DEATH OF WALTON LEE.

Robbed of Life at Threshold of Manhood—Estimable Character.
Walton Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Lee, of Belmont street, whose probable death was announced in The Tribune a couple of days ago, succumbed to peritonitis Wednesday night. Intestinal perforation, following a severe attack of typhoid fever caused the trouble which robbed him of life at the threshold of manhood. Deceased was 19 years old and was born in the house where he died.
A few years ago he learned the lathers' trade, but recently he entered into the bicycle business. He was a young man of fine business instinct and unimpeachable integrity, and his untimely death is a positive loss to the community which sympathizes deeply with the bereaved parents. One sister, Miss Olive Lee and a brother, Percy Lee, of Cleveland, O., also mourn his loss. The latter business would be closed, for, did not arrive until yesterday.
The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock. Rev. G. A. Place, Ph. D., of the Methodist church, will officiate. Interment will be made in the Greenfield cemetery.

FERN HALL IN 1899.

It has been generally supposed that Fern Hall, Crystal lake, which was so successfully managed last season by Mr. and Mrs. William Thompson, now of Hotel Annapolis, would be abandoned by them in 1899. Such, however, is not the case. The owner of the popular summer resort announced yesterday that Martha C. and Mrs. Sylvester Johnson will conduct the house. There will be no bar and rates will be made popular.

TAYLOR NEWS.

This Evening's Event—Receptions Tendered—Personal News.
The entertainment and supper which is to be held at the Methodist Episcopal church this evening promises to be a first class affair. The young men who have charge have prepared no reasonable effort to obtain good results. The purpose of this undertaking is to acquire funds with which to replenish the church treasury. The following is the programme: selection on phonograph, male quartette, Messrs. notice inviting you to a dance. Sleighting is excellent: lumbermen and others are enjoying it. A large ice crop has been gathered, which was never better. Business at our opera house is at low tide; hardly know we have one. Our young soldiers are much elated by the prospect of a trip to Harrisburg at the expense of Uncle Sam. Eggs are scarce, but picking fishing is good. The Delaware and Hudson restaurant was a welcome visitor yesterday. The next pay in Honesdale will be very light. The shoe factories that have been idle for the annual inventory are starting up this week. Special services are being held in the Presbyterian chapel this week. The glass cutting shops have resumed work.

PITTSTON NEWS

The Exeter Club Reception and Banquet—The Elks and Their New Home—The Sewer Problem, Marriages, Deaths, and the Local Girl of Yesterday About the City.
One of the most brilliant social events that has ever occurred in this city was the first reception held by the Exeter club in their handsome building on Luzerne street, on the West Side, last evening. Upwards of two hundred guests arrived and took possession of the room. Previous to the arrival of the first delegation a large canopy had been erected from the club house to the curb, while the front of the building was illuminated with hundreds of incandescent lights of every hue and color. The interior showed the handicraft work of the ladies in floral decorations. The reception hall and the adjoining apartments were bowered with beauty, while the grand staircase was entwined with festoons of evergreens and potted plants. When the guests arrived they were received by the reception committee, and the quickly accepted the opportunity of an inspection of the members' cozy den. At ten o'clock Oppenheim's orchestra enhanced the interest of the occasion with delightful music, and until midnight the lovers of tempore glided over the glossy surface of the floor in the beautiful ball room. Dora Lee served a buffet lunch of the most appetizing kind and this was followed until an early hour this morning with an excellent programme of dancing and music. The costumes of the ladies were creations of loveliness. The guests present besides those from the east and west sides, represented New York, Philadelphia, Scranton, Carbondale, Wilkes-Barre and many other towns up and down the valley.
The Elks of this city are busily engaged transforming the Butler House block, which they have leased for a term of years, into a paradise, and the "den," as they probably will name it, will be most of the most elaborate and cozy places of meeting in the city. The membership, who comprise the best talent of this place, will leave nothing undone to add to its attractiveness and comfort. The housewarming, which will take place about Feb. 1, will be a surprise of the agreeable sort to those who will be invited with an invitation. Sterner Hahn will be placed in charge of the premises when the improvements are completed.

TUNKHANNOCK.

Attorneys James E. Freat, C. A. Derelimer, James W. Platt, E. J. Jarden, W. E. Little, C. A. Little and Charles E. Terry, of the Wyoming county bar, are in attendance at the session of the superior court in Scranton this week. There were only three cases to come up from this county at this term; Charles Allen vs. Hetsay Frost, trespass, from North Branch township; Myrtle I. Lindsey vs. Susquehanna Mutual Fire Insurance company, assumpsit; from Factoryville borough, in which there was a verdict for the plaintiff for the full amount of her claim; and Commonwealth vs. Fred L. Jayne, in which Solomon Turner is the prosecutor. The latter case grew out of an altercation during the 1897 fair of the Wyoming County Agricultural society, where Jayne was acting as a policeman and Turner as a back driver. The prosecution was for assault and battery, and at the trial there was a verdict of guilty. The Wyoming county cases came up on Thursday morning.
The Seventh regiment, N. G. P., has received orders to parade at Harrisburg on the occasion of the inauguration of Governor-elect William A. Stone. K company, of this place, will leave Tunkhannock on the 618 train Monday evening, reporting in the armory at Wilkes-Barre. Major William N. Reynolds, 3d, of the Third battalion, was formerly first lieutenant of K company, and H. D. Dean, of Tunkhannock, is sergeant major of the same battalion. This will be the first appearance of the regiment since organization.

At the meeting of the town council on Tuesday evening the regular routine business was transacted. The bill of the Electric Light company for making some changes in the incandescent electric lights was reduced by them from $75 to $50, and at that figure was paid. The bill of the same company for lighting the borough for the month of December, $83.33, was presented and ordered paid. A. H. Squier, manager of the company, was present and made a proposition to light the borough with forty-five incandescent lights for $900 or fifty for $1,000. The last year's contract was for twenty-two incandescent and eight arc lights. The council took no action in the matter, but adjourned to meet on Friday evening.

La Grippe Successfully Treated.

"I have just recovered from the second attack of la grippe this year," says Mr. James A. Jones, publisher of the Leader, Mexia, Texas. "In the latter case I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and I think with considerable success, only being in bed a little over two days against two days for the former attack. The second attack I am satisfied would have been equally as bad as the first but for the use of this remedy as I had to go to bed in about six hours after being 'struck' with it, while in the first case I was able to attend to business about two days before getting down."
