men took advantage of the opportunity offered by the school during the first term which closed on Dec. 23, and nearly all of them have signalled their intention to return for the second term on Monday evening next. A feature of the night schools is the system by which those whose early education has been interrupted or entirely neglected, receive individual instruction and special attention.

"THE VILLAGER POSTMASTER." Production First-Class in Every Respect. Save Mr. Burgunder.

"A superb production. You won't have anything better in Scranton this season in the way of a drama of rural life," said M. H. Burgunder, of Wilkes-Barre, last night over the long-distance telephone. He was speaking of "The Villager Postmaster," which was produced at the Newbit in Wilkes-Barre last night and will be seen at the Lyceum this afternoon and evening. "I have seen nothing finer of its kind," continued Mr. Burgunder. "The company is first-class, the scenic design lavish and beautiful and the whole production admirable in every respect. It was received here with great favor tonight."

Women's Shoes at Less Than Half Prices. In most cases, former $2, $4 and $5 shoes go at $1.50 pair this way. With these we have put short lines of our $2, $4 and $5 shoes, which are sizes because of heavy selling this season. Recent shapes among them but not new styles. Qualities are standard—only you know them. Some bicycle shoes among these also. Any woman who consults her own sense as to footwear and does not "sneak" when a bargain is offered will be wise to buy three or four pairs. $2, $4 and $5 values at $1.60 pair.

At $1.60 Pair. Schank & Spence 410 Spruce Street.

SCRANTON PEOPLE NOT THE ONLY DUPES

FORGER EAMES MADE VICTIMS OF SOME BINGHAMTONIANS.

Proprietor Shanly, of the Lewis House, and Dr. A. J. Osborn, of the Parlor City, Among Those Taken In—Scranton and Wilkes-Barre Checks Were Used by the Clever Swindler—Tried to Throw Officers Off the Scent—Had His Nibs with Him in Binghamton.

Binghamton papers yesterday contain the following in reference to George Eames, the building and loan man, who was arrested Wednesday in Syracuse at the instance of W. W. Wilkins, of this city, one of several Scrantonians defrauded by apparently about 22 years ago.

Under Sheriff Hummer brought George E. Eames, or Ames, to this city yesterday afternoon from Syracuse and the man will be arraigned this morning on the charges of forgery. H. Wilkins, the Scrantonian, who has been trading Eames and who visited the city a few days ago in search of him, returned here last night called by a telegram announcing Eames' capture. He will await the result of the arraignment this morning and then, if having Eames arraigned in this city.

PENCIL SKETCHES. Mr. Wilkins brought from Scranton, paper of which the face value amounts to more than $60, all of which is in the hands of the forger. A number of Scrantonians suffered losses, the amounts varying from $20 to $100. Mr. Wilkins says that he lost $45 by Eames. He also lost $25 by a man who he identifies as Eames at a bank when a check for $25 was cashed. The check was on a Wilkes-Barre bank and the man who cashed it had no account with any one of the name of the signer. Dr. Osborn had had business dealings with Eames during his stay here and had found him to all appearances a gentleman. He went with the man to the bank and endorsed his check as a friendly accommodation.

Eames is a courteous man with the appearance of a gentleman. At the Lewis house in Scranton he appeared with a young woman, apparently about 22 years old, and said that he had been recently married and was on a wedding trip. The woman left the Lewis house previous to Eames' departure. Eames gave him a check for $25 and he went back to Scranton for some papers. They registered for Detroit, Mich. Mr. Wilkins brought with him two pencil sketches of the forger, made by a clerk in the Lackawanna railroad office, Scranton. One of the pictures was a front view and the other a profile view. Detective Stephenson was detailed on the case. Among the places visited in search of information was the Lewis house in Scranton. Shanly recognized the pencil sketches of the features of a stranger who had spent ten days at his house, and who tendered in payment for board a check for $40, with the request that he give the balance in cash, for which he would call today. Mr. Wilkins, who recognized the sketch, after looking at the check, which was for $40 and purported to bear the signature of George Cooper, of Scranton, pronounced it a forgery.

Instead of going to Utica, Monday, as he had told Captain Shanly he intended to do, Eames bought a ticket for Syracuse and left for that city. He was discovered by Detective Stephenson, who forwarded a warrant to Detective O'Brien, who in turn arrested him, and Captain Shanly is the complainant.

