WERE MARRIED AT SHERRY'S, NEW YORK

LONG-DITTENHOEFER NUP-TIALS A BRILLIANT AFFAIR.

Ceremony Was Performed by Rev. Dr. Gotthel in the Private Banqueting Room, Which Was Beautifully Decorated—Wedding Breakfast Served in the Banquet Room and Was Followed by a Reception and Congratulatory Addresses. Marriage Was a Notable Event.

The marriage of Miss Clara Dittenhoefer, of New York city, to Mr. Bernhard Long, of Wilkes-Barre, was solemnized at Sherry's in New York at 12.50 yesterday afternoon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Gotthel. Immediately after the ceremony, refreshments were served by the famous Sherry, and this was with all a most elaborate and dainty affair, and was followed by the presentation of gifts as one of the most enjoyable functions of the season. The bride is the daughter of Mr. Meyer Dittenhoefer, president of the Vulcanite Rubber Company, and a niece of ex-Judge Dittenhoefer. The groom is a member of the firm of John Long & Sons, conducting the largest department stores in Northeastern Pennsylvania, located at Wilkes-Barre and Scranton. Mr. Long is also identified with a number of financial and mercantile industries of the "Ironing Valley," notably as director of the Anthracite Savings Bank of Wilkes-Barre and treasurer of the Wilkes-Barre school board. His home is at the family residence, 31 River street, Wilkes-Barre.

The wedding was a most notable event. The society and the most enjoyable affair to those who participated; it was elaborate and beautiful. Everything in nature seemed to smile for the charming bride and groom upon their wedding morning. It was an ideal day and seemed to lend its exultant charm to the auspicious occasion. It was a fashionable affair that assembled at Sherry's, Fifth Avenue and Fourty-Fourth street, before the hour announced and waited the arrival of the wedding party.

THE BRIDAL PROCESSION. At the opening hour the strains of the beautiful nuptial march from Lohengrin, announced the beginning of the wedding procession. The wedding procession was preceded by the ushers and then followed the bride, leaning on the arm of her father, then came the maid of honor and the groom was accompanied by his best man, Louis Long, of New York city. When the last notes of the wedding march had faded away, Rabbi Gotthel pronounced the words that sealed the holy tie that bind this happy couple for life.

The ceremony being over, the orchestra played the Recessional by Mendelssohn. At the conclusion of the wedding breakfast the reception was continued until 5.30 in the afternoon. The wedding tour will be an extensive trip through the south.

At the closing hour the strains of the beautiful nuptial march from Lohengrin, announced the beginning of the wedding procession. The wedding procession was preceded by the ushers and then followed the bride, leaning on the arm of her father, then came the maid of honor and the groom was accompanied by his best man, Louis Long, of New York city. When the last notes of the wedding march had faded away, Rabbi Gotthel pronounced the words that sealed the holy tie that bind this happy couple for life.

THE BRIDE'S GOWN. The bride's gown was the consummation of all the most beautiful in the mantua maker's art. With all its grandeur it was fittingly graced by the charming bride, who received her congratulations with the grace of a queen. The wedding presents were numerous and valuable and made a most elaborate display. Particularly among them was a solid silver tea set presented by the employees of the Wilkes-Barre and Scranton stores. The wedding ceremony was beautiful and impressive and was solemnized by the Rev. Doctor Gotthel, under a shower of exquisite palms, intertwined with arches of red roses with a huge marriage bell suspended from above. The marriage ceremony was held in the private banquet room at Sherry's, the entire room being beautifully decorated. The wedding breakfast was also served in the banquet hall. The breakfast continued until 3 o'clock, when the reception began, continuing until 5.30.

