All three are very pleasant halluci-nations, wicked Bre'r Haines! Bre'r Haines is some enough on the hosiery question. His ballucinations are that he is a magnificent "catch," and that he is slated to wear wings, whereas every time a Honesdate Home Missionary society sees him it knows that it is neglecting business. ## RAILROAD ECHOES.

Susquehannites are trying to resuscitate the Tunkhannock-Nicholson Lanesboro railroad scheme again. So far as this end of the line is concerned the project is as dead as hay.-Tunkhannock New Age. So soon done for. what was it begun for?

George H. Goodell, Eric mechanical engineer in this place, has resigned to accept a like position with the Northern Pacific road at St. Paul.

There are rumors of impending important changes in the officiary of the motive power department of the Eric. Jefferson Division Superintendent Dow, of the Erie, has recovered from a severe attack of grip.

Elmer E. Tingley, formerly of Susdispatcher of the Delaware division of the Erie, to succeed the late James H. Glasier, Mr. Tingley, who is a firstclass railroad man, is a son of Dr. H. A. Tingley, of this place.

Several cars of a Jefferson division Erie coal train were smashed at Jefferson Junction on Friday evening. The Eric is enjoying a heavy coal and freight traffic

MERELY A SUGGESTION.

Once or twice a year Honesdale newspapers report the important and encouraging fact that about $2,000,000-be the same more or less-are locked up in the bank vaults in that borough. Why not give the meney to the Erie? Then the Erie station might be remountain might be tunneled at Waymurt; Honesdale might become a division terminus, and the old town might take on a new lease of life. The staid old borough might awaken from its Rip Van Winkle slumber, and Br'er Haines might grow a new halo.

FLOTSAM AND JETSAM

Some of the church societies in Montrose have wished to wage war upon young Mormon missionaries now operating in that borough. It will be mighty hard to be driven out of such a fertile field-where "the harvest is loe and the laborers are few. The borough election is about month away, yet a horde of small fry politicians are already tumbling over each other in a mad and eager race to secure an office with no salary and tittle honor. What fools come mortals

HARD ON THE MOSQUITOES.

Last fall a man living near the Summit was bitten on the leg by a rattle snake. A doctor was at once sent for and the leg was bandaged tightly above the wound, although it was ex-pected that the man would die before medical assistance could be procured. The leg having been bared for the application of the bandage was attacked by mesquitoes, and when the physician quickly arrived, he found the man in good condition, but the ground where he lay was strewn with dead mesouitoes, but I presume the man's life was worth saving.

It is probable that Tim Hurley, of Susquehanna, and Dick Moore, of St. Paul, will mix up before the American Sperting club, in Scranton, March 17. The men will light at 158 pounds. Hurley has several engagements ahead, and may be expected to give a good account of himself, it is thought that when the Rondout, Port Jervis and Honesdale railroad is completed, it will eventually connect at Lanesboro with the Lanesboro, Nicholson and Tunkhannock road. It is the unanimous opinion among noted capitalists in New York. Honesdale and Stillwater that the only barrier to the successful completion of these roads is a lack of the essential funds. # THE MARKETS.

Wall Street Review.

New York, Jan. 24.-Enormous realzing and short sales today materially affected the quoted prices of stocks. The dealings were in excess of a milon and a third of shares and at no time did prices of the higher valued rail-road stocks reach yesterday's closing figures. Heavy sales in the early dealings were caused partly by the lower range of London quotations and there were numerous declines exceeding a point. A sharp upward movement followed. The trading element began to ell freely as the effect of heavy profit pour on the kitchen fire. Her funeral taking was appreciated. The market at first became dull, as prices receded, but the selling gradually assumed larger volume and quotations gradually tumbled away, eventually weakening practically, all stock traded in. In the absence of unfavorable news, the reaction was attributed to technical conditions. By reaching stop loss orders on the more active shares material slumps occurred in prices, with as much as a point or more difference in quotations between the transactions. The lowest prices of the day were made in the final hour, and selling at that time wiped out the gains in stocks made carrier in the day. Total calles were earlier in the day. Total sales were 1,382,984 shares.

was sewed to the remnant of the patient's scalp. In a few days the flesh of the man and that of the animal commenced to knit together and Crawford gradually recovered and ventured to his home. He was happy until ten days ago, when a portion of the scalp commenced to raise tiger cat fur; and now he expects to be compelled to have his head shaved once a week or wear a wig. Of late he has developed the habit of prowling about back yards at night and scrapping with predatory dogs in the side streets. Neighbors allege that he has commenced to haunt barns in search of rats and mice. Other stories are afloat, but some of them appear improbable. Crawford's friends are naturally alarmed at the new turn of affairs, and some noted specialists will be consulted in reference to the singular circumstance. There are few such cases upon record in medical works.
