CARBONDALE.

ALEXANDER FOR MAYOR.

Harmonious Convention of Local Republicans Last Night.

The Republican party of Carbondale, which has been in disruption for the past four or five years, held a convention in Burke's hall last evening without a hitch. J. M. Alexander was nominated for mayor, Louis Gramer for treasurer and J. M. Stewart for controller—all by acclamation. Frank Smith, who was named by George Evans for controller, said: "Mr. Chairman, I respectfully decline."

Organization was effected by making Hon. S. J. Jones permanent chairman and George Evans and Eugene Hudson permanent secretaries. Upon taking the chair Mr. Jones made a neat little speech in which he emphasized the importance of money. He urged the setting aside of personal preferences and the working for party victory. His remarks were received in a manner indicating that the party will present a solid front in February.

It required four ballots to nominate three men for assessors: Angus Cameron, Robert Campbell, Thomas Scott, William Bate and John Wedeman were voted for. Bate received twenty-four votes, which was the number of delegates present, on first ballot, and was declared nominated. Scott had sixteen, Cameron 8 and Campbell and Wedeman were tied at 12. On second ballot Bate's name was dropped, but the other three stood the same. On third ballot Cameron was declared out of the race and there was again a tie between Campbell and Wedeman. On the fourth ballot Henry Becker changed his vote and the result was announced 15 to 11 in Campbell's favor. At this juncture R. D. Stewart introduced the Crawford county rules, and their reading was commenced. Only ward offices remained to be filled out.

CHANGE IN REPERTOIRE.

A large number of our home talent Mikado company have asked the management of the Grand to change the Mikado to Wednesday evening instead of matinee. There is also another party who requests the "Bohemian Girl" be sung Thursday night instead of Wednesday night. The changes have been granted. The repertoire for the balance of the week is as follows: Wednesday matinee, "Paul Jones"; Wednesday night, "The Mikado"; Thursday matinee, "Maritana"; Thursday night, "The Bohemian Girl"; Friday matinee, "Girofle Girofle"; Friday night, "H. M. S. Pinafore" and Cavalleria Rusticana; Saturday matinee, "Two Vagabonds"; Saturday night, "Said Pasha."

WRECK AT NO. 1 MINE.

There was an expensive wreck at the Delaware and Hudson company's No. 1 mine yesterday morning. As the loaded trip of cars was ascending the plane from the old slope and when it was just on the outside of the new horse shoe recently erected, the connecting link between the first and second cars broke. The rear portion of the trip, consisting of six loaded cars, descended the slope again, running with fearful velocity to the bottom and tearing up the tracks. The six cars were smashed into fragments and the accident caused a delay of over two hours.

La Grippe Successfully Treated.

"I have just recovered from the second attack of a grippé this year," says Mr. James A. Jones, publisher of the Leader, Mexico, Texas. "In the latter case I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and I think with considerable success, only being in bed a little over two days against two days for the former attack. The second attack I am satisfied would have been equally as bad as the first but for the use of this remedy as I had to go to bed in about six hours after being 'struck' with it, while in the first case I was able to attend to business about two days before getting down." For sale by all druggists. Matthews Bros. Wholesale and retail agents.

La Grippe

Do your bones ache? Feel chilly at times? Been getting nervous of late? Somehow you think of the grip at once.

You know it's a disease for the weak, not the strong. A weakened body can't master the germs of the disease. Make yourself strong. Take Scott's Emulsion.

Rich blood and steady nerves make the best preventive.

After an attack, Scott's Emulsion lifts that terrible depression, and cures that tickling cough. 50c. and $1.00.

PECKVILLE.

Chicken thieves still flourish within the confines of our borough. The latest visit was on Sunday night, F. G. Hurd, who conducts a meat market on Academy street, was the loser. Last Friday night they raided the same roost and made off with a large number of chickens. On Sunday night the sneak thieves secured thirty-three chickens and six turkeys. The loss to Mr. Hurd will be about $20 for the two turkeys. For the past two weeks thieves have deplored chicken coops and in all that time not a person has been captured. Many of the coops raised were wired and a burglar alarm attached, so as to ring a bell in the owner's home. Others have had guns set to shoot the thieves as they opened a door, and in one case a stick of dynamite with cap was fixed so that it would explode when the door of the coop was opened. But in every case the alarms failed to work. The thieves stole the set guns along with the chickens. The thieves have been shot at several times, but they are still rampant and their vobnoxious visits are regular each week.

