say, therefore," continued the speaker, the measure is unconstitutional. The persons behind the bill do not seek to protect home industries; but the bill s victous and fruitless to this state. it will not hold water. It will not stand in the courts." Mr. Flinn was the next speaker. He attacked Mr. Grady, saying: "The with one exception, advanced the same reasons for opposing one other bills that have been before this legislature, While he has favored the direct inheritance tax bill he has stated - at the other revenue bills are either unconstitutional or else they will not proproduce revenue. The Allegheny senator then charged that outside influences that control the senate were protecting the beer inter-"Unless this bill is passed," he added, "I doubt whether any revenue bills will pass this legislature." In reply, Mr. Grady asserted that

Mr. Flinn had evidently picked out revenue bills for his support, that had no show of final passage, and that he had selected other revenue bills, which could raise but little money, so that he could sneer at them. "All but one revenue bill, the Creasy bill," he conrevenue bill, the Creasy bill," he continued, "have oeen acted upon favorably by the finance committee. What more could we do?" Mr. Grady insisted that the bill was certainly unconstitutional. Mr. Mogee stated that the question was whether Pennsylvania could put a tax on the products of other states. For this reason he declared that he was against the bill, and that if the foreign beer could not be taxed no tax should be placed on home products. After further discussion the bill was actented by a vote of 13 to 27, those voting in the affirmative were: ...essrs. Cummings, Flinn, Hardenbergh, Heinle, Henry, Kemerer, Lee, Neely, Rice, Stineman, Wash-

Harrisburg, April 14.—Fourteen votes dropped away from Senator Quay at Blair county, to be a member of the today's joint ballot for United States The anti-Quay Republicans and the followers of Senator C. L. Magee, of Pittsburg, combined and cast their votes for B. F. Jones, of Pittsburg. The break was started by Senator Crawford, of Allegheny, who switched from Quay to Jones and was followed by Senators Magee, of Allegheny, Losch, of Schuylkill, and Scott, of Luzerne. The first break from the Quay ranks in the list of members was Mr. Clark, of Washington, whose colleague, Mr. McLarn, went with him. Mr. Murdock, the third member from Washington, remained loyal to Colonel Quay. Others who changed from Quay to Jones were Messrs, Hosack, Klumpp, McFarlane, McWhinney, Nisbert, Robinson, Shaw and Rhodes, of Allegheny. Senator Hummel, of Snyder: Hertgler, of Juniata, and Representative Harrold, of Beaver, who signed the call for a general conferarce of the Republican senators and members to discuss the senatorial deadlock, voted for Mr. Quay.

Harrisburg, April 18,-The feature of the day's proceedings in the legislature vas the consideration in the house of the reports of the committee appointed to investigate the charges of bribery in connection with the contest for Untted States senator and the McCarrell jury bill. A majority and minority report were filed yesterday and by agree-ment between members of the committee it was agreed to take them up at 4 o'clock this afternoon. When that hour was reached Chairman Fow asked that consideration of both reports be postponed until this evening and the bouse gave its consent. Meanwhile a meeting of the committee was held at which it was decided to request the adoption of both reports and a supplemental report in the shape of a reso-Intion designating a committee to prosecute the persons charged with bribery. The matter was brought up in the house during the evening by Chairman Fow moving the adoption of the majority report and Mr. McClain, of Lancaster, moving to supplement the minority report. Mr. Fow accepted the motion of his colleague and offered a further supplement to both re-ports after the reading of the third document. Mr. Kreps, of Franklin, a member of the committee, moved the adoption of the three reports and afspirited discussison his motion carried by a vote of 119 to 54. Philadelphia, April 18.-When court opened today in the trial of ex-Senator Quay it was evident from the brief eximination of Meyer Goldsmith, the expert accountant, by District Attorney Rothermel, that Judge Biddle's decision ruling out testimony relating to other than the alleged specific conspimany prevents the revelation of many alleged manipulations by state treasurers and others of the state funds on deposit in the People's bank,

Mr. Goldsmith was on the stand for less than five minutes this morning. In that time Mr. Rothermel brought out the fact that on Aug. 3, 1896, $100,000 were deposited in the bank by State Treasurer Haywood, making the state deposit aggregating $600 000. Two days later a form of $100,000 was made to Richard R. Onay on a note endorsed he started out to prove, namely, that by Senator Gany. The witness said the books did not show whether the form of $100,000 was baid off or not ator Quay, and whether he used It It has been stated, however, that the himself or loaned it to others is not loan was repaid after the bank closed March 12, 1898.

To whom was interest paid, if any, on this $100,000 of state money deposited?" asked the district attorney, "To the state treasurer."

Mr. Shields conducted the crossexamination. The witness was questioned about his experience as an exbased upon suggestions from the red book found by an examination of the upon what the witness based his calculations of interest were then asked, The witness indicated that he explained the sate of interest from the current prices in the money market and attention was directed to his testimony that the books showed Mr. Quay owed $185,155.17 at the end of Oct. 21, He was told to show where such evidence appeared in the books. The discrepancy was accounted for, however, by the production from the black sok of entrice showing purchases of General-Atlantic League Base Ball Metropolitan and Sugar stock to the

Mr. Shields claimed that the witness had no right to charge against Senator Quay these purchases of stock since they were bought through a local stock brokerage firm and corried by them on margin, and that not a dollar was loaned by the bank on the transactions. The witness was compelled to admit the truth of this. The black book is
