

WILL COME HOME AS A REGIMENT

NO DOUBT OF THAT IS NOW ENTERTAINED IN CAMP.

Mustering Officers Have Arrived in Camp and the Work of Getting the Books in Shape Will Begin Today. Full Text of the Order Directing the Mustering Out of the Men. All Quiet in Camp Yesterday—The Minnesota Men Closely Watched to Prevent an Outbreak.

Special to the Scranton Tribune. Camp MacKenzie, Augusta, Ga., Feb. 6.—All is now quiet in camp. Last night the Fifteenth Minnesota was closely watched and everything was in readiness at the first suspicion of another outbreak. Patrols heavily armed and armed with rifles were posted at convenient points. The city of Augusta, the town of Summerville and the surrounding country were cleared of soldiers and officers. No passes were issued and those that were issued were at once recalled. In this way the men kept in their company streets, and the most perfect control of the situation, that sense has returned and even the officers are now regretting their action. The homicide, Hadley, gave himself up yesterday and is now securely kept in the jail at Atlanta. The remains of the deceased soldier, Connell, will be sent to Stillwater, Minn. tomorrow. The mustering officers have arrived in camp and the work of formally making up the books will be begun tomorrow morning. Company C will then be relieved of provost duty and return to camp. All drilling is suspended. It is expected that the mustering will soon be turned in, the guns first. No doubt whatsoever is now entertained that the regiment will go home in a body. The men will have the advantage to be derived from being mustered out here and at the same time will start home in a body.

THEY WERE PLEASED.

If every member of the Thirtieth regiment had been condemned to perpetual slavery and the cruel decree then suddenly annulled, there could not have been felt by the men a more unbounded joy than was exhibited Thursday night when it was announced that the official order directing a mustering out were received and published by Colonel Courson. Such news was not entirely unexpected. It was a clear case wherein "coming events cast their shadows before." In the morning Colonel Courson rode past the camp of Company C, and remarked rather significantly: "Boys, I suspect that you will hardly do your twenty-one day tour of provost duty here." This, added to the rumors of the night before, made everybody expectant. Six hours afterwards the official message was received at the division headquarters by the adjutant general, Major F. S. Strong, and this was communicated to Colonel Courson a little later. The historic order which decided the fate of the Thirtieth and which acted on them like another declaration of independence, and, therefore, deserving of perpetuation, is as follows: Washington, D. C., Feb. 1, 1899. Commanding General United States Forces, Augusta, Ga. The secretary of war directs that you detail available regular army officers at once to inspect, correct and prepare the records of the First and Second and the Thirtieth Pennsylvania, necessary to the preparation of correct rolls for muster out of service, which the secretary of war should be wholly accomplished at Augusta, Ga., without further delay, according to provisions of general orders. All absentees from any cause whatever should be reported, and the service as of their organization and should be informed at once by the commanding officers concerned. Captain Frederick, chief mustering officer, state of Georgia, will be directed to supervise the work of mustering out of organizations designated by the secretary of war. The official message should be directed to report to him upon his arrival. The chief mustering officer will report directly to the adjutant general of the army and to the orders of the secretary of war. (Signed) H. C. Corbin, Adjutant General.

Owing to several vacancies, caused recently by reason of deaths and discharges among its non-commissioned officers, Company E has had several promotions within the past twenty-four hours. Quartermaster Sergeant Prentiss has been named as first sergeant, and his former position is now filled by Sergeant Harry Eade, Corporal Fred. Hinkle has been promoted to a sergeant, and Private Fred. Comp-ton and Wagoner Berlin to a corporalship. Private Edward Kohlen is now wagoner. The recipients of these new honors are deserving and popular members of their company, and are receiving congratulations from all their friends. Thursday morning Company C, commanded by Captain Robbing and Lieutenants Burkhouse and Murphy, broke camp at 8 o'clock and left for the street car terminus to do a twenty-one day tour of provost duty. Two companies from the Fifteenth Minnesota patrol the city of Augusta, one from the Eighth is taking charge of Summerville and the arsenal, while Company C was ordered to guard the exit from camp and the street car terminus. The company is comfortably located in the city, and about a third of a mile from the regimental headquarters. The public road passes east and west only a few feet away. At half-past 12 at night, when the camp was running and the restaurants are closed, the guards are taken off and are then allowed to sleep till 7 o'clock next morning, when they go on for two more hours, after which the members of the old guard receive passes, if they wish, to go to the city. Captain Robbing proposes to make the company street a model of cleanliness and tidiness, and this morning several of the boys went into the woods to bring back some pine trees for decorations.