PRECEDED BY THE USHERS. The procession was preceded by the eight ushers, Mr. Edward H. Shurman, Mr. B. Shurman, Mr. M. Goodkin, Mr. H. Shurman, Mr. Theodore Weil, Mr. L. Dittenhoefer, Mr. and Mrs. Schoneborn, of New York, Mr. A. Long, of Scranton, Mr. Edward Long, of Wilkes-Barre. Following the ushers came Mrs. Jones Long leaning on the arm of the groom, Mr. Bernhard Long. Then came Mrs. Meyer Dittenhoefer and Mrs. Charles J. Long. Mrs. Alice Dittenhoefer, the maid of honor and Miss Clara Dittenhoefer, the bride leaning on the arm of her father, Mr. Meyer Dittenhoefer. At the conclusion of the breakfast, congratulatory speeches were made by D. R. Sharps, esq., H. H. Sherman, esq., Meyer Dittenhoefer, esq., and Charles J. Long. The toast master was Mr. S. D. Rosenbaum, of New York. Numerous telegrams were received from various cities of this country and Europe.

ACTION POSTPONED ON THE M'ANDREW MEASURE.

The Resolution Forbidding Police Officers from Doing Electioneering and Protecting Them in Their Refusal to Do Campaign Work Was Thought to Be Illegal by Common Councilmen and Killed—Mr. Chittenden Wants City to Have Interest on Balances in Hands of Treasurer and Solicitor.

The action was taken on a motion by Mr. Walker. He held that the government of the police force is regulated by an ordinance and as an ordinance cannot be revoked or amended by resolution. The McAndrew measure was out of order.

Mr. Catlin held that the resolution should not be construed to be a revocation or amendment of the police ordinance, but if the chair deemed it such, the chair should refer to entertain it. Chairman Mott declined to take upon himself the responsibility of disposing of the measure. Mr. Jackson held views similar to Mr. Walker's and Mr. Sheridan said it was plain on the face of it that the resolution was illegal and should be declared such by the chair.

FIRE IN HOTEL JERMYN.

Guests Calmly Dined While the Basement Burned.

Scranton is very much twentieth century. In days of yore nothing, scarcely, caused a greater commotion than a house afire. Nowadays, with our fire proof buildings and scientific fire fighting apparatus, a house afire is a matter of very small moment.

Yesterday afternoon at 5.50 o'clock flames were discovered in the basement of Hotel Jermyin. They burned fiercely and were not totally subdued for nearly an hour. At 6 o'clock the dining room was opened and the guests sat down to their meal, totally unconcerned about the blaze in the basement, although the smoke that curled up past the windows and made itself known through the officious sense throughout the corridors must have appraised every one within of the fact that the house was afire. A little thing like that, though, didn't interfere with their appetites.

The fire was in a pile of boxes and timber stored in the basement at the northwest corner of the building. There was no great danger at any time of the flames communicating to the building, but there was fear that the electric wires thereabouts would be melted and some of the circuits thereby cut off.

The Phoenix Chemical company which was summoned by telephone prevented this and the damage in consequence was confined to the value of the wood that was consumed.

MRS. DE LACY LAID AT REST

Funeral from Home of Her Son Yesterday Morning.

From her home in New Street the funeral of Mrs. Catherine De Lacy, mother of Captain P. De Lacy, took place yesterday morning. The old homestead and its surroundings were thronged by friends and neighbors who were present to pay the final mark of respect to her memory. At 9 o'clock the casket was closed and the long procession moved to St. Peter's cathedral, where a high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. P. J. Gough.

At the close of the services the remains were borne to the Dunmore Catholic cemetery where interment was made. The pall bearers were the grandchildren of the deceased: Patrick Quinn, of Portland, Pa.; William Quinn, of Pittston; John Slight, of Clark's Summit; Henry Slight, of De Lacy and Dr. W. P. De Lacy, of this city.

MRS. WILSON DISCHARGED. No One Appeared to Testify Against Her.

Mrs. Laurita Wilson, who was arrested Wednesday night at North Scranton for trying to pass a counterfeit silver dollar, was discharged yesterday by United States Commissioner Black.

"The woman was not just right," said the commissioner in discussing his action, "and we could not hold her even if evidence had been offered against her. I kept her for an hour after the time fixed for the hearing and no one appeared to testify against her so I told her to go."

