the Collection Charges. Group 3, of the Pennsylvania Bankers' association, which represents over fifty banks of Northeastern Pennsylvania, will meet in Wilkes-Barre, Thursday, to take action on the recent rule adopted by the New York Clearing Mouse association making a charge for collecting country checks. Scranton's representatives will favor resolution advising their depositors o pay no heed to the announcements of the New York merchants that the collection charge will be entered up against the 'country' merchants, and o follow this up by refusing to subnit to the extra charges.

This, it is figured, will confine the operations of the rule to New York city and will make it so onerous that the clearing house association will be compelled to repeal its ruling or greatly modify it, at least.

NEW MEN PROBABLE.

Bolters on Both Sides in Solicitorship Fight-Attorney P. W. Gallagher Is the Dark Horse on the Democratic Side.

Assessment rapide attempt, was made to lect a city sollcitor last night. None of the Democrats attended, and of the Republicans there were absent Selectman James, of the Sixth ward; Selectman Schroeder, of the Sixteenth ward and Commoner Zigleman, of the Eighth ward, ...essrs, Schroeder and Zizleman were not expected; Mr. James' absence was unexplained. Mr. Fellows, who, with Mr. Schroeder, was absent from the last session, was in attendance last night and answered roit call.

Mr. McAndrew, the one Democrat who attended, agreed to help make a quorum, but was not expected to vote for the Republican nomince, Mr. Vosburg. Had an election been attempted Mr. McAndrew would have nominated a candidate of his own and cast his vote for him. It was the intention of the Vosburg men to go ahead with the election if twenty-one votes were in sight. Ordinarily twenty-two votes are neces sary to a choice, but owing to the fact that the Twenty-first ward is unrepresented in common council, Iwenty-one would be a majority of the memberselect, it is contended, and this is what is called for by the law governing the election.

It is not outside the bounds of prabability that two new candidates will be picked upon. Mr. Vosburg, it is feared, will not be able to secure the full Republican support, and Mr. Mc-Ginley, it is freely admitted, will not be able to control even the full min-

Mr. McAndrew and four other Democrats, it is understood, have openly declared that they would prefer some other candidate. Mr. McAndrew has even gone so far as to state that he will not under any circumstances vote for Mr. McGinley. In case of an election having been attempted last night Mr. McAndrew would have voted for Attorney P. W. Gallagher. There was considerable Gallagher talk among the Democrats who hung about the corridors, and when election comes it is very like! that Mr. Gallagher win be the Demo ratic nomince,

When the matter of naming a day to which the meeting should be adjourned was being discussed. Mr. Sanlerson and Mr. Keller both announced that they would make no promises to attend any future meetings. If it was convenient for them to do o, they would attend, providing there was hope of making an election: if it meant that they had to sacrifice important business engagements to come to the meeting they could not promise that they would. They did not like the prospect, they said, of running to the city hall a couple of evenings each week all for no purpose. Adjournment was made to 7.20 clock tomorrow evening.

SOME MORE CHANGES.

Miners employed by the Delaware Lackawanna and Western company will hereafter receive ten cents for a powder keg instead of four cents, as heretofore paid. This money is paid into the treasury of the Mine Accidental Pund at the colliery where the keg is turned in, and is a direct benefit to the members of the Fund. Another order which is far reaching in its effects is that hereafter all supplies used in and about the coleries must be accounted for by the foreman thereof. For instance, if a pump runner wants a piece of pipe, a washer or some cotton, he must write out an order and present to the inside foreman before getting the stuff. The same must be done by the outside men through the outside foreman.

MENTION OF SOME MEN OF THE HOUR

SCRANTON HAS A WELSH NOV-ELIST FOR A GUEST.

He Is R. R. Williams, of Michigan, Who Has the Distinction of Being One of the Few Writers of Weish Fiction - Reference to W. D. Boyer in the Last Number of the Dickinsonian-Judge Smith and the State Supreme Court-Judge Halsey Is a Great Worker.

H. R. Williams, of L'Anse, Michigan, is a visitor in the city. Mr. Williams has the unique distinction of having written and published a novel in the Welsh language. It is safe to say that there are not over half a dozen Weish novels. While Wates is rich in legendary lore and the Arthurian legends have furnished themes for the greatest of English poets and for many English novelists, yet the Welsh novels are few. The reason assigned for this dearth in the field of Welsh fiction is that the minds of Welsh writers have been bent in other directions. About two years ago an eisteddfod in the state of New York offered a prize for the best novel written in Welsh. Hon. H. M. Edwards, of this city, was the adjudicator or judge. He awarded the prize to Mr. Williams, of Michigan, whose novel was by far the best in the competition. Mr. Williams has now published his work and is visiting his countrymen in the various states. The distinguished author is a pleasant gentleman, has been county treasurer of his county for two terms, and is recognized by his countrymen as a fine Welsh scholar and writer.

