HALLSTEAD HONORS ITS SOLDIER BOYS

DEMONSTRATION THERE AFTERNOON AND NIGHT.

At 2 O'clock There Was a Parade, in Which the Members of the Thirtieth Regiment Had the Post of Honor—They Were Banqueted Afterwards by the Ladies of Hallstead—Rev. D. L. MacDonald Made the Address of Welcome.

There was a great demonstration at Hallstead yesterday afternoon and last night in honor of the men from that town who served with the Thirtieth regiment. The Thirtieth regiment band was largely made up of Hallstead young men and company G, of Montrose, also had a number of the sturdy youths of that place on the rolls. When the first detachment of Hallsteadites arrived at 1:30 Monday morning on the first section of the Thirtieth regiment train they found a delegation of prominent citizens of Hallstead, headed by Captain John McCausland, waiting to receive them. A royal reception they received, and when the remainder of their comrades they were escorted home with all the honors that a returning soldier should receive. The church bells rang to announce their arrival, the songs sounded and the Hallstead band was at the station to greet them with the strains of "Home, Sweet Home." The formal demonstration was arranged for yesterday and the people of Hallstead did themselves proud in honoring their soldier boys.

PROGRAMME OF THE DAY.

The day's programme was ushered in with a parade at 2 o'clock, which was in charge of Grand Marshal Paul R. Farragut and his staff. It was followed by the Thirtieth regiment band, followed by the members of the Thirtieth regiment. Then came about 200 horsemen with members of the Grand Army of the Republic and affiliates of Hallstead in carriages. After these came the fire companies and members of the civic societies of Hallstead. The procession was a very imposing one and passed over the following route: Church street to DuBois, to Chase avenue, to Pine, to Susquehanna avenue, to Main, to Chestnut, to Pine, to Franklin, to Randolph, to Main, back to Hallstead, down Main to Rose, to Dayton avenue, to Lackawanna, to Franklin and the Young Men's Christian association hall.

Along the route there was a general decoration of the buildings, and on Franklin street was a beautiful arch containing these inscriptions: "Welcome to the brave" and "The Boys of Our Town." At night the arch was gorgeously illuminated with many colored electric lights.

ADDRESS OF WELCOME.

When the procession reached the Young Men's Christian association building it was formed in a mass in front of the structure and the open-air exercises of the day began. They consisted of an address of welcome by Rev. D. L. MacDonald, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, to which Captain McCausland, of Montrose, commander of company G, responded. Both speeches were received with great enthusiasm. There was singing by the choir of the Presbyterian church, under the leadership of C. A. Holden, and Mr. Holden sang a solo of a patriotic nature in an effective manner. After the open air exercises the Thirtieth regiment men and members of the Grand Army of the Republic were banqueted in the Young Men's Christian association hall by the ladies of Hallstead.

The banquet over, there was a session devoted to speaking and singing. Addresses were made by Rev. Mr. Bishop, Rev. Father Fagan, Rev. Mr. Davis and others. Between these speeches musical numbers were interspersed. It was a most enjoyable occasion throughout and will not soon be forgotten in Hallstead.

CELEBRATION AT MONTROSE.

It Was Given in Honor of the Members of Company G.

When the members of Company G, of the Thirtieth regiment, arrived in Montrose, Monday, they were given a hearty reception. A parade, including firemen, ex-members of the company and civic organizations, escorted the returning soldiers from the train. Judge Seale delivered an appropriate address of welcome. Burgess A. H. Smith read resolutions to the people of Montrose, in which the following and kind expressions recently adopted in mass meeting at that place were recited.

The latter is a member of Camp 29, of Jersey, and in his honor the members of that camp were invited to attend and did in large numbers. Music, speeches and refreshments were the features of the evening's programme. Captain Charles Leiser, of Camp 8, presided.

ECZEMA ON THE BABY. My little six-months old girl had Eczema. We used all kinds of ointments, but she kept getting worse. I used to wrap her hands and to dress her, had to put her on the table. I could not hold her, she would kick and scream, and when she could, she would tear her face and arms almost to pieces. Four boxes of CUTICURA (ointment), two boxes of CUTICURA SOAP, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT cured her, and she is now well. Beware of cheap imitations. Write for Circulars. DWELLING HOUSE DESTROYED.

