

WHITNEY'S WEEKLY BUDGET OF NEWS

UPSONVILLE FURNISHES THE FIRST SNAKE STORY.

Eagan and Shew Will Swing on May 19—The Rabbit Stepmother of Cascade—Family Cat at Uniondale Who Was Fond of Molasses. Various News Nuggets Gathered About the County.

Special to the Scranton Tribune. Susquehanna, March 7.—Late last September, farmer Schoonover, of Upsenville, captured a water snake in his mill pond, which he, after careful training, tamed and made quite sociable. The reptile would come out of the water and go about the home like a pet, and at times would be quite affectionate. The children of Mr. Schoonover would fondle him, and he learned to follow them around like Mary's little lamb. One day he showed his gratitude in a manner that made him famous. Mr. Schoonover was towing some logs to the mill, when he accidentally fell in. The water was quite deep, and he could not swim. Drowning seemed inevitable. Then the snake appeared and took in the situation at a glance. Plunging into the water the snake entwined his neck around a pole stuck in the mud to keep fishing boats secure and extended his tail to Mr. Schoonover's aid. The latter grasped the tail of his ally and held on, until the family alarmed at his cries, came to his aid.

SOME NEWS NUGGETS. At Stillwater, on Friday, Chief-of-Police Thomas J. McMahon, of Susquehanna, arrested Isaac Lockwood, otherwise Fred Batterson, who was wanted at Belmont, Allegheny county, N. Y., for breaking jail. An officer from Belmont returned the prisoner to the jail on Saturday afternoon. Lockwood was awaiting trial on a charge of criminal assault. Mrs. Margaret Hatton died on Saturday morning at her home on Drinker street. The funeral occurred on Monday morning, from St. John's Catholic church.

There is a prospect that Tim Hurley, of Susquehanna, and Jim Judge, of Scranton, will box in Carbondale, in the near future. The Erie shops are in operation thirteen hours a day. Over one thousand freight cars left this station on Saturday last. Business booms along the entire Erie system.

IN SUSQUEHANNA COUNTY. The Governor has fixed May 18 as the date for the execution of Eagan and Shew. Sheriff Ward Deal has sustained a slight stroke of paralysis.

Hon. John W. Carrell will remove from Jackson to Arkansas. The Mormon elders have excommunicated from Montrose, without making a convert. "I told you so."

Susie Graham, under indictment for conspiracy in connection with the Peppermurder case, has been released on bail. It is expected that her trial will occur at the April term of court.

Persons interested in horse trotting have leased the Lyon's farm, in Uniondale, and will, early in the spring, build a first-class trotting course.

A RABBIT STEP-MOTHER. A hen belonging to Mrs. Sherrill, of the Cascade, recently had the misfortune to be killed while hatching eggs. A tame rabbit took possession of the

Some of the Spanish war veterans from Susquehanna county are already applying for pensions. There is nothing like taking time by the front hair.

Great Bend people have of late been mystified by strange, moving lights on a mountain overlooking the borough. Probably tramps, with lanterns, looking for work.

The boys declare that Forest City wants 2,000,000 converts. In order to get them it will be necessary to annex Vandling, Richmonds, Last Chance and Stillwater.

A TALE OF A TAIL. Not long since, Mrs. McPhall, of Uniondale, threatened punishing her children for stealing molasses from the family jug, which they most emphatically denied. She thought best to investigate the matter a little, and found to her astonishment that the family cat was the thief. She watched the animal for an hour the next day and saw it place its tail in the nozzle of the jug and lick off the molasses. Then the cat was killed.

Truth is stranger than fiction—because there is less of it.

FLOTSAM AND JETSAM. "One hundred years ago," writes the North Jackson correspondent of the Susquehanna Ledger, "there was not a public library in the United States; now there are at least five in Susquehanna county." True; and one hundred years ago there was not a saloon in Susquehanna county. And now there may be a hundred.

The Forest City News laments because there is "a defective water pressure on the hill." That is not at all alarming, so long as the bear pressure on the side hill is intact. Never get frightened, Brer Gilden, when the supply of Forest City reservoirs is abundant.

Press dispatches inform us that "a four-legged fish" was a few days since caught out of the Delaware river near Cocheotan. Catfish or dogfish?

It is stated that Philadelphia capitalists will, in an early spring, go over the proposed route of the Tidewater, stock, Nicholson and Lanestory railroad. It will be a nice trip for the Quakers; but the railroad project aforesaid is probably dead—'n the great grandmother of Judas Iscariot.

It is possible that Carbondale will soon witness a prize fight. From now on a good many people will feel that life in Carbondale is worth the living.

There is a movement in this county to repeal the dog law of '92. A movement to limit the production of howling, snapping, snoring, biting, dangerous curs would be immensely popular. Some farmers ought to quit raising dogs and begin raising sheen.

WINTER RALLY OF THE YOUNG PEOPLE

HELD IN DUDLEY STREET BAPTIST CHURCH, DUNMORE.

Dr. B. G. Beddoe Presided and Replied to the Hearty Welcome Extended by Rev. R. N. Roderick. Tribute Paid to the Former President of the Union, the Late Miss Rose Phillips—Address of Rev. W. H. Lovell, of Clark's Green, at the Evening Session.

The winter rally of the Baptist Young People's union of Abington association was held at the Dudley Street Baptist church, Dunmore, yesterday afternoon and evening. Dr. B. G. Beddoe, presiding. Notwithstanding the blizzard, there was a fair representation present. Among those who failed to fill their appointed places on the programme were Rev. R. F. Y. Pierce and W. H. Lovell, of Clark's Green, Allegheny. The other numbers were carried out.