On Saturday morning last a middle aged man named John Onslauer, who is employed at the Clifford colliery, received quite a severe injury while walking under the trestling that runs from the shaft to the breaker a piece of coal fell from the top of the trestling and struck the man on the head, inflicting a very severe wound. He was taken to the Emergency hospital at Carbondale. The rumor that he died there was generally circulated in Forest City Monday and yesterday, but it had no foundation as the man was not dangerously injured and in all probability will be around again in a short time.

PITTSBURGH NEWS.

Fatal Accident in No. 9 Shaft—A Serious Runaway Last Night. Dives That Should Be Cleaned Out. Complaints—and many of them—come from the residents in the vicinity of the old sand banks, and upon a little investigation they are found to be not without foundation. In that locality there are two buildings of the old-fashioned sort, one built by Italians and the other by Africans, and the orgies indulged in by the inmates several times a week ought to be stopped. Free-for-all fights are a common occurrence, and the situation has become unbearable to those who live here.

J. Harry Bryden, who for several years has been interested in the oil business in this city, has removed this interest to Altoona and has gone to that city to assume his new duties. His family will continue to reside on the West Side until the spring. Mr. Bryden is the son of John A. Bryden, of the Miners' bank, and his wife is the youngest daughter of the late Hon. Thomas Waddell.

A. B. Brown, who has purchased the Waddell homestead on Susquehanna avenue, will spend several thousand dollars upon interior improvements, and when complete will occupy one of the most handsome and valuable residences on the West Side.

Patrick Gallagher, of Oregon, who with that spirit of go-ahead-iveness to rise higher in the world than this city would allow him, took his departure for Colorado last night, and will grow up with that locality.

William Gerrity, a former Pittston boy, but who is now a prominent citizen of Omaha, returned to the latter place yesterday, after a pleasant visit with relatives and numerous old acquaintances.

The funeral of James Grier, who was killed on last Monday in the Butler colliery, will take place tomorrow morning. The deceased was advanced in years, had raised a large and interesting family, and his sudden death in the manner it happened is very sad, from the fact that he had almost concluded to quit work after a half a century of honest toil.

A. F. Siebel, of Wilkes-Barre, spent yesterday in this city, which was his former home.

The condition of the Very Rev. John Flanagan remains unchanged, and in his battle for life he has the sympathy of the community, regardless of creed or nationality. That he may yet be spared for years of usefulness and later a term of rest from his many years of arduous work among the members of his large congregation is the sincere wish of his numerous friends.

Although the duldest days of the month Music hall attracted a good audience when the Shearer repertoire company presented "The Villain's Wife." Several good specialties were seen between the acts, and was a comedian of no mean pretensions. There will be a matinee this afternoon.

The condition of Arthur Bullard, who was struck by an engine of the Erie and Wyoming Valley and thrown down an embankment, is now not considered necessarily fatal. He was badly cut about the head, and it was at first thought that his skull was fractured.

A county convention of the Women's Christian Temperance union was held yesterday afternoon in the Broad Street Methodist church and a review of the past year's work was carefully considered. Mrs. Judge Cool, of the West Side, presided, and the visiting delegates were entertained by the local members, after the adjournment.

Perry Noll, who sustained a compound fracture of the arm through an accident, which befel him two weeks ago, is improving.

The removal of the Pittston library from the Miners' bank building to the West Side, has resulted in a spirit of interest that has taken that almost extinct institution in its grasp. Several large and valuable donations have been made since the new quarters have been occupied, and the rooms which are located in the Ernie block, is at all times open to the public. Donations of literature will be thankfully received.

Piper Munley has recovered from a serious attack of the prevailing epidemic, and is again on duty.

The select and common council met in joint session last evening for the purpose of considering the purchase of additional hoses for the several fire companies, also the purchase of a sweeper for the asphalt pavement. Several other matters were discussed and considered, but the above was the main object in calling together both branches of the council.