Located on Walnut Street, in Dunmore, Occupied by Tug O'Hora.

A two-story frame dwelling house on Oak street, Dunmore, occupied by the family of "Tug" O'Hora and owned by John Lavin, was totally destroyed, together with most of its contents, at an early hour this morning.

The fire started at 2:20 o'clock. An alarm brought the Dunmore companies to the scene, but little could be done to save anything, as the flames had gained too great a headway. There were no other buildings near enough to be in danger.

LAD'S FRIGHTFUL DEATH

George Owens, Five Years Old, Mangled Beneath a Loaded Trip of Mine Cars—Was Trying to Jump on for a Ride.

George Owens, the five-year-old son of Mrs. Doreen Owens, of Greenwood, met with an awful death at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon near the railroad crossing at the Greenwood No. 1 shaft by being run over by a trip of loaded mine cars.

The boy, with some companions, was watching the stone crusher of the Scranton Railway company, which was being used to fill the roadbed in that vicinity. The small engine which hauls coal from the drifts was standing above the crossing, and when it started toward the breaker with the trip of loaded cars, the lad slipped from the iron rod which governs the door end of each car, was jerked off his feet and thrown in between and under the cars. Several of them passed over the prostrate lad before his horrified playmates could signal to have the trip stopped. Little George's mangled body was tenderly placed on a stretcher and taken to his home a short distance from the scene of the accident. Physicians were summoned, but they could do nothing but partially alleviate the agony the child was suffering. He died a few hours later. His mother is prostrated as a result of her son's frightful death.

RESULTS IN MANY ABUSES.

Dr. D. A. Capwell Treats of Life Insurance Examinations.

A paper of general interest on "Life Insurance Examinations" was read at the monthly meeting of the Lackawanna County Medical society by Dr. D. A. Capwell last night. He said that the present system results in many abuses, and prophesied that the time would come when the insurance companies would join in organizing and maintaining a general examining board at central points.

I have been afflicted with rheumatism for fourteen years and nothing seemed to give any relief. I was able to be around all the time, but constantly suffering. I had tried everything I could hear of and at last was told to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which I did and was immediately relieved and in a short time cured. GOVERNOR AND STAFF WILL COME TO PARTICIPATE IN SOLDIERS' DEMONSTRATION.

Governor Stone Last Night Gave Official Notification That He Has Accepted the Invitation and Will Be Present with His Staff—They Will Be Quartered at the Jernyn. Lieutenant-Governor Gobin Will Also Be One of the Distinguished Guests on That Occasion.

Among the distinguished visitors will be Lieutenant-Governor Gobin, who has the warmest affection and admiration for the Thirtieth regiment and never loses an opportunity to praise its soldierly qualities. Many courtesies are being planned for the governor and his staff. It is expected that speeches and addresses will be given by a number of well-known orators. Among these will be Adjutant General Stewart and probably Colonel Henry Hall, one member of the staff whose name is being recognized as belonging to a great financier in William L. Elkins, of Philadelphia. Two members of the staff, Colonel E. H. Ripple and Colonel G. M. Hallstead, are residents of this city, and it is largely due to their efforts that the celebration was assumed. The following are among the staff officers: Colonel Ezra H. Ripple, of Scranton, assistant adjutant general. Colonel Frank G. Sweeney, of Chester, first lieutenant. Colonel Samuel Moody, of Beaver, quartermaster. Colonel George M. Hallstead, of Scranton, assistant commissary general. Major Frank J. Patterson, of Pittsburg, brigade ordnance officer. Second brigade general inspector of the practice. CONDITION ABOUT THE SAME.

John Shannon, the Wounded Burglar, Is Holding His Own. The condition of John Shannon, the wounded burglar at the Lackawanna hospital, during yesterday was about the same as the day before. If anything, he is a little better, and is at length able to get up. Early yesterday morning twenty more of the shot came out of the wound with the pus. No one is allowed to see or talk to him except the hospital officials.

