NORTON'S SPRING SELECTIONS

of New Wall Decorations are now ready for inspection. We invite your attention to see the beautiful Novelties we have for your consideration.

Choice American, English and French designs and colorings to match the new carpets and draperies. We have selected the "Cream" of the patterns from the mills that make the Finest Wall Decorations. Our selections are exclusive and cannot be had elsewhere in the city. You are welcome to see them and not be under any obligations. We will cheerfully and gladly exhibit our specimens to all who desire to see the new ideas in interior decorating. Any contemplated inside decorating can be done in cold weather as well as in warmer, more quickly and at less expense. We furnish competent workmen on short nutice and at reasonable rates. We suggest an early consideration to avoid the usual spring rush.

Will Be the Subject of Dr. Munhall's Lecture at the Sunday Meeting.

Among the hest of evangelists and lay workers who have attracted public notice in the last quarter of a century representing a movement which is tiving way to other forms of Christian work, no man has had a more commanding personality, except perhaps Mr. Moody himself, than his intimate friend and co-worker Dr. L. Wilkes-Barre's Big Event to Take Place April 7. The 1899 ball of the Wilkes-Barre

Press club will be held at the Ninth Regiment armory in that city on Friday, April 7. As they have in years past a number of Scrantonians will attend, and the club has made arrang ments to reserve three boxes for box parties from this city and a number of reserved seats. The music will be by Alexander's band and Oppenheim's orchestra, which will combine in a concert be fore the ball and then play alternately so that dancing will be continuous. The decorations by Fuhrman, of Scranton, will be charming, and the ball will prove the biggest event of its kind in this part of the state.

Tickets admitting gentlemen and two dies, $2; extra ladies, 50 cents; boxes, Orders for tickets can be sent to the Wilkes-Barro Press club.

THE LEADER'S OPENING.

Finest Millinery Display Ever Produced Lebeck & Corin.

Yesterday and day before were the first show days of the millinery dapartment at The Leader. Incidentally the whole store is in holiday attire and the beauty of the vestibule is the subject of much admiration. Each window is a picture in itself and all the exhibits are so artistically carried out as to form a strong object lesson of the value of that greatest of all modera retall business propellers, with the exception of newspaper advertising-fine display windows. Lebeck & Corin have always paid considerable attention to that branch of their business, but not until within the last four or five months have they had the proper opportunity to give their ideas in that line full swing. Since the adoption of their new vestibule front last December there have been many notable window displays in that store, but none that can begin to equal the show that is being made as this opening.

The interior of the store is beauti fully decorated throughout, and the wight of decorative art is reached in the millinery department, where : thousand trimmed hats add additional zest to the skill of the decorator. In fact, the Easter hats are the very con ter of all the attractions and to judge from the attendance on the first day, it was one that was thoroughly appro-
