BURGLARS GET LOTS OF BOOTY

THEY MADE A PAYING VISIT TO ATTORNEY ZIMMERMAN.

Mrs. Zimmerman, Alone with the Children and Servants, Heard the Craftsmen and Rang an Electric Bell-It Hurried Them Away, but Not Until They Had Secured Plunder Enough to Reward Them for Their Labors-They Selected a Varied Lot of Booty.

Burglars effected an entrance into the residence of Attorney R. A. Zimmerman, corner of Marion street and Jefferson avenue, Dunmore, early yesterday morning and succeeded in carrying away a quantity of booty worth over a hundred dollars. Entrance was gained by prying up a rear window opening into a pantry. The operators departed via the kitchen door, which they left open. The pantry window is not easily seen from the street. Mr. Zimmerman was absent, being Montrose on business and the burglarly was not discovered until the family arose in the morning. More plunder might have been taken perhaps, had not the burglars been frightened away. Shortly before 2 a. m. Mrs. Zimmerman was awakened by one of the children who slept in an adjoining room. As she was leaving her room she heard a sound apparently from downstairs, as if something heavy had fallen and struck some earthenware. She listened but heard nothing further. Thinking that perhaps one of the servants might be up she rang the call bell steadily for a moment, but received no answer. She then attended to the child and returned to her room. Had she gone along the hall to a rear room she would probably have seen the burglars making off through the back yard.

SUSPICIOUS NOISE.

Upon going downstairs in the morning it was at once evident from the way things were scattered about that some one had been there. The noise which Mrs. Zingnerman heard was also accounted for. A heavy bay window curtain in the dining room was pulled, pole and all, from its fastenings, and the pole had struck a jardineire standing beneath. A chair also indicated by the mud marks and scratches on the seat that some one had stood upon it.

An inventory was taken and the following articles were found to be missing: One and one-half dozen knives, one and one-half dozen spoons; one and one-half lozen forks; one-half dozen fruit knives, lozen plated silver knives and forks, several spoons (assorted), carving set, nut racker and picks (one-half dozen) plated; everal plated silver rapkin rings; one half dozen linen napkins, two new linen table cloths, one pearl handle butter knife, five-pound can of coffee, some tinware, etc., silk shirt waist, pair of ladies shoes (new), quantity of madras goods for ladies' waists, lawn dress and silk dress skirt, fifteen yards of cambric and Stock Companies represented, dress skirt, fifteen yards of cambric and lines especially solicited. Telesmaller and minor articles, all taken from the sewing room where the ladies were dressmaking the day before.

The burglars evidently believed in taking an assortment and the best. They carried the booty out into the back vard in one of the large drawers from the side board and left the drawer and the basket silver tray lying in the yard.

Attorney Zimmerman is certainly getting his full share of attention from the night prowlers. Last fall his cellar was entered four times. He had iron screens put over the windows inside and that work was stopped.

POSSIBLY A CLUE.

Last Monday night a young man, a stranger to Mr. Zimmerman, called at his residence and showed a letter purported to have been written by a wanted to act as night watchman along that block if each property owner or resident would contribute a portion toward his pay for the work. The young man said he had seen several of the owners theseabouts and they were apparently agreeable to the idea. Mr. Zimmerman felt secure and did not give the young man any positive answer.

He is now wondering whether the burglarly is a visitation of vengeance or a proof of the need of a watchman.

Why Women are Nervous. From the British Medical News.

The frequent cases of nervous prostration or utter collapse of the nervous system under which women "go all to pieces," as the saying is, have caused much thought and investigation on the part of physicians.

Certain inorganic substances are well known to cause various forms of neryous diseases which are readily traced to the poisons producing them. Further research leads to the belief that alum vous prostration, for the symptoms it remarkable indeed. Experiments physiologically made upon animals by tion of the whole nervous system. The most prominent physicians now be lieve that "nervous prostration" and many affections of the nerves from which both men and women suffer are caused by the continued absorption of alum into the system. It is probable that many medical men are unaware of the extent to which salts of alumina may be introduced into the body, being under the impression that the use of alum in bread is prohibited. Alum, however, is still used surreptitiously to some extent to whiten bread, and very largely in making cheap kinds of baking powder. In families where baking powder is generally used great care should be exercised to procure only those brands made looked forward to by hundreds of our young men. Many of them have reason o be thankful that they ever attended these meetings.

The speaker for tomorrow afternoon s well known in this city, and his ilustrated chalk talks are the delight of every one who sees them. This is o be one of the attractive features of morrow's service The Rev. Mr. Pierce is especially inerested in young men, as was shown by the talk he gave at one of the first of these meetings. The singing will be furnished by the Schubert male quar-

MAYOR MOIR SPEAKS.

Has Something to Say About Appointments - No Competent Man Need Have Any Fear of Removal.