LOOK LIKE A CASHIER. Eames, alias George E. Ames, it is said, looks more like a successful well fed bank cashier than a forger. When he was arrested yesterday morning at South Salina street hotel and denied strenuously that he was the man wanted. He finally agreed to accompany the officer rather than create a disturbance and at police headquarters answered all questions with the utmost nonchalance.

The man who made the pencil sketches of Eames by the pictures drawn by the hotel clerk and given by Stephenson to Detective O'Brien.

CORAY-JENKINS EQUITY SUIT. Three Witnesses Were on the Stand Yesterday. All of yesterday was consumed by the taking of testimony in the equity case of E. A. Coray against John S. Jenkins. The latter went on the stand in the morning and was under cross-examination until 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Colonel L. A. Waters was next called. He had arranged with Jenkins to buy the stock of the Spring Brook Railway company for $10,000 in cash and $5,000 stock in the Spring Brook Water company. He had a check for the full amount, but Jenkins did not have the stock with him at the time to turn it over and the deal fell through.

Attorney H. C. Reynolds was one of the auditors appointed to ascertain the condition of the affairs of the Spring Brook Railway company. When he went to examine the books of the concern he found Coray and Jenkins in the office quarreling about their affairs. He said they ought to be able to settle the business difficulties without quarreling, and Jenkins replied: "I am ready to do the right thing. I have told Coray if he will give up his stock, but he wants to take the stock out and bring the money back. I won't let him do that."

LEGISLATIVE LABOR LEAGUE. It Will Meet at Harrisburg on Monday, January 23. In issuing the official call for the convention of the Legislative Labor League at Harrisburg, Jan. 23, a clerical error appeared in the notification circulars. They stated that "the representation will be one delegate from each central body."

New circulars just issued read as follows: "The representation will be one delegate from each local organization and one from each central body." To have been absolutely correct, these latter circulars should have contained the additional information that a local body has the privilege of combining with some other organization in case such local body is unable to send a delegate of its own. These facts were given to The Tribune late last night by P. J. Thomas, of this city, treasurer of the league.

According to the circulars mentioned the objects of the convention will be the preparation and discussion of bills to be presented to the next session of the legislature in the interest and for the betterment of the condition of the working people of the state; also to provide means for carrying to a successful conclusion the wishes of the convention in relation to the measures it may decide to favor. Among the measures that will come before the convention will be bills amending the mechanics' lien law, an employers' liability act; a bill to repeal the iniquitous fellow-servant act; amending the fac-

LETTER FROM J. W. BROWNING

WRITES INTERESTING OF HIS NEW HOME.

Paid a Visit to the Omaha Exposition While En Route to Colorado. There Is But One Denver, Mr. Browning Says, and She Holds the Scepter Among the Cities of the Foot Hills—The Pioneers Who Blazed the Way for Civilization Performs a Great and Noble Work.

The following interesting letter was written by Attorney J. W. Browning, formerly of this city, from Canyon City, Col., to the Imperial Chautauqua circle, of which he was a member:

Perhaps a few lines written in the shadow of the Rockies will find a welcome place on your program. Your kind remarks contained in the resolutions of our departure have been a reminder of associations dear indeed to me. Notter will soon forget the little group who gathered with us at the train. At Binghamton we were again cheered with the greeting of an "imperial" and a farewell to the journey's end. They reminded us that ever along life's pathway are friends kind and true.

Our trip, though full of incident to us, has in little of incident to others. Doubtless you prefer to hear something of the incidents of our trip. We left Binghamton on the morning of Oct. 12 at Babylon. Ignatz Rosowitsch, alleged to have been one of the gang, was arrested and a charge of murder preferred against him.

The witnesses heard by the grand jury yesterday were John J. Carroll, brakeman; Lewis Firestein, engineer; John W. Phillips, freeman; Frank Dampston, conductor, all members of the train crew, and James O'Brien, of Wilkes-Barre, a Lehigh Valley detective.

Carroll was badly injured in the wreck. It was to save him and poor Howell that the crew went to work when the gang of thieves opened fire on them. Carroll identified Rosowitsch as a suspicious looking character who was seen near Babylon during the wreck of the afternoon of the day before the wreck occurred.

