Bishop Hartzell, of the Methodist Episcopal church, recently sailed for England, where he will remain for a few days, and then go to Liberia and begin his second episcopal tour of Africa. Bishop Hartzell's visit to this country has been regarded by him as a most profitable one and he is greatly encouraged in his work. He is now sending out ten additional missionaries to Liberia, all of whom are from leading schools in the South, for the education of the negro. A printing outfit costing $3,000 has been shipped to Monrovia, the capital of Liberia, and among other publications there will be issued a monthly paper to be known as the New Africa. The mission press will be in charge of an educated negro from the South, and the work will be done in one of the industrial departments of the College of West Africa. The bishop also is sending out additional missionaries to Angola and Portuguese South Africa, south of the Saturday evening.

Providence Methodist Episcopal Church the publication of hymns, tracts, books and the Scriptures in the Kimbundu language, at Malange. His plans in Eastern Rhodesia, in British South Africa, include the establishment of work among both European and native people. Two missionaries already are on the ground, and have accepted concessions in lands and buildings, amounting to fully $40,000.

According to Mrs. K. H. Sherman, of the Jewish Publication society of America, work on a new translation of the Bible for English-speaking Jews is well under way. Mrs. Sherman says this work is expected to mark an important advance in Biblical knowledge as there is in command of the scholars employed on it a mine of Talmudic and Rabbinical literature, in which lie buried 'rich veins of tradition, contemporaneous records, casual notes, wondering and wonderful observations and venerable myth and leg and." She "The existing Christian translations of the Bible into English and German were largely influenced by the writings of our great Jewish commentators. It is fitting, therefore, since the time has come for a revision of these translations, that Jewish scholarship shall contribute its share to the era of Biblical work which lies before us."

A letter received in New York from the Rev. William H. Judge, S.J., who has charge of St. Mary's hospital at Dawson City, phows that the Roman Catholic church in the Klondike is prospering. Father Judge says that there is a very fine new church at Dawson City that cost $25,000 and was the gift of one Alexander McDonald. It was consecrated on August 31st and was then turned over to the Oblates of Mary, who now have charge of the parish. There are from 500 to 600 at mass every Sunday. Father Judge says that there will be about 15,000 people in Dawson City during the winter. "It is sad." he says, "to see how many poor persons have left good homes to come here, and find themselves without the necessaries of life, without money and without work. I fear there will be much suffering this winter. There are thousands still in tents and winter is on us."
