The result of the recent primaries have, from all indications, hopelessly wrecked the few remaining fragments of the once powerful factor in Lackawanna politics. It appears the aspirants for the supervisorship in both districts were not satisfied with the result and the friends of the unsuccess ful candidates have openly charged the boards with irregularities. A rumor is now going the rounds that John Nee and Thomas Butler will file nomination papers. The latter move will in all probability form a nucleus for an independent ticket. The Republicans have not issued a call for the conferces to meet yet. Mr. and Mrs. John Walsh, of Pittson, spent yesterday with friends on Main stheet.
