CHURCH EDIFICE IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

FIRST BAPTIST CONGREGATION SUFFER A SEVERE LOSS.

Their House of Worship on Scranton Street, Together with Nearly All Its Contents, Is a Prey to the Flames-Loss About $11,000, on Which There Was $6,000 Insurance-Church Was Empty When the Fire Broke Out-Narrow Escape of Fire-Fighters.

Fire yesterday destroyed the pretty and commodious house of worship of the First Baptist church, on Scranton street. The loss was a total one none of the contents excepting the pulpit Bible and two chairs being saved from the flames.

The church was empty when the fire broke out. Sunday school was dismissed at 3.45 and about twenty min-utes later the sexton, William Jones, eked the doors and left for his home. The pastor, Rev. S. Frank Matthews.

and the Sunday school superintendent. Dr. B. G. Beddoe, left the church with the sexton, Rev. Mr. Matthews had just reached his home at 208 North Hyde Park avenue, three blocks away, when the alarm sounded.

The fire was discovered by some passeraby. They say that smoke was issuing from the roof and at the caves all along the front of the building when they first saw it, the densest volume being noticed at the northeast corner of the building, where the chimney emerges. An alarm was sounded from Box 35, corner of Main avenue and Jackson street, and later a second alarm brought the Hook and Ladder company, the Crystals and Nay Augs, out the work of the firemen was unavailing, so great a headway had been gained by the flames and so rapidly did the wooden structure burn.

SPREAD RAPIDLY. It appears the fire either started at the roof or ate its way thither immediately after breaking out and then pread rapidly along the shallow attic, which separated the ceiling of the auditorium from the roof. Though the two West Side companies made a very quick response, the structure was loomed before they arrived. The attic vas one mass of seething flames from end to end, as was shown by the glare through the fissures in the plastered ceiling, and as was indicated by the ongues of fire which thrust themselves forth from every point along the eaves. Half an hour after the fire was under ray the roof caved in and then the whole structure became prey to the flames. The front and side walls, and the lower portion of the steeple and turret, were left standing, but so badly were they damaged that they will scarcely do for firewood when they are The adjoining buildings escaped dithout damage. Superintendent of chools George Howell, whose resilence was separated from the church edifice by only about ten feet, sustained a slight less by reason of his cellar being flooded, but aside from this the neighbors were none the worse for

LOSS TO THE CHURCH.

The loss to the church is about $11,-A New York newspaper is making 000, about $6,600 of which will be borne munion set, a full set of dishes, table vare, range and kitchen utensils owned by the Ladies' Aid society and stored n the basement were some of the articles which foot up this latter loss.

Less than a year ago a part of the pasement was set apart for a library and fitted up with furniture and books at a large expense. All that was saved rom here were the books that are in circulation. The appurtenances of an ndustrial school, conducted by the Ladies' Ald society were also in the basement and are a total loss. Another item which figures in the loss is the fresco werk recently done on the ceiling at a cost of $375.

A number of the officers of the church and members of the fire department had an exciting experience and a narrow escape from serious injury or possible death when the roof ell in. As it was Common Councilman Joseph Oliver, a member of the Columbias, was painfully hurt and a number of others received some hard knocks by failing to get out of the way of the falling debris.

THE ROOF FELL.

They were in the auditorium attemptng to save some of the furniture or to carry hose to advantageous points James Eaton, A. B. Holmes, William Fowler and Randolph Jones were among those who had this experience, Later during the progress of the fire a state from the steeple struck Foreman James Beavers, of the Franklins, edgewise on top of his helmet, but

One of the happy con templations of the church members that one of the main features of the anniversary exercises would be the burning of the mortgage, there being but $2,000 of the bonded debt remain

At the conclusion of the regular service last evening at the South Main Avenue First Welsh Baptist church, : congregational meeting was held and resolutions of regret referring to the sad loss of the Scranton Street Baptist church congregation in the destruction of their church by fire a few hours previous. Benjamin Hughes presided and James A. Evans and James R. Hughes were appointed as the committee to draw up the resolutions. The resolutions conveyed sympathy and a proffer of the use of the church.

OTHER COMMUNICATIONS READ. Similar communications bearing upon the loss were sent from the congregations of the Simpson Methoand Plymouth Congregational churches. That of the former was signed by the pastor, Rev. J. B. Sweet, and H. D. Jones and W. W. Davis, of the official board. That of the latter was signed by the members of the board of trustees,

From the Penn Avenue Baptist church came the following:

Resolved, Having learned with profound sadness of the sudden calamity which has befallen the First Baptist church of Scranton, in the loss by fire of their commodious church edifice, we hereby express our prayerful and heartfelt sympathies to the earnest and faithful pastor and to the mother church in this hour of trial. We assure them of our deep interest in all their church life and proffer them such use of our church ap-pointment and other material and spiritual aid as may be within our power.

Though tried by fire we trust their faith in God may grow strong, the church continue a united, loyal body of Jesus Christ and their temple rise with greater glory from the ashes of the past. With Christian greetings, By order of the church, Robert F. Y. Pierce, Pastor,

H. J. Hall, Church Clerk. These communications were received at the meeting of the boards of trustees and deacons held last evening at the parsonage. The pastor, Rev. S. F. Matthews, presided and George Watkins acted as secretary. The members of the board of trustees are James M. Eaton, chairman: Charles Bush, Jabez Floyd, Evan Jones and Robert Peck-ins; of the board of deacons, John Owens, W. C. Davis, Randolph Jones, Charles Corliss, Dr. B. G. Beddoe and Charles P. Ashleman. There were others connected with the several church societies and the congregation who were present.