County Detective Leishon yesterday received a letter from W. A. Gilman, chief of police, Nantuxet, stating that he had made inquiries and was unable to find a Michael Brennan, the burglar shot at Lockville last Wednesday evening. Gilman says there were three men named Brennan, but none of them seem to know anything about Shannon, who claimed to be a brother-in-law of Brennan.

This bears out the statement that Shannon has given an assumed name to the authorities.

The Confession of a Drug Slave.

Thousands of people are suffering in the daily use of drugs, imagining the secret locked safely in their own bosoms, like the drinking man, not realizing the truth is written in letters of living light upon their faces and in their whole action. They take them for this ache or that pain, not dreaming they are fastening the coils of man's most deadly enemy upon themselves, which will eventually engulf body and soul. The individual is a king in competition with a slave to their own habit. Buy the finest quality of William Rosser Cobb and learn of the future for the habit. TWO MANY LAWS.

The Movement to Limit the Activity of the State Legislature.

There is a movement on foot to restrict the sessions of the Assembly to one in two years. "It would be a good thing," said a citizen well known in this town for his public affairs. "We have too many laws, just as we have too many medicines. I am in favor of doing away about half the law-books and two-thirds of the medicines. There are a few medicinal preparations we could not get along without, and among them I class Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. I have used it with gratifying result, which is the best proof of its value. It has long continued mental application, when I had no desire for food, and sound sleep was impossible. I found that Duffy's Pure Malt gave tone to the nerve centers, and was at once a soothing and a strength-giver." A household remedy and so acknowledged throughout the land. It has prevented a vast amount of sickness, and is the only medicinal whiskey acknowledged and taxed by the government. When you order your druggist, be sure that you get the genuine Duffy's. Substitutes so frequently offered are worse than useless.

PROF. CLARKE'S RECITAL.

He Was Received with Much Enthusiasm at the Bicycle Club. Scranton has been favored this season in a type of entertainment which has under the elevation of popular taste more than perhaps has been recorded in the years of the past. No one of these occasions has been attended with more profit and pleasure than last evening, when Professor S. H. Clarke, of Chicago, Ill., gave a programme of extraordinary beauty and interest before a fine audience in the Bicycle club. Professor Clarke had been secured through the efforts of the Young Women's Christian association, under whose auspices the affair was given.

Mrs. Julia O'Malley, of Archbald, Succumbs to Serious Injuries. Mrs. Julia O'Malley, who was severely burned at her residence on Hill street, Archbald, about two weeks ago, while building a fire in the stove, died early yesterday morning, after the most intense suffering.

Deceased was an old and respected resident of Archbald, and is survived by one daughter, Mrs. James McHale, with whom she resided. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning and a high mass of requiem will be celebrated at St. Thomas' church. Interment will be made in the Archbald cemetery.

The best medicine that money can buy is Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hood's Sarsaparilla. First, because it combines economy and strength. There is more concentrated merit and medicinal power in a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla than in half a dozen bottles of others. Each bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla contains one hundred doses—an unan swearable argument as to strength and economy—and will last a month, while other remedies average to last a week or fortnight. Second, because those who have bought it and taken it universally praise it. It cures even when other remedies fail to do any good whatever. In fact, it is not what we say but what Hood's Sarsaparilla does, that tells the story of its merit. Its thousands of testimonials are as reliable and worthy your confidence as if they came from your most trusted neighbor. Third, because there is no substitute for Hood's Sarsaparilla. Dealers who try to sell something else, general agents, say "Ours is as good as Hood's"—thus really admitting that Hood's is the standard and possesses merit impossible for others to reach. There are many other reasons why Hood's Sarsaparilla is America's Greatest Medicine, the Best That Money Can Buy. But if you will only buy it and try it yourself you will have reasons for faith in it stronger than them all—that of personal experience with, and personal knowledge of, its curative powers. Take it now. Get Hood's. It never disappoints.
