HIS SECOND OFFENSE.

Frank Gehrens Again Charged with Swindling.

Frank Gehrens, of Green Ridge, who seems to have a propensity for getting into trouble, was brought before Alderman Millar yesterday afternoon on information furnished by Clark & Scott, tobacconists. The charge preferred was that of swindling. It developed at the grip hearing that young Gebrens had gone to Clark & Scott's, and, representing himself as an employe of P. H. Durkin, the proprietor of the Grand Central hotel, obtained a quantity of tobacco valued at $8.45, having the same charged to Durkin. This hapened saveral days ago, and, when a bill for the goods was presented, the misrepresentation was discovered. Detective Silverburg made the arrest and Alderman Millar held Gehrens in bail for his appearance at court. Last fall, young Gebrens was arrested upon similar charge, preferred by several well-known firms of the city, but his mother begged so hard for his release modus operandi was similar in every da yevening. ANTONIO FERRERI DIES.

Was Injured in the Explosion at Elmhurst Reservoir.

Antonio Ferreri, the Italian laborer who was so horribly injured last Thursday morning by the accidental exploding of a stick of dynamite, while at work on the new pipe-line cutting at Elmhurst, died yesterday just before noon at the Lackawanna hospital, not having recovered consciousness since the accident.

Deceased suffered intense agony both from his severe wounds and from shock, the latter being probably the direct cause of Roberts' death. The coroner was notified, and, after viewing the remains, he gave permission for the relatives of the unfortunate man to have the body removed to his residence at Bunker Hill. Coroner Roberts will conduct an inquest next week. He is survived by a wife and two children.

John Cawley and Alexander Craig Crushed Beneath an Elevator in the South Mill-One Died Almost Instantly.

At the South mill of the Lackawanna Iron and Steel company a terrible accident occurred about 19 o'clock yesterday morning, which resulted in althe death of Alexander Craig several hours later. Both men were employed at the machine shop, but when the accident occurred they were working beneath one of the two elevators which run to the charging floor.

Cawley and Craig were in the elevator pit repairing the hand rope, by which the elevators are raised and lowered. They neglected to block the elevator, and in some manner the starting rope was pulled and the elevator on the side the men were working, came down on them. Cawley was crushed beneath it, but Craig managed to escape the direct force of the drop. It is expected that an answer will He shouted to some fellow workmen, and the men were quickly taken from

POOR BOARD IN A DEADLOCK ON CHAIRMANSHIP.

Mr. Brooks and Mr. Langstaff Each Received Three Votes, Messrs. Paine and Shotton Supporting Mr. Brooks, and Messrs. Murphy and Fuller Voting for Mr. Langstaff. Will Try It Again Next Friday Night-Six South Side Dependents Are Cut Off from Relief.

An attempt was made at reorganisation by the poor board yesterday, but it resulted in a deadlock, Messrs. Brooks and Langstaff each receiving three votes for chairman. An adjourn ment was made until next Friday night, by which time, it is thought the existing vacancy will be filled and the deciding vote at hand.

Mr. Fuller was named as temporary chairman, and upon taking his seat, announced that the election of a permanent chairman was in order. Shotton named Mr. Brooks, and Mr. Murphy nominated Mr. Langstaff. Messrs, Langsaff, Paine and Shotton voted for Mr. Brooks, Messrs. Brooks, Murphy and Fuller voted for Mr. Langstaff. "No election" was declared, and the routine business was proceeded with under the temporary organiza-

Twenty-two applicants for relief were heard. Nearly all of them were from the South Side district, formerly looked after by Mr. Terppe.

After Mr. Terppe's retirement the board decided to give his district a general overhauling, and with that end in view had the secretary notify all recipients of outdoor relief in the South Side district to appear before the board yesterday. Not all of them responded, but out of the eighteen who did come, six were adjudged undeserving of further assistance and had their affleyances discontinued.

MADE CAREFUL INVESTIGATION. The board arrived at its judgment in these cases from reports made by Secretary Langstaff, after personal investigations, from statements submitted by Mr. Terppe and from the applicants' answers to the questions with which they were plied when they came before the board.
