Rev. J. B. Sweet, pastor of the Simpson Methodist Episcopal church, while delivering his sermon last evening, had occasion to stop suddenly in his remarks and call the attention of some persons in the audience to the fact that he was preaching. He said it was hard to preach to disinterested parties, and intimated that it would be a good plan for the ushers to seat all the young people in the front seats, where they would listen more attentively to the sermon.

Rev. Sweet gave a very interesting talk on the subject "Chance and God, taking his text from the eighteenth chapter of the Second book of Chronicles and the thirty-third verse. He between Israel and Syria, and incidentally referred to our own soldier boys as "herces every one," laying particular stress upon the fact that their patience had won for them the esteem and respect of all. Their life in camp had been tedious, and while the boys were not called upon to battle with the enemy, they nevertheless had shown by their conduct and patriotism faced the smoke of battle.

The speaker eloquently portraged the stirring scenes enacted between Ahab and Jehosophat, when the former met his death at the hands of the enemy. and gave a very graphic word-picture of how God triumphed over all. There was no chance about life and its possibilities, he said, it is choice, and our lives are what we make them by choice. He referred to the stories in the word of God that attract young men and women, and pleaded with them to read and profit by them During the service the choir sang an anthem, and the quartette rendered "Jesus Waits to Save" with fine effect. The service was closed with the congregation singing "Take the Name of Jesus With You.

REMEDY FOR THE GRIPPE,

A remedy recommended for patients afflicted with the Grippe is Kemp's Balsam, which is especially adapted to discusses of the throat and lungs. Do not wait for the first symptoms of the discase, but get a bottle today and keep it on hand for use the moment it is needed. If neglected the grippe has a tendency to bring on pneumonia. The Balsam prevents this by keeping the cough loose. All druggists selt the Balsam.
