THE SCRANTON TRIBUNE-FRIDAY, MARCH 3, 1899.

TREATED KINDLY AT CHARLESTON

LETTER FROM SERGEANT ARCH-ER R. CORWIN.

Missed the Boat That Was to Take a Party of ex-Thirteenth Regiment Men to Cuba to Join the Third United States Volunteers-Were Referred to Father Wood, the Soldier Priest, Who Has Taken Good Care of Them-They Expect to Leave for Cuba Tuesday.

Special Correspondence to The Tribune. Charleston, S. C., Feb. 28 .- A half dozen of boys from Scranton, belonging to the Thirteenth Pennsylvania Volunteer infantry, who were to be transferred from that regiment to the ranks of the Third United States Volunteer Engineers, "got left" in Charleston, that is, the government transport steamed away from port without us. Here was a fine fix we were placed in and we thought there was nothing to do but to lie down on the dock and wait for the boat to return from Cubs. We could not go back into the ranks of the Thirteenth at camp MacKenzie, Ga., as we had left our comrades in order to see military service in Cuba. Gathering enough courage we inquired of two street Arabs the direction to take to bring us to some military officer in order to report for crders, as we were beginning to get pretty hungry.

'Why don't you guys goes up and 'port to Fad'er Wood? He am de soiers' priest." was the reply. FOUND FATHER WOOD.

With this information in hand, which meant a great deal to us, we got up and took the direction indicated to us and we didn't have any trouble to find "Fad'er Wood," for every pickaninny on the street knew him, so we reported to him, and were all looking wise and expecting the articles of war to be read to us. Here it was we were agreeably surprised. We were ushered into the presence of a young man about thirty years of age who was robed in the usual house garment of a Roman Catholic priest, and although five of our party were non-Catholics, nevertheless the kindness and hospitality shown to us completely won our hearts and we remembered the trite saying of an Indiana soldier who had passed through Charleston previous to us: "An when yous guys meets dat man its right dere where yous 'ill begin to like de town," and such was the

We were treated to fruit and given : square meal, and finally when we were feeling in good spirits Father Wood wrote a note and sent us to report to finest entertainments presented by a Major Willis, the army quartermaster straight vaudeville company in Scranof Charleston

Arriving at his office we received the same hospitable treatment. Major Willis said: "I can't send you men to the hospital as you are not sick." and "I can't send you to fail as you haven't done anything wrong," so "I guess I will put you under care of Father Wood," so here we have been for the last ten days, comfortably housed in quarters given us at St. Francis infirmary, which is under the direction of the Sisters of Mercy, Hospitality is not the right word to ex-

IN THE PLAY HOUSES.

"A Milk White Flag."

Hoyt's satire on the civilian soldiers, hich he calls "A Milk White Fing." was produced at the Lyceum last night before a very large audience. The company contains some exceedingly clever specialty artists who supplied the ecessary amount of dash and go to last night's performance. Mary Marble and Little Chip are two entertainers who have few superiors, Their singing and dancing specialties last night evoked numerous encores.

The Grayson sisters also did a well received dancing specialty, Vocal num-bers by Robert E, Harty and Frank Glenn were pleasing features of the night's entertainment. The company that Hoyt has this set son intrusted "A Milk White Flag" to is not made up of the foremost artists in the profession or their immediate relatives, but is competent enough to give a very pleasing performance with the assistance of the specialty artists.

Good Plays Well Presented.

At the Academy of Music last night the Bennett and Moulton company produced "Darkest Russia," and in the afternoon a large audience was highly pleased with the presentation of "The Ways of the World."

The attractions for the remainder of he week are: This afternoon, "Darkest Russia;" tonight, "Bonne Scotland:" Saturday afternoon, "For Cu-ba's Cause;" Saturday night, "Me-Kenna's Flirtation." Even without the pave discussion the

PASSED IN COMMON. The ordinance then went over to ommon council and was at once referred to the committee on paving, which forthwith reported it favorably, When Mr. Morris called it up on first and second reading, Mr. Oliver moved that it pass by title. Mr. Grier protested, contending that it should be read, as it might be that some members would want to amend it. The ordinance was read in its entirety but no one offered an amendment. The nearest approach to it was a suggestion from Mr. Keller that the friends of the ordinance should take cognizance of the fact that a $15,000 bond, only, was required on a $100,000 contract. The ordinance passed unanimously, receiving all of the twenty votes present. Mr. Gilroy was the absentee, select council meeting would have been a very lively affair. When the ordinance permitting the Scranton Railway ompany to build a line out to the Country club grounds was up on second reading, Mr. O'Boyle attached to it a provision compelling the company to grade the streets, not already graded, over which the line would pass. Then he attempted to hitch on another amendment, making the new franchise onditional upon the company creeting in the central city a walting station or the accommodation of its patrons. The city should have something in eturn for these valuable franchises, Mr. O'Boyle thought. Others thought so too, but when Mr. Roche informed them that the Country club was contributing $5,000 towards the expense of building the line and that the company er to secure the franchise, the attempt to enforce the waiting-station amendment was abandoned and the ordinance

HEART DISEASE.

INCREASE OF HEART TROUBLES

Do Not Be Alarmed, but Look for the Cause.

Heart troubles, at least among the Americans, are certainly increasing and while this may be largely due to the excitement and worry of American business life, it is more often the result of weak stomachs, of poor digestion.

Real organic disease is incurable; but not one case in a hundred of heart trouble is organic.

The close relation between heart trouble and poor digestion is because both organs are controlled by the same great nerves, the Sympathetic and Pneumogastric

In another way, also the heart is effected by the form of poor digestion, from half digested food. There is a ing at the Lyceum when Hoyt's "A feeling of oppression and heaviness in Stranger in New York," which made the chest caused by pressure of the such a pronounced hit with theater-distended stomach on the heart and goers when last presented here, will Zizelman spoke in the same strain. lungs, interfering with their action; hence arises palpitation and short breath