The latest number of The Dickinsonian," the official paper of the Dicknson coffege at Carlisle, contained the following about a well-known Scran-

"Last fall we announced a gift of seventy-five contars to the college athietic association from William D. Boyer, esq., of Scranton, class of '88, It now gives us still greater pleasure than it did then to report another generous contribution to athletics by Arr. Boyer, of fifty dollars, twenty-five of which is to be added to the base ball fund and the remaining twenty-five is to be divided into equal prizes to be given to the five men who make the relay team. These prizes, in addition to those offered to all the competing teams by the university, should inspire every man of ability to try for the team, so that we can send to Philadelphia the best material possible and bring back victory to old Inckinson. We desire to officially thank Mr. Boyer for his liberal gift and most heartily commend his laudable interest in the athletics of his college, The great advance made in Dickinson athletics during the past three or four years should awaken a lively concern among all the alumni as it has in Mr. Boyer, and we hope further recognition, such as his, will be forthcoming, Such expressions of interest and desire for success on the part of the ations. Several meetings will be realumni go far to inspire the undergraduates to renewed efforts and greater triumphs."

the state supreme court. His experience as a member of the superior court has given him a love for the work not be at all averse to becoming a member of the state's highest tribunal. Next fall two supreme court justices are to be elected and one of them must be a Democrat, for the law 20 states. Otherwise there would not be much hope of electing a Democrat, As the proposition stands, the Democratic candidate will have a straight road to a twenty year term on the supreme bench. Judge Smith would accept the Democratic nomination, and so would a number of other judges of the state Judge Lynch, of Wilkes-Barre, among the number. His friends are already actively engaged in his behalf. There has been no formal launching of a Smith boom and it is not likely that there will be any such event, but from various parts of the state comes intimations that his friends are not indifferent to the opportunity that it presented for his advancement. Since he went on the bench of the superior court, Judge Smith has earned a wide reputation as a jurist. In a superior court case reviewed by the supreme court several months ago, the opinion was written by Judge Smith. Chief Justice Sterritt perused the document with evident interest and then remarked to Justice McCullom, whose home is at Montrose, that Northeastern Pennsylvania has the faculty of giving the appellate courts of the state some fine legal minds.

Judge George L. Halsey, who has been on the Luzerne county bench but a few months, is making a great reputation as a worker. He recently handed down a bunch of twenty opinions in cases heard before him a short time before and all of them showed evidences of careful and conscientious consideration. The judges of Luzerne are engaged in the commendable business of endeavoring to reduce the number of actions in the various courts awaiting trial, to the end that more exact justice may be done liti-

The trouble ever Nathan Thompson's ence is to be adjudicated in the civil court. When Mr. Thompson was arraigned for a hearing yesterday, before Alderman Millar, his attorney, S. B. Price, proposed as a compromise that the criminal proceedings be withdrawn by the city and that his client refrain from further attempts to build the fence until the courts have passed upon the matter. Mayor Moir agreed to this Alderman Millar acquireced, and the hearing was declared off. Mr. Price will institute Thomoson, a trespass suit against the city to give him an opportunity of proving his claim to the land now cov ered by the aldewalk in front of his. property. It is probable that a case-stated may be agreed upon. Mr. Thompson was intent on rebuilding the fence yesterday before the armistice was declared. He even went so far as to have new lumber delivered on the ground.

Mr. Price also intends to institute a damage suit against Street Commis-sioner O'Boyle and the city for tearing down the S. Tanhauser fence in Green Ridge, Mr. Tanhauser, it will be remembered, fenced in an alley adjoining his property claiming that was covered by his deed and has never been opened to public use. The city thought otherwise and ordered the fence removed, Mr. Tanhauser refused, whereupon Street Commissioner O'Boyle tore LIVELY TIMES AHEAD. Board of Control Will Split Up on the Appropriations.

The finance committee of the board f control met last night and took up the task of alloting to the various committees what they are to be allowed to spend of the annual appropriquired to complete the work and when the report comes before the board at next Monday's meeting there will be a very lively time.

Others reefer to continue paying interest on the $21,000 represented by these balances of the appellate courts and he would and use the money in the construction of new buildings. Other members are determined upon securing new sites, Mr. Shires, of the First ward: Mr. Leonard, of the Twenty-first, and Mr. Schaefer, of the Tenth, having given notice that they will insist on appropriations for this purpose. Still other nembers favor increasing the pay of eachers and will demand that this be provided for before attention is given o anything else, There must necessarily be some disappointment as the revenues will not permit of all these expenditures. The chances are that there will be a number of combinations among the champions of the various propositions and that when Monday night comes the board will be broken up into a number of small factions.