In response to a request for a direcstatement of his policy as regards appointments, Mayor Moir said yesterday: "No man in any department will be dismissed because of his politics, as I have stated before, and I will not go about with a microscope seeking the faults of officials or employes who happen to be Democrats, Prohibitionists or Populists. A competent man who does his duty need have no fear of being disturbed." That the new mayor is firm in this dozen forks; one-half dozen from table-two teaspons marked "A. R." one table-spoon marked "W. M. B." (heirlooms); desert spoon marked "Z." olive fork marked "Z." all solid silver; one-half be created for them; that if a vacancy occurs their applications will be duly considered, and that there is not at present any vacancies in sight.

Speaking of the resignation of Patrolman Martin Gurrell, Mayor Morr said: "I would not want it thought that I requested or even desired Mr. Gurrell's resignation. I have the highest appreciation of the services he has rendered and would have been pleased to have made some arrangement whereby he would be induced to continue on the force. Under the circumstances, however, it was impossible There is such a crying need for patrolmen that no one could be spared from the force for special duty."

The mayor refrained from discussing particular cases as regards the application of his policy, but said that it was to be considered as applying generally. What he told the firemen in this regard on the previous day could be taken by the men of every depart ment as referring to them also.

SOCIETY MINSTRELS MAKE A BIG HIT

PLAYED TO DELIGHTED AUDI-ENCE AT THE LYCEUM.

The House Was Full and the Efforts of the Performers Were Appreciated from Beginning to End. While There Was Everything to Commend, Particular Stars Among the Amateurs Won More Than an Ordinary Share of Praise-Repeated This Afternoon and Tonight.

The first performance of the minstrels for the Home for the Friendless benefit was given last night at the Lyceum and, unlike most amateur affairs, it went off without an apparent bitch, and the management, with the director, Mr. Harry Dixle, and his wife, are to be congratulated for the brilliant success of the much-talked of entertainment. There was a big house and one whose appreciation was manifest from the rise of the curtain. The program was of the utmost variety and contained enough fun to put spice into a week's repertoire. The talent of the company exceeded in many respects the aggregate of the professional combinations on the road, particularly was this true of the musical ability of the performers. Many of the best voices in the city were in the specialties and choruses and the varied accomplishments brought out in the course of the evening surpassed all expectations. The only objection that could be raised was the well known desire of the Scranton public to get as much as possible for its money. The great number of encores and the delay in beginning prolonged the programe un-Mr. James Gardner Sanderson, made-up to represent Admiral Dewey, was the interlocutor, and gave the cue to an excellent interpretation of the first part. The end men were Dolph Atherton, J. H. Brooks, C. D. Sanderson, William P. Ely, Harold Battin, evening's presentation. BRILLIANT ARTISTS.

Mr. Sanderson is really an artist and if he were not of so much importance in the other walks of life, should go on the stage and achieve fame. The same is true of Mr. Atherton, who is inimitably funny, if he only half tries, The work of these two gentlemen in the golf sketch and with their banjos would be hard to equal. Mr. Ely is another who is fully up to professional standards and Mr. J. H. Brooks displayed most unexpected talent in his role. His comedian possibilities make him a valuable acquisition to Messrs. Rowlson, Weaver Battin and Roderick deserve similar praise. The vocal numbers were a notable eature. Messrs. Atherton, Sanderson and Ely were again and again recalled, and Mr. Reynon repeated his solo, as did also Mr. Watkins. The Schubert quartette added much to the programme. Mr. Atherton's "Hoodoo Coon," when the two little demons in the shape of the small Hosie boys, carried him to the regions below, was one of the great hits of the evening. much appreciated diversion was the Finn & Phillips. phonograph interlude by the immense instrument kindly loaned by Mr. C. B.

Another most pleasing number was Mr. H. W. Kingsbury's solo "Kiss Me. Honey, do," which was charmingly sung and was attractively embellished with a drill and fine effects in lighting. The finale of the first act, with Mr. J. Watkins at the head, was a distinct success, and the war tableaux was one Cadwgan, assisted by the members of of the prettiest ever seen on a Scranton stage.

THE SECOND PART.

The second part opened with a com ic hall in Green Ridge. At the con- ical burlesque on Hermann's prestidigitation by Mr. James G. Sanderson which was exceedingly well done, but the unmistakable hit of the evening was the skirt dance "by the four Rose Buds, Loie Fuller Miller, Anna Held Blair, Cissy Fitzgerald Holland, Carmencita Brooks." To say that It tary, J. M. Atherton: treasurer, C. P. brought down the house is to express but mildly the sensation caused by these "girls." They were so well made up by Mrs. Dixle that it was almost impossible to believe they were not young women. The steps were most intricate and difficult and gave another illustration of the enormous amount of time and work the various members of the cast have devoted to this entertainment. That skirt dance is worth more than a dollar to see. A splendid trick march by sixteen men, a funny sketch by Messrs. Beidleman, Surdam, Watkins, Battin and Roderick, completed the programme.

As a variation today will be the new ong, "Mollie, I Love You," composed and sung by Mr. Alfred Wooler, and several specialties by Mr. Goodman, of Ithaea.