The grand jury will make known its conclusion in its next returns to court.

O'BRIEN FAILED TO SHOOT. He Had Threatened to Kill Over-Arduent Policemen. "Jack" O'Brien, wanted for nearly a year for shooting at Special Officer Durkin, of the Erie and Lehigh, and Western road, was arrested last night. His brother, "Billy," was also arrested. "Jack" O'Brien had frequently made the boast that he would shoot full of holes any "peeler" who ever laid a hand on him.

Last April O'Brien was put off a train by Durkin near Chinchilla. O'Brien had a shotgun with him and discharged it at the officer. The range was long and only a few shot took effect. He had been in many an escapade, but nothing quite so serious as this one. Efforts to find him were futile.

O'Brien, it was learned, recently returned from Butte City, Mont. A warrant for his arrest was issued and also for the arrest of his brother "Billy," who was with the other at the time of the shooting.

"Jack" was arrested by Lieutenant of Police Spellman on Providence street in Scranton, after looking at the check, which was for $40 and purported to bear the signature of George Cooper, of Scranton, pronounced it a forgery.

THOMAS BURKE KILLED. Crushed by a Fall of Rock in Gypsy Grove Mine. Thomas Burke, of Gypsy Grove, a miner employed in the Gypsy Grove colliery of the Pennsylvania Coal company, was instantly killed yesterday morning by a fall of rock. Burke was engaged in robbing pillars. The place was known to be in a dangerous condition. He had occasion to walk beneath the ledge, which came down just as he had stopped underneath it, crushing the life out of him.

Help was quickly summoned and the work of removing the tons of rock from the body was begun. This required nearly two hours of tedious work. The remains were removed to his late home in the company's ambulance. He is survived by a wife and one child. The funeral will take place Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Interment will be made in Catholic cemetery.

OBITUARY. The many friends of John J. Scott will be grieved to learn of his sudden death which occurred yesterday afternoon at the home of his mother, Mrs. Mary Scott, 212 North 10th street. He was 41 one week ago with the grip which developed into pneumonia. His heart soon showed signs of weakness and he gradually sank until he died at 9 o'clock. He was born on March 11, 1857, in the city of New York, and was therefore in the thirtieth year of his age. Some years ago he came to this city with his parents and entered as an apprentice in the blacksmith's trade with Mr. M. T. Keeler.

He was a man of great industry and a record of a life of rare blamelessness, and the memories of a sunny disposition and self-sacrificing devotion that cannot but temper his loss. Mr. Scott was a brother of the Messrs. James, William and Walter Scott, of the firm of Clark & Scott, tobacco manufacturers, and Mrs. John Croft and Miss Kate Scott. The funeral will take place on Monday morning with a mass of requiem at St. Peter's cathedral at 9 o'clock. Interment at the Catholic cemetery in West Scranton.

Mrs. Daniel Donohue died last evening at her Orchard avenue residence. She survived by her husband and four daughters and three sons. Mrs. Joseph Savanag, Mrs. Daniel Donohue, Mrs. Michael O'Connell, Mrs. Margaret Donohue and Daniel, Cornelius and David Donohue. The burial will be held at St. Peter's cathedral and interment in the Cathedral cemetery.

John Fogelgayer, of Georgetown, aged 99 years, died yesterday morning at his home on Spruce street. He was survived by his wife and four children. The funeral will take place Monday afternoon. Funeral Director J. P. Dunmore will have the remains at the Dunmore depot of the Erie and Wyoming Valley railroad, over which road they will be brought here at 3 o'clock. Interment in Dunmore cemetery.

I wish to state to the public that I have formed no combination with other Republican candidates, notwithstanding current reports. F. J. Widmayer. Candidate for City Controller.

ALDERMAN JOHN KELLY, OF THE EIGHTEENTH WARD.

The witnesses called were nearly all persons who had signed the petition asking for the impeachment of Alderman Kelly. These witnesses were E. F. Lockwood, William Roth, B. Spiegle, Charles Diem, M. J. Burnett, James Jacobs and James Robinson. Nearly all of them reside on Emmet street and most of them said that the only knowledge they had of Alderman Kelly's alleged unlawful practices was obtained by reading the newspapers or from C. M. DeLong, who circulated the petition asking for impeachment.

