KATE GIERSCH KILLED.

She Was a Familiar Figure to D., L. & W. Railroad Men.

Kate Giersch, an old woman who for many years tended the "Y" at Pocono Summit, was found dead near the track at six o'clock Thursday evening. It is presumed that she was killed by a freight train.

How the accident happened no one will ever know. Conductor Joseph Myers, of East Stroudsburg, found the body in a ditch at the south end of the "Y." Both legs were broken at the knees. There were no other serious injuries, although the body was badly contused, presumably from being thrown. The township authorities will bury the remains.

For more than a quarter of a century "Old Kate" Giersch has been a familiar figure to the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad men as they passed up and down the road. Her husband, who was found dead in bed some months ago, was given the position of cleaning off the ashes at the Summit "Y." For ten years or thereabouts he was in bad health and Kate did his work, besides looking after her household duties and tending a small truck patch and a cow or two. At one time she was quite well-to-do, owning several houses and other real estate.

FOUNDER OF THE ORDER.

Feast Day of Blessed John Baptist de la Salle Celebrated.

At St. Peter's cathedral, in the presence of Rt. Rev. Bishop Hoban, Thursday morning, the feast of Blessed John Baptist de la Salle, founder of the Brothers of the Christian Schools, was observed by the celebration of a solemn high mass. The officers of the mass were: Rev. D. J. MacGouldrick, celebrant; Rev. J. J. O'Reilly, rector of the cathedral, deacon; Rev. P. J. Gough, sub-deacon; Rev. M. E. Loftus, master of ceremonies; Rev. Dominic Dandro, assistant to the bishop. The St. Thomas college choir sang Wuerth's mass, under the direction of Rev. Brother Felix. Aloysius Colligan accompanied the choir on the organ, and John Colligan on the violin.

Bishop Hoban delivered a short address, touching upon the life and work of the Blessed John.

REORGANIZATION OF NATIONAL GUARD

PRINCIPAL CHANGES AFFECTED BY THE NEW ACT.

Thirty Additional Companies Provided for—Regiments to Have Three Battalions of Four Companies Each, and an Additional Major Allowed for the Third Battalion—New Office of Regimental Commissary Created—Engineer and Signal Corps Created.

Local officers of the National Guard yesterday received from Adjutant General Stewart copies of the new act providing for the reorganization of the National Guard and which was approved by Governor Stone this week.

The work of reorganization will begin at once. Under the new act the Guard will conform generally to the system of discipline, exercise, armament and equipment in vogue in the regular army.

The new guard will consist of 150 companies instead of 150, as at present; five troops of cavalry and five batteries of artillery instead of three each, as at present; and there will be newly organized a four-company corps of engineers and a one-company corps of signal men, neither of which the guard at present has in its makeup.

There will likely be fifteen regiments, each having three battalions of four companies each. An additional major will be assigned each regiment to take charge of the third battalion. The lieutenant colonel, who now has charge of one of the three battalions, will under the new system have nothing particular to do when the colonel is about.

The positions of regimental adjutant and quartermaster are advanced to the captaincy rank and the office of regimental commissary is established with the rank of first lieutenant. Battalion adjutants are advanced in rank from second lieutenant to first lieutenant. It is likely that there will be five brigades instead of three, as at present. Battalion sergeant majors are provided for. Infantry companies are made up as follows: Captain, first lieutenant, second lieutenant, first sergeant, four other sergeants, eight corporals, two musicians, thirty-five to forty-five privates. Each company is allowed a clerk to be detailed by the captain.

Company commanders, upon the approval of the colonel, may discharge any enlisted man of his company before effecting reorganization. Officers' commissions continue for their unexpired period.

The Eleventh regiment will be in the provisional brigade commanded by General Goatin, which will take part in the unveiling of the Hartman monument in Capitol park at Harrisburg next Friday.

WILL GO TO LANCASTER.

Scrantonians to Attend Grand Castle of Knights of Golden Eagle.

The Grand Castle of the Knights of the Golden Eagle of Pennsylvania will meet in Lancaster Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week. This city has six lodges which will be represented by Attorney George M. Okell, Martin Mohr, Henry Mohr, Thomas Seville, Earl Stone and William Rush. They will leave here Monday morning accompanied by George W. Okell, also of this city, who is grand second guardman of the grand lodge.

A Lancaster exchange says the meeting of the grand lodge promises to be a great event and the parade on the afternoon of May 9 will excite anything of its kind ever attempted by the Eagles in this state. There are now 48 castles in the state, which includes two German and one Swedish, and representatives from two-thirds of this number will be present at the season.

The military department of this order makes a creditable showing in the state, there now being forty-nine commanderies in existence.

After the parade on Tuesday afternoon there will be a competitive drill at which the following prizes will be awarded:

- 1. To the best drilled commandery, $25.
2. To the commandery coming the greatest distance, $40.
3. To the commandery having the largest number of fully equipped men in line on day of parade, $10.
4. To the castle making the finest appearance in the line on day of parade, $40.
5. To the battalion or regiment making the finest appearance in line of parade, regulation officer's sword and belt.
6. To the castle in Lancaster county turning out the largest number in line on day of parade, $25.
7. To the temple, outside of city, turning out the largest number of companions, silver pitcher and cup.

PARADE DISPUTE SETTLED.

Suydam Arrangements Will Be Followed Out.

Rather than cause any confusion in the parade or harm to the fair, Chief Hickey has decided not to interfere with the inspection plans arranged by Acting Chief Suydam, and has given the latter notice to that effect. Mr. Suydam will lead the parade and Mr. Hickey will review it with the city officials.

Eight out-of-town companies have signified their intention of participating. They are: Avoca Hose company; Wilson Fire company, of Peckville; Neptune Fire company, of Dunmore; Black Diamond Hook and Ladder company, of Pittston; Independent Hose company, of Dunmore; Archibald Hose company; Crystal Fire company, of Jersey; and the Mechanics' Fire company, of Pittston. The Saugott Silk Mill Fire company and Tripp Park Hose company will march with the visiting firemen, whose position will be the right of the line.