Rev. R. N. Roderick, pastor of the Dunmore church, gave a pleasant address of welcome, to which response was happily made by Dr. Beddoe. Miss Edith Williams, of the Scranton Street church, gave a valuable paper on "The Baptist Young People's Union a Help to the Pastor." She said that young people can be a help in four different ways, by securing attendance at the church services, particularly prayer meetings; securing an increased spirituality by visiting and prayer. An important feature of the work is that the society member pledges himself to do something at the prayer service besides singing, if this can be done in sincerity and truth.

Rev. R. N. Roderick spoke of his experience with the meetings and that the pastor could aid the young people very much in their work. Mrs. Andrew Dershimer made encouraging and interesting remarks.

REV. MR. FORD'S REMARKS. Rev. W. J. Ford spoke on his methods. The Christian culture course had not been a great success, but the other work had been kept up. He followed in a discussion of the paper read by Miss Williams. On the night when the Thirtieth regiment went out, five deacons of his congregation were absent, but the young people were all there. Later they all went to see the departure of the troops, but they went to prayer meeting first. The pastor does not need coddling, but he needs encouragement, and the young people should encourage one another as well as the pastor.

Dr. Beddoe paid a tribute to a former president of his society, Miss Rose Phillips, now deceased, the influence of whose beautiful life still remains as help to pastor and people. The young people of the Scranton Street Baptist church are not given to card playing or dancing. All the pastors say that their work would not be half done without the young people.

Rev. J. L. Williams, of Forest City, continued the discussion and gave hearty endorsement of the paper.

Rev. Mr. Lovell spoke most interestingly in the session. He stated that there are cases where the young people do not give the aid they might to the pastor and to the work of the church, where they simply attend the young people's meeting and neglect the other services. These cases are, however, exceptional. Rev. W. G. Perkins made interesting remarks, giving many timely suggestions.

THE BUSINESS SESSION. A business session followed. It was decided to go to the Berean church, Carbondale, for the June meeting and that the matter be left to the executive committee. Rev. W. H. Lovell was appointed transportation leader, with regard to the convention at Richmond.

Rev. Mr. O'Neal, also a southern man, was to be his assistant.

Rev. J. L. Williams read a plea from the secretary of the Evangelical Alliance of Pennsylvania, asking the union

The importance of taking a good Spring Medicine is well known—in fact, its necessity is universally admitted. To argue this point is useless—takes up your time and wastes our space. The real question is, what to take? Of course, you want the best. For your blood you want a medicine which cures blood diseases.

For your appetite, stomach, giving, stomach, toning, dyspepsia, curing qualms, For that tired feeling, dull headache, miserable, all run down.

condition, you want a true tonic to the bone sinew, nerve and muscle—not a stimulant. Now we can prove, we have proved, we DO prove each and every day in the year, that Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best; that it is unequalled as a general Spring Medicine; that it meets every requirement above named and more. We prove this by thousands of testimonials—not from people anxious to advertise themselves, but from people in the same walk of life as you. And our testimonials tell of cures, real, bona fide CURES. We believe when you have given it a fair trial you will agree that America's Greatest Medicine and best Spring Medicine is Hood's Sarsaparilla. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

to add its protest to the Fow bill regarding Sunday laws. Rev. S. J. Arthur, of Pittston, then gave an excellent address on "Training Demanded for Our Young People." Mr. Arthur is a man of fine appearance, and is an able speaker. He gave an excellent address. The central thought was emphatically brought out that training is absolutely necessary. The age of specialism shows the premium put upon trained men. A study of the disciples' mission must be made. The aim is to effect discipleship. The training must be to realize the character of the Christian life. It must effect the culture of the Christian life and its mission. The evening session opened with a service of songs, with special music by the Dudley street church choir. The address of the occasion was delivered by Rev. W. H. Lovell, of Clark's Green, who is a man of great ability. His discourse was purely doctrinal and might be said to be devoted to Perseverance, or rather the "Preservation of the Saints."

SALVATION THAT SAVES. He emphasized the importance of salvation that saves. A man can not be truly regenerated and still fall back into sin. He urged the objection to the argument of what use is it to keep the law if one is to be saved anyway, that this theory is based on the idea that the Christian desires to sin and simply restrains himself through fear of the consequences. This is contemptible in the eyes of those who love God. It is the unconquered man who plunges headlong into sin because he loves it. "The love of Christ constraineth us" to his services.

The session closed with a consecration service led by Rev. W. G. Watkins. Delegates to the rally were as follows: Dr. B. G. Beddoe, Rev. W. H. Lovell, Clark's Green; Miss Jessie Robinson, Clark's Green; Rev. J. L. Williams, Forest City; Miss Eva Arnold, Forest City; J. M. Jehu, North Main avenue; Rev. W. J. Ford, Rev. J. W. Watkins, William G. Phillips, Mrs. A. M. Dershimer, Miss Lillie Moore, Miss Mabel Dershimer, Miss Edith Reynolds, Miss Mertie Finch, Miss Margie Glencross, Miss May Hughes, Mrs. W. D. Smith, Miss Jennie Center, Miss Ruth Beddoe, Miss Beattie Daniels, L. C. Brink, Hector Davies, George Asbury.

SCALP HUMOR CURED BY CUTICURA. I was suffering terribly from a diseased scalp. I was scratching my head from morning till night. Little pimples broke out all over my head. I had no rest. I washed my head with hot water and CUTICURA SOAP, and applied CUTICURA as a dressing. Now my head has a healthy scalp and my hair is growing splendidly. ADA C.
