As a result of an oll stove taking fire in an unaccountable manner in the bedroom of Mrs. Elizabeth Tilson, last evening, about 8.45 o'clock at her residence, 115 South Summer avenue, she is suffering from a very severe shock. Mrs. Scheltenberth, the nurse, is sever-ly burned about the hands and face, and the upper rooms of the residence are smoked and hurned to the extent of about $300 damage. This latter is fully covered by insurance

Prompt action on the part of Alex. Bender, a neighbor, in quickly bringing the Columbia Chemical company to the scene prevented the destruction of the dwelling, which is a double one story building. Charles Fraser and family residing in the other half. An unknown man quickly carried Mrs. Tilson, who has been seriously ill for nearly a monthlately having had pneumonia, from the house into Mr. Bender's next door at No. 112. The nurse escaped herself. Some one turned in an alarm from box 35, corner of Jackson street and Main avenue, and when the Pranklin's responded directed them to the scene of the fire. Their services were not needed, however, and it was well thus as the nearest hydrant was frozen.

Mrs. Tilson resides with her son-inlaw, Frank Shedd, and during her illness has been attended by Dr. F. C. Hall. Last evening she felt very much improved and Mr. and Mrs. Shedd stepped out for a short time to make a call, leaving the nurse in charge Everything went well until about 8.45 o'clock, when the nurse noticed the oil stove, which was used to keep a high temperature in the room, was acting wrong and suddenly blazed up. She promptly picked it up and started for the bath room which is in the rear of the house. She had hardly gotten out of the room before Mrs. Tilson sprang out of bed and hurried after her. The nurse got the stove into the bath room and then tried to get Mrs. Tilson back into bed. Meanwhile the nue from the Delaware, Lackawanna fiames had attacked the wood-work. Mrs. Schellenberth opened the window and screamed for help. Mr. Bender and the unknown man responded. The former went for the Chemicals and the latter huried into the burning house and carried Mrs. Tilson out. Dr. Hall was summoned, and found that she was suffering from shocks and chill, Up to a late hour she was unconscious. Mr. and Mrs. Shedd, who were only a short distance away, were soon at the bedside.

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Reese, of 215 North Hyde Park avenue, held a reception at their residence last evening from 8 to 10 o'clock. The affair was in honor of their daughter, Miss Bertha May, who will be married this morning at 9 o'clock to Dr. Henry Burt Stevens, of Boston, Mass.

The wedding will be a very quiet one only the immediate relatives of the ontracting parties being in attendince, hence the affair of last evening. Mrs. Reese received in the parlor, and vas assisted by her daughter, Mrs. N. W. Stevens, mother of Doctor Stevens; Mrs. D. W. Connolly, Mrs. Anna Barnes, cousins of the bride-elect Misses Susanne Barnes and Angelene Reese, Mrs. Reese wore black slik, as also did Mrs. Stevens; Miss Reese, the bride-elect, wore mouselin de soire,over rose silk. The other ladies were attired in becoming and appropriate gowns. Dr. Stevens was present.

The rooms were artistically decor ated by Clark, the florist, with palms, evergreens and cut flowers, Refreshments were served during the evening Mrs. Gomer Price and Mrs. W. C. Pric poured tea and the Misses Ella Williams, Florence Gibbs, Margaret Edwards and Helen Thnyer served. The affair passed off pleasantly and about 150 guests called to pay their respects.

NOT AN ORDINARY RUNAWAY. Many a slip and fall occurred on the sidewalks and streets of this side yesterday, owing to the thin glaze of ice ind snow which was spread over everything. Especially was this so on the paved streets, when the horses cere a little smooth-shod. An instance of the danger of such a condition of affairs occurred about noon on the hill which leads up West Lackawanna ave-and Western crossing. Going down the hill was a heavily loaded coal wagon and it pushed the norses the whole length out onto the tracks before the horses could get p footing, A collision was narrowly volded with a wagon loaded with feed in sacks, which was being bulled up the hill. This latter team got about three-quarters of the way up and one of the horses fell. The driver jumped off and chained the rear wheels to prevent the wagon going back. Bystanders assisting, both horses were unhitched and the prostrate horse gotten o its feet.

Meanwhile, some busybody loosened the chain and away the wagon coursed. The teamster, with rare presence of mind, grasped the tongue and success fully controlled the wagon's wild flight.