Brown swore that she never asked Mr. DeLong to investigate the official conduct of Alderman Kelly. She candidly said she did not think she could afford to be mixed up in the matter. She was arrested and taken before Alderman Kelly several times.

Frank C. DeLong, who had never had any conversation with Alderman DeLong about the Kelly case. There will be another hearing Monday.

THEY OBJECT TO ANNEXATION. The Cigar-makers Dislike the Expansion Idea. At a regular meeting Cigar-makers' Union, No. 255, held on Jan. 4, 1899, the following preamble and resolution was adopted:

Whereas: The demand for expansion is based upon the idea that we manufacture to a larger extent than we can consume when there are so many of our people who are without money and property, and consequence that man, and plutocracy and militarism nobler than humanity, and

Whereas: We cannot annex the Philippines without a large increase in our standing army, and

Whereas: A large standing army is necessary to the maintenance of order and a menace to the liberty of our people, and

Whereas: If we annex the Philippines we shall be entering the Philippines by the force of arms and thereby deny to them what we claim for ourselves—the right of government, and

Whereas: The annexation of the Philippines will be a direct blow against the cigar industry of the country, and

Resolved: That we, Cigar-makers' Union, No. 255, of the city of Scranton, in meeting assembled, do protest in the name of the territory described as the Philippines, and request our representative to vote and use his influence against any such measure.

G. A. Kotzwinkle, secretary, Union No. 255.

MEETING OF HOME MANAGERS. Held in the Rooms of the Y. W. C. A. Yesterday. The managers of the Home for the Friendless held their monthly meeting at the Young Women's Christian association yesterday, instead of struggling to reach the new Home. It was the first meeting of the year, and was one in which a great amount of routine business was transacted. The heavy strain of carrying the large debt on the new building was made evident in the treasurer's report. It was also emphasized that the institution is greatly in need of coal.

The annual meeting will be held next Friday, when all the clergymen of the city are invited to be present, and when a cordial invitation is given to all annual and life members and to the public in general. Election of officers will be held at that time.

Mrs. L. R. Stelle has been selected to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. J. E. Carmalt, who has removed from the city, and E. F. Chamberlain was voted in as an auditor. In place of E. W. Lutz, deceased, a nominating committee consisting of Mrs. J. Ben Dimmick, Mrs. J. A. Robertson and Mrs. E. Y. Chamberlain was appointed to arrange the necessary details of the annual election.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE. [Under this heading short letters of interest will be published when accompanied by publication of the writer's name. The Tribune will not be held responsible for opinions here expressed.]

About Justices of the Peace. Editor of The Tribune. Sir: The following may be of interest to your readers. One day last week an elderly man came into my place of business and asked me to change a five dollar bill which I did, giving him some five cent pieces. Some days later the same man came into the store and asked me to give him two quarters for a half dollar which he had in his hand. I proceeded to make the change but discovered at once that the half was a counterfeit, being white, shabby and quite light. On refusing to give the money the old man said I should be willing to take back what I gave and accused me in the presence of four witnesses of giving him the bad piece. He had no proof whatever that I gave him the bad half and I had no knowledge of such a piece. He refused to give up the bad piece, but I believed me an "easy thing."

A few days later I was summoned before the alderman of the Eighth ward and after hearing both sides of his meretricious case, imagine my surprise when no less a person than this alderman advised me to pay the old man good money for his dependents. Certainly I refused to do so. After telling the alderman that no self-respecting man would submit to such bull-dozing I was dismissed for the present at least.

Now whether the old man was "working" me or not is of no particular consequence, but I cannot understand the alderman's advice. It recalls to mind the hundreds of poor Hungarians, Italians and Poles who are sought unmercifully by the justice (7) of the peace. Thousands of dollars are wasted in fees to aldermen in this city, the fees being properly always charged up to the party from whom they can be collected whether he is guilty or not. One question whether the fee system is not a miserable failure applied to any of our cities. Will an alderman give decision against the man who brings him his living? There is food for thought in the remarks of a friend, "Why do we have aldermen anyway?" U. N. Perry.