RECEIVED WITH GRATITUDE. The official members received these velcome messages of sympathy and profferment of assistance with deep gratitude. After considerable discus- labeled "Argument," signed by John G. ion, it was agreed to hold a meeting of the members of the congregation in the basement of the First Welsh Baptist church, on South Main avenue, this evening at 7.30 o'clock. Every member is urgently requested to attend, as ways and means will be considered. Pending further action,the members of the official board and the pastor of the afflicted congregation desire to express their deep appreciation inquiry outside the metropolis for a by insurance companies represented in of the many kind expressions of symclue in the new famous Adams poison- the Phillips & Holmes' agency. # MERITS NO LENIENCY

SO DECLARES JUDGE PURDY IN DISMISSING HIS PETITION.

The President Judge of Wayne County, Who Was the Choice of Mr. Smith Himself as Arbiter in His Proceedings for Reinstatement, Not Only Refused His Application for Readmission but Also Declines to Accept a Suggestion to Give Him Another Chance.

Cornellus Smith is not to be re-adnitted to the Lackawanna bar. In a engthy opinion, filed Saturday, President Judge George M. Purdy, of Wayne ounty, refuses Mr. Smith's petition for reinstatement, holding that the petitioner has not complied with the stipulations of the Supreme court, which onditionally limited his disbarment. The condition was that at the end of proper application asks for reinstatement, the court below should grant it; providing, in the meantime, nothing further appeared against his private or professional character than was apparent from the record before the Supreme court. At the expiration of the two years

Mr. Smith made formal application for Christ, reinstatement, and a rule was granted to show cause why the petition should not be allowed. Mr. Smith asked that the hearing might be had before some judge of an adjoining county and his request was granted, the local court certifying the case to President Judge Stanley J. Woodward, of Luzerne. Judge Woodward declined to take the matter in hand, saying that, to his mind, it was a case which only the Lackawanna judges, themselves, could Defeats De Oro in the Six Day Pool properly dispose of.

JUDGE PURDY SUGGESTED.

that the petitioner might have no cause for complaint, they adopted his sug-gestion that Judge Purdy be sought to Th dispose of the case. Judge Purdy agreed, and the matter was heard be- 189; Keogh, 145. fore him in December last.

Mr. Smith was charged at this hearing, by a committee representing the Luckawanna bar, with having continued in the very misconduct which brought about his disbarment. In support of their charge the committee presented articles, abusive of the court. contained in a Sunday paper, which Mr. Smith was accused of writing, and the authorship of which he would neither admit nor deny; the files in the suit against the Lehigh Valley company and others, in which the charges of corruption and dishonesty against the judges were reiterated in a most virulent manner; his paper book be-fore the Supreme court, which was even more scurrilous, and a paper Jennings, which was shoved through the door of Judge Gunster's chambers in August last.

This paper was quite as abusive as ing a knowledge of ancient and mythis Jennings' attorney, was held to be ings for electrical plants, for whole

REFUSED TO ANSWER

He was charged with its authorship and nithough he could have cleared himself of the charge by one word he refused to make answer one way or the other and advised Jennings also to refuse to disclose the identity of the auther. Of this Judge Purdy says: Were this a criminal prosecution he could not be compelled to give evidence against himself, nor would his failure or refusal so to do, create any legal presumption against him. But the rule cannot be invoked in his case; it is not a prosecution, but an investigation to ascertain whether his conduct since disbarment has been such as to entitle him to reinstatement." After discussing conditions under which the misconduct of an attorney may be excused Judge Purdy concluded: When an attorney coolly and deliber ately frames and pens or aids and assists in the preparation of, or without his protest, permits his client to present to the tion, charging the judges with wholesale feits the rights and privileges incident to his office, and this without regard to the truth or faisity of his charges. With this latter question we have nothing to do, but may remark in passing that it these judges, two of whom are filling the office for a second time, are the villains that this scurrilous paper charges, it is most wonderful anomaly that it should have been discovered by only one of th no hundred and fifty or more practi tioners before the courts over which the

NO FURTHER CLEMENCY. One of the committee of the Lackacanna bar in moving for the dismissal of Mr. Smith's petition, suggested, in charity, that the petitioner should be permitted to renew his application after another reasonable term of probation. This suggestion Judge Purdy de an opportunity to reinstate himself. The opinion in the case concludes with a formal order refusing the application for reinstatement and dismissing the petition.

Y. M. C. A. MEETING IN LYCEUM

Address Was Delivered by W. Fellows, of Fall River.

A large and attentive audience gath ered in the Lyceum at the Young Men's Christian association Gospel service yesterday afternoon. The services were opened by a delightful selection by the Association orchestra. The quartette and chorus choir of the Second Presbyterian church under the direction of J. M. Chance, sang the follow ing anthem in an artistic and very im pressive manner: "Brightest and Best of the Sons," by Dudley Buck; "Cross ing the Bar," by Schnecker, with violin obligate played by Mr. Wid-mayer, and "Seek Ye the Lord," by Roberts. The artistic singing of this excellent choir was a very impressive part of the service.

W. D. Fellows, secretary of the Fall River, Mass., association, gave the address. He is an earnest speaker, and two years from June 11, 1896-the date his voice was distinctly heard in all disbarment-if the petitioner on parts of the building. Taking for his subject "And he said tomorrow," he brought to the listening audience a Gospel message which was full of convincing truths and earnest appeals. The real life, which is lost in its usefulness by putting off until tomorrow was tellingly portrayed, and at the after meeting six young men accepted

Sunday by Sunday the interest is growing in this great effort of the association to bring the Gospel to young men. The next meeting will be addressed by Rev. Mr. Alrich, of the Grace Reformed Episcopal church, and Bauer's splendid military band will furnish the music.
