

SCRANTON PLAYERS FIRST PRACTICE

MANAGER SWIFT ASSEMBLED THEM AT BALL PARK. All of Them Were Present, Except Phackera and Dougherty, Who Were Expected Last Night—The Men Were Given Light Exercise and Impressed Those Who Saw Them as a Hardy, Athletic Lot of Ball Tossers—Schedule Meeting in Philadelphia Today.

At 2:30 yesterday afternoon Manager Swift mustered the members of the Scranton base ball club at Athletic park for their first practice. The players showed up well, considering the heavy field and their stiff joints. They were all present, with the exception of Phackera, the catcher, and Dougherty, the third baseman; they were expected some time during the night. The men were worked light, but all received their equal share of practice. They are a hardy, athletic looking lot of ball tossers.

The boys first started by bunting the ball over the field, giving practice on ground work and fly catching, as well as base throwing. This kind of practice was continued for fifteen minutes, after which they were given practice for scrub practice. City Treasurer Robinson acted as umpire.

First baseman Dillon was the first to hit; he lined a long, high fly to Gilbert, who was playing in left field. Gilbert showed up in good form. He is a hard player and speedy runner. Second baseman followed Dillon with a home run. Egan, Scranton's old left fielder, is batting in his old form, which means that he can be relied upon. Knoll, McMahon and Wheeler were equally successful in landing the ball in the outfield, although Wheeler is not considered as strong as the other men.

Stultz, Keenan, Hodson, Allen and Kiley were each given a chance in the box. Their work was all light, and it would be impossible to judge of their strength from their performance yesterday. It would be safe to say, however, that Ritchie's showing promises to give him a front rank among the pitchers.

As a whole, the boys made a good showing, considering that it was their first work of the season. At 3:50 play was stopped, and after a run around the field the boys retired to their dressing room for a rub-down.

The Atlantic league schedule meeting will convene at the Hanover hotel, Philadelphia, today at noon. This season will open on April 27, and closes on Sept. 9.

Violin Solo, "souvenir de Haydn." Leonard Miss Dorothy Hoyle Tarantella from "The Bride Elect." Sousa Sousa's band is a superb organization, and under his magnetic direction renders his own marches with a swing and dash that other bands never seem to quite achieve. The soloists, Miss Davis and Miss Hoyle, were received in a very enthusiastic manner.

During the ten minutes intermission between the first and second parts of the programme the march king sat in his dressing room and wrote music in a number of autograph albums that had been sent in to him. "I do a good deal of this sort of thing," said Sousa to a Tribune man as he proceeded with his pen work. "Last year I wrote in six thousand autographs during the season."

Sousa's tour this year embraced thirty thousand miles of territory, and while skipping about the country and giving one and two concerts each day he was sketching the music of two operas he is under contract to have ready for the season. One of them is for De Wolf Hopper, and the book for this is the work of George Broadhurst, who wrote "The Spectator" and "What Happened to Jones." The book of the other opera is the work of Charles Kings and Grant Stewart. Early in June Sousa will drop all of his other work and devote himself entirely to completing the music of these two operas.

Fine Company at Academy.

The Katherine Rober company opened a week's engagement at the Academy Music last evening, with Edwin Knoll's successful drama "The Great Diamond Robbery." There was a large audience. The company is a very strong one.

"Little Egypt" at the Gaiety.

The original "Little Egypt" of Seelye dinner party, drew large audiences at the Gaiety theater yesterday afternoon and evening. Her performance near the close of the entertainment was very brief, but was of the class that is best appreciated in Homeopathic doses. In the few moments that she appeared on the stage all were captivated by "Little Egypt" as giving as near the genuine as possible in the dance that made the World's Fair at Chicago famous.

Crane's New Play.

"The Head of the Family," Mr. Crane's new play and the one which will be presented at the Lyceum theater tonight, has had many pleasant things said about it in the city in which it has been seen. The play is a modern comedy in its original has been highly successful for several years in Germany. In transferring it to an American environment its adapters, Clyde Fitch and Leo Ditrichstein, are said to have preserved all of its humor and they are credited with adding to it one really strong scene not contained in its original. This scene comes at the close of the second act and during the time the play claimed attention in New York it never failed to win for itself the tribute of sympathetic tears. There are a number of good points in the comedy and they are said to be in very capable hands.

West's Minstrels.

The appearance of William H. West's big minstrel jubilee at the Lyceum Thursday promises to be one of the theatrical events of the season, as West is a great favorite and is considered the Beau Brummel of minstrel music and America's greatest producer in this class of amusement. Mr. West's undertaking of producing an all-star minstrel entertainment was looked upon as a bold enterprise by the managers of this country, but in return for his efforts he has been greeted with packed houses everywhere, which fact may be taken as flattering evidence that the theater-goers always appreciate the best. From New York to San Francisco and return, West's minstrels have received a perfect avalanche of praise from both the press and the public.