John O'Boyle, a miner employed in No. 9 shaft of the Pennsylvania Coal company, and a resident of Seale street, met with a shocking death yesterday morning, while in pursuit of his accustomed duties. He had prepared a hole for a blast, and after lighting the fuse he had only got away several feet from the spot, when the shot went off and he was blown a considerable distance by the flying coal. His head was terribly crushed and he must have met his death instantly. The deceased was known as a quiet and very respectable citizen, and at the shaft one of their most experienced miners; and how the match had ignited the fuse before he had time to get out of the way, is but another of those unforeseen circumstances that are occasionally recorded. He was a member of the St. Aloysius society and Nos. 9 and 1 Shaft Keg fund. He leaves a wife and several children.

A little daughter of Robert Leighton, aged about two years, died yesterday morning after a short illness.

Taxidermist Campbell is mounting a wild turkey, which was shot by James Corcoran in the Pocono mountains last week. His gobshere weighed twenty-four pounds.

The trial list for the January term of common pleas court is as follows: M. J. Morgan vs. Charles Kern, issue; Henry Harding vs. F. W. Allhouse, issue; Farmers' bank of Springville, N. Y. vs. J. H. Lyman et al., assumpsit; E. J. White estate vs. L. M. Potter, appeal; John Trowbridge vs. S. A. Adams, appeal. This list will be called on Monday, Jan. 23, at 2 p. m., at which time all subpoenas for that week are returnable. In connection with one of the above cases the following from the New Age will be of interest: "The famous 'horse case' is now practically settled, the Springville, N. Y., bank officials having made a proposition which the defendants accepted, and the money, $1,000, is paid into the hands of attorneys, who are to complete the transfer of papers and money. The case grew out of a sale of a blooded horse to a syndicate of Wyoming county farmers and others upon the assurance that it could be made profitable for breeding purposes. A few of the purchasers paid cash for their shares in the animal, but the balance was signed a joint note. The note was eventually turned over to a national bank at Springville, N. Y., the officers of which appeared on the scene in pursuit of its collection when due. In the meantime it is alleged that the horse was of very ordinary lineage and worth little if any more than any team horse of plain blood. The signers of the note therefore resolved to resist payment. The case went into court, the main issue being the question of whether the note was negotiable property. A verdict for the defendants was there obtained, but the bank officials then appealed to the supreme court, where after a year's delay the decision of the lower court was reversed; the chief justice dissenting from this opinion. A year later a re-argument of the case before the supreme court was ordered, but this was never signed its final disposition now, in the manner above mentioned, is a source of satisfaction to all concerned."

Archie Betts, a former Tunkhanock boy, who is engaged in business at Nicholson, was here on Sunday to visit his parents.

C. George Little, a Scranton attorney, spent Sunday in town.

Miss Evelyn Sicker, who has been acting in the capacity of stenographer for Paul Billings and Company for last two years, has resigned her position and leaves for her home in Binghamton.

Mrs. N. G. Graham, who has been ill for some time, is slightly better. Her granddaughter, Mrs. Rice, of Scranton, is with her.

James Bunnell, father of Hon. F. C. Bunnell, of this place, and Nelson G. Bunnell, of Tunkhanock, had been very sick at his home in the second ward. He shows no improvement, and as he is well along in years, his recovery is doubtful.

Chairman Jordan, of the Republican county committee, has issued a call for a meeting of the committee on Saturday, Jan. 21, for the purpose of electing a county chairman.

"We began to use it and experienced such wonderful results that since then Pe-ru-na has become our favorite medicine for influenza, catarrh, coughs, colds and bronchitis. "SISTERS OF ST. FRANCIS, "St. Vincent's Orphan Asylum," CHARLESTON, W. Va., March 9, '98. The Pe-ru-na Drug Manufacturing Co., Columbus, Ohio: Gentlemen—I can recommend your preparation, Pe-ru-na, as a tonic. Its reputation as a cure for catarrh is excellent, it having been used by a number of people known to me with the very best results. Very truly, G. W. ATKINSON, Dr. Hartman, one of the best known physicians and surgeons in the United States, was the first man to formulate Pe-ru-na. It was through his genius and perseverance that it was introduced to the medical profession of this country.
