IN THE PLAY HOUSES.

Close of the Engagement.

At the Academy of Music this afternoon the Toole company will preent "Caste" and tonight will close its engagement with a repetition of "Killarney and the Rhine."

"Jack and the Beanstalk." Klaw & Erlanger's beautiful producion of the extravaganza, "Jack and the Beanstalk," comes to the Lyceum theatre this afternoon and evening. It comes bearing the unstinted praise of the press in all of the cities in wihch it has been seen, and the descriptions of the production convey impressions of rare splendor. This extravaganza was written for the first corps of cadets of Boston by R. A. Barnet, the same as were "1492," "Excelsior, Jr.," and similar compositions. protracted engagement in New York, the production was transferred to Philadelphia and Boston successively, and so marked was the impression in these cities, its first tour was confined to them. The next season was inaugurated at the Columbia theatre, Chieago, and later it was presented in all the larger cities of the Middle West with results in keeping with those gained in New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Providence. Messrs, Klaw & Erlanger, with customary enterprise forethought, have re-engaged nost of the principal members of the onmany, who have won distinctive hits in the parts assigned to them; and the services of the chorists and baller dancers who flaured in the premier of the piece are also retained.

Return Engagement of "Heartsease."

Henry Miller's performance of 'Heartsease" has been a pronounced favorite here for nearly three years, but after next Monday night at the Lyceum theatre, it must remain so from memories only, for that will be its last performance here. Once or Orders solicited purchase or sale, cash twice in a decade it occurs that some play shows such life in pleasing the public that it is presented year after year with never failing powers. This happens less frequently when it is the vehicle of a star than when the play itself is the main attraction, and therefore "Heartsease" is an unusual play for that reason.

It will never be played after Mr. Miler takes its from his repertory, for he has made the character of Eric Temple so completely his own that the public could not be satisfied. When next Mr. Miller appears in this city it will be in a new play, romantic, of course, for that is Mr. Miller's line, and Manager Frohman is too shrewd to put him forward in any other sort of a play, especially as there are not more than one or two other good romantic actors in this country. Mr. Miller's company is still the same as appeared on his jast visit here.

Next Attraction at Academy.

The Academy next week offers a novel attraction in the way of a child star, in little Irene Myers, a mite of humanity, only 10 years of age, who has been meeting with phenomenal success in the larger cities of this and other states. The novelty of the attraction should prove the means of drawing large audiences, as little Irene is the only known successful child star in America. Her theatrical debut was made at Keith's theatre, Philadelphia, at the age of three and a half years and her course since that time has been marked by a succession of successes, until today she finds herself at the head of a popular priced attraction of more than ordinary merit. "The Silver King" has been selected for the Monday night but,

Australian Beauties.

The Australian Beauties, under the direction of those prime favorites, Bryant and Watson, will be the attraction at the Gaiety for the week beginning Monday, with matinee, April 3, so that many may have an opportunity to judge of their merits and quality as entertainers and originators. The programme that the "Beauties" will present is not unlike that offered by other shows of the kind, but the features that are offered will be new and original. The snow opens with a new burletta, entitled "The Typewriter's Wedding Day," this is a satire on "The Telephone Girl." Prices are strongly maintained at

There will be an olio par excellence including some of the brightest lights in the vaudeville profession. Theris a fitting finale tableau and a grand ensemble. The closing burletta "The Duke De Monte Carlo," is said to be one of the funniest skits ever put on by a traveling organization.

Al Field's Minstrels.

The Scranton friends of Al. G. Field and they are many-have long anticipated his annual visit to this city. Their anticipations will be fully realized on Tuesday evening next, when the Al. G. Field's Greater Minstreis will entertain Scranton theater-goers at the Lyceum, Succeeding a magnificent and gorgeous first part are a number of high class specialty acts equalled by few and surpassed by none of the min-strel stage today. They include performers of such recognized merit as the famed Faust family, musical trio Lelliott, Busch and Lelliott: Everhardt, the great German juggler, and Gruett, Beers and Gruett. The De-Villiers, pantominists, are also a fearure of the performance.

TUNKHANNOCK.

Contractor George Ellsworth with a force of men has been engaged this week in rebuilding the interior of the Grenville drug store, damaged by the recent fire. It has been necessary to put in an entirely new floor, and the larger part of the ceiling was also burned out. The showcases, counters, etc., are being revarnished by Roland H. McNab. It will be some little time before the store will be ready for occupancy.

The town council at its last meeting passed a resolution making it the duty of the street commissioner to care for the fire hose after a fire, to see that it was dried and cleaned and otherwise kept in good condition. It is no more than just that the hose company should be relieved from this duty since they work without pay and the council evidently took that view,

Among the delegation of Tunkhannock people who were in Wilkes-Barre last evening were Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Eysenbach, Miss Claus, Miss Lewis, Miss Mabel Lewis, Miss Marion Metcalf, Miss Eownsend, Miss Little, Mrs. W. E. Little, Miss Shook, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Billings, Mr. and Mrs. R. E.