HEARD THE SERENADE.

Last night the famous "Bostonians" presented the opera "Serenade" in the Augusta Opera house. Among those who were present from the Thirtieth were the following: Colonel H. A. Courson and Mrs. Courson, Lieutenant Colonel E. W. Stillwell, Captain Kambeck, of B; Captain Robbing and Lieutenant Murphy, of A; Major Keller, and Lieutenant Blanchard, of the medical staff; Regimental Adjutant L. T. Mattes and Mrs. Mattes, Lieutenant John L. Huff, of H, and Mrs. Huff; Battalion Adjutant Walter E. Gunster, Sergeant Clarence Seward, and Private William E. Myers and Joseph E. Leonard, of D; Corporal William F. Williams, of F; Corporal Patrick Whalen, Company Clerk Charles Constantine, and Private Joseph Birtley, of H. Major E. D. Fellows has been acting as counsel for a few of the boys who got into trouble recently, and has been very successful. On such occasions the boys always call on the major and he never fails to do everything in his power for them. Private Fred. Patry, of A, is getting together quite a fine collection of photographs. Corporal Robbing, Privates Hall and Murray, of C, and Musclem Gill, of the band, have become quite expert on the mandolin and practice together every evening. Captain Robert J. McCausland and Lieutenant John C. Harrington, of G, are expected to return to their company in a few days. Both have fully recovered from the effects of their recent illness. Private Amasa J. Carpenter, of A, who recently returned from sick furlough, which was granted him when able to leave St. Joseph's hospital, Reading, is now in excellent health, and is beginning to enjoy life in the south. Private Conway, of Company B, is trying to secure his transfer to the Third United States cavalry, six troops of which are stationed here.

HAS LOST FAITH.

Private Maurice Embury, of C, has no more faith in the Negro washerwomen who call at camp. They get what they want, and he, being unable to read the accompanying slips of paper, frequently succeed in delivering the laundry at the wrong place, and to the wrong person. In this way, the right bundles of clothes are occasionally lost, and other ones returned instead of them. Private Embury has had such an experience. He sent out heavy underclothes and when they returned—wonderful to state—they were the regulation goods which were sent to the camp at Camp Alger, where the temperature was 12 degrees. Mr. J. Madison Rhodes, of Elmhurst, and Mr. Patrick Mulherin, of Taylor, accompanied by his son, Harry, who have been visiting friends in Augusta, left for home yesterday afternoon. Miss Harry was presented with a beautiful suit, and a cloak of Confederate gray by his friends, as a souvenir of his trip South. Richard J. Bourke.

PORTO RICAN AFFAIRS.

Governor General Henry Orders Dissolution of Insular Cabinet. San Juan De Porto Rico, Feb. 6.—Governor General Henry has ordered the dissolution of the insular cabinet and substitutes for it, the departments of state, justice, finance and interior. The order announces that it having become evident to General Henry after a careful trial of two months, that the insular cabinet does not correspond with American methods of progress, he declares its dissolution. General Henry's action in removing the insular cabinet was impelled by the disposition of the members to disregard him and by their objection to the temporary substitution of American officers in the department of public instruction and department of public works, both of which departments belong to the interior department in accordance with the general's best judgment as to the policy to be followed.

Launch of a New Steamer.

She was christened "Hamilton" by Miss J. de G. Livingston, of New York. The new vessel will be a sister ship to the "Princess Anno," and will resemble the latter in all respects excepting cabin arrangements. She is being built in the most modern style and will be handsomely fitted throughout. It is expected the "Hamilton" will be ready for commission by April 1.

The recovery of William Davitt, the lad who was accidentally shot last Friday while playing with a companion, Joe O'Hara, seems now a probability. Yesterday afternoon the bullet was removed by Drs. The shooting occurred last Friday afternoon. O'Hara had a small pistol and while the boys were playing together it was discharged in some manner and the bullet entered young Davitt's body in the region of the heart. CLOTHES ON FIRE.

Fire was discovered in the residence of Joe Brady, of West Drinker street, about 11 o'clock. The fire was put out before much damage was done. The fire is supposed to have originated by clothes falling on the stove. Mr. Brady, who discovered the fire, was waiting upon a sick child and detecting the odor of smoke investigated. Opening a door to enter the kitchen a large cloud of smoke rushed from the room. He got a bucket of water and dashed the water on the burning clothes, extinguishing the flames. No alarm was sent in.