Mrs. Wilson lives with her husband near Richman Park and a week ago succeeded in passing a bad fifty cent piece on Mrs. Perry who has a small store on N. W. Avenue. She returned Wednesday and tried to pass the imitation silver dollar on Mrs. Perry. Her arrest followed. The coins are about as crude as anything ever seen in this region. An effort will be made to find out who made them.

OFFICERS ROUGHLY HANDLED

Attempted to Arrest a Bad Man Down in Taylor.

While attempting to arrest a Taylor Hunter named Joseph Demko, Wednesday night, Constable John Walsh and his deputy, Jacob Newman, of the Sixth ward, were set upon by a crowd of Demko's countrymen and very roughly handled. Walsh is still in bed as the result of the beating he received.

Demko was wanted for committing a vicious assault on Joseph Shooohoda, a constable and neighbor in upper Taylor, Tuesday night. When the officers called for him at his home, Wednesday night, he made no effort to resist arrest, but upon reaching the street he broke away, and, running to a house across the way, summoned help from a crowd of his friends. The constables tried to retake Demko and were set upon by the whole crowd. Demko got away and is still at liberty. Efforts are being made to apprehend him and the other assailants.

JOYCE JURY FINDS IT HARD TO AGREE

CITY IS THE DEFENDANT IN THE ACTION.

Son-in-Law of One of the Attorneys for the Defendant Was on the Jury and at the Suggestion of the City Solicitor He Was Withdrawn. That Did Not Help the Jurors Out of the Embarrassing Position in Which They Are Lodged.

There is a deadlock at the court house. The jury in the case of Honor Joyce against the city of Scranton for alleged damages to her property on Ninth street, resulting from the building of the Robinson street retaining wall, were still out at adjourning time yesterday, after having been in deliberation since 11.30 o'clock Wednesday morning. It was reported about the court house that the vote stood eleven to one in favor of the plaintiff.

During the morning City Solicitor McGinley learned that one of the jurors, E. D. Cary, is a son-in-law of J. H. Burns, who, with Attorney C. Conroy, represents the plaintiff. Judge Archibald's attention was called to the matter, and after some suggestion it was agreed, on the suggestion of Mr. Burns, that the objection should be withdrawn and the case allowed to proceed with seven jurors. Mr. Cary was withdrawn, but it was evident that he was not the obstinate juror, as the deadlock continued.

The suit of John S. Luce and the Scranton Knitting company against the City of Scranton was also on the agenda. Sheriff John J. Fahey was called for trial before Judge Yerkes in court room No. 2 yesterday morning.

CAUSE OF ACTION.

In 1894 the knitting company was located in the Howly building, at the corner of Penn Avenue and Mulberry street. The company when moving out attempted to take with it a stationary engine and boiler to which John J. Howley laid claim. The matter was tested before a jury and the verdict was for the knitting company, damages being awarded in the sum of $33.53.

When the engine was replevined by Mr. Howley he gave a $400 indemnity bond to Justice of the Peace J. H. Howley, who was then sheriff and who served the writ of replevin. The knitting company made a demand upon the sheriff for the indemnifying bond, alleging that the verdict carried with it the value of the property in addition to the $33.53 damages. Mr. Howley gave notice to the sheriff not to surrender the machinery to the company, but that it was refused. The sheriff refused to give over the bond and suit was brought to compel him.

When the plaintiff's case had been presented yesterday, E. C. Newcomb, attorney for the defense, moved for a non-suit on the ground that he was in no wise liable, having performed his duty regularly. Judge Yerkes granted the motion, but the suit was continued with Mr. Howley as defendant. The case was given to the jury at adjourning time.

WILLIAMS AGAINST MEARS.

The case of E. S. Williams against John A. Mears for a balance of $258.81, claimed to be due on the excavating for the Mears' building, was also proceeded with yesterday with eleven jurors, one of the jurymen, Charles W. Simrel, falling to show up when the case was resumed yesterday morning. The case went to the jury at adjourning time.

After less than an hour's deliberation with the jury in the case of Catherine Bittenbender against William Koch, returned a verdict for the defendant. This is the suit in which Mr. Koch contested payment of a note on which he was surety, on the ground that the plaintiff had failed in an agreement to keep it alive against the principals.
