PITTSTON NEWS

Your reporter happened, in an unusual manner, to come across some individuals who are under the impression that the world owes them a living. They had no idea their conversation was overheard by one who would expose, the gist of their conversation: "Pittston is dead easy. I was in three places across from the Engle hotel; they had money displayed on the sideboard back of the bar; they had it in all colors, green, white and yellow. The latter took my notion. They are piled up in rows, and every member of that row represented a twenty dollar gold pl Now, we have done others, why couldn't we do this? If you all agree, let us vatch our opportunity and do them." If this pointer is worth something, perhaps it will avoid this result.

The young scalawags about the city and the hundreds who centre here from the four corners of the township, recelved a note of warning on Sunday vening that the day has passed when they can block up the sidewalks, and forget that those who pay a majority of the taxes of the city are entitled to some respect. When the officers went on duty they were informed by their chief that all people who had no particular business on hand outside of blocking the walks, should "move," and move they certainly did. Young girls, who usually stood in the center of the walks and used their lungs in such a dexterious manner that peaceable people living in the vicinity were annoyed, shared the same fate. They were Miss Fannie Atkinson, of Scranton, simply told to discontinue this practice turn to good health and daily duties, pent Sunday with friends in the North or become subjects for arrest. the past season. There was something very unusual nappened yesterday morning down on Main street. A bung-starter, with a mallet in one hand and a spigot in the ther, made an attempt to tap a barrel of "present use." The result was an explosion, the package and its contents inding a convenient stopping place in the four corners of the basement, and the man who had possession of the mallet and tap has his head tied up, charge of defendant on common bail; He is under the impression that no one who took an active part in the Cuban war, and the present one in Manila, for that matter, ever went through the same experience.

John Prendergast was the man nominated, and the late member, Henegan, was present, but re fused to become a candidate for or against nomination. He though, while he was under the ban of the select council for making a mistake, he intended to leave the mayter to the courts. In the meantime h will not even wait for that, he will run a stump ticket. THINK THIS OVER.

A Rational Remedy for a National Trouble.

To say that hemorholds or the disease entmonly known as piles is a national disease may be slightly overdrawn, rule for sheriff's interpleader; Albina but it is quite certain, that at least one in every four persons is so afflicted. Hecause it is common and not immediately fatal many suffer for years cal Ettention.

Moreover, the rather general impression that a surgical operation is the only cure, has much to with delaying attention until the disease becomes deep-seated and chronic. Sufferers from piles should know that
