SCRANTON LOSES 6 TO 8

Team Went to Pieces in the Last Inning and Allowed the Barons to Make Four Runs—Features of the Game.

In the presence of 400 spectators, Scranton lost the second game out of three, to Wilkes-Barre, Saturday afternoon. It was too bad. We were making an excellent showing against the aggregation from "Way, and the Barons led off at a terrific pace.

It all happened in the ninth inning, when we were two runs ahead of them. When the Barons came to bat in the ninth, they took four runs as easily as they themselves were disposed of in the eighth—two three-run order, in the eighth—two excellent stops at short. The grand stand contained a few rooters from Wilkes-Barre, who were inclined to disagree with Henderson, whenever he called strikes on the Barons.

With Keenan in the box, and our men ready for play, the Barons came to bat. Clymer was the first man up, and distinguished himself by striking out. Odwell did likewise. The crowd became enthusiastic. Halligan followed by lining out to McMahon, but Dillon's error landed him safely at first.

Keenan never lost his nerve. Captain Goekel was the next man to bat, and landed a long fly to Eagan, making the third man gone with Halligan left on first. The inning closed in such a manner that we were sure of defeating the men from down the valley.

Knoll led the batting order for Scranton. He secured his base on balls. Lippert sent a grounder to Goekel, and Voorhees covered first. Lippert reaching first safely, before being thrown out by Goekel. Knoll secured second on Lippert's liner. Knoll stole third, Lippert being thrown out at second. Dillon sent a three base hit over Odwell's head. Knoll scoring. Eagan flew out to Clymer, making two men gone, Dillon on third scoring and making two runs. Doherty was disposed of in one-two-three order. In the second half of the second, the same fate was ours, and Wilkes-Barre repeated again in the third. Knoll scored in the last half of the third, while Lippert, Dillon and Eagan were one-two-three victims.

Wilkes-Barre and Scranton each scored a run in the fourth. In the fifth Scranton scored two more, while the Barons never saw us. The score now stood 8 to 1 in favor of Scranton.

In the sixth, there was some hard work and exciting plays, but neither side scored. In the seventh, Scranton tied to the tune of one-two-three, while the Barons made three runs. Halligan and Odwell each lined out two-baggers.

The score now stood 4 to 6, still in the grip of the visitors. Things were getting too warm for comfort, and we one realized this part more than Scranton.

The score was too close for us to feel contented; the Barons' sudden spurt looked like trouble, so we took a brace and disposed of them as fast as they came to bat.

We opened the eighth by O'Connell flying over Burns' head. McMahon sacrificed, O'Connell reaching second. Thackara lined to Coughlin and was thrown out at first. Keenan flew to Halligan, making three men out. O'Connell was left on third.

The last, ninth and fatal inning now began. Odwell was quite badly injured by being hit by a pitched ball, which resulted in a walk to first and later, Halligan reached first. Goekel sacrificed and Halligan went to second. With a hit and good work, Goding and Voorhees scored later, making the final result, Wilkes-Barre 8, and Scranton 6. The score:

THE MARKETS.

Wall Street Review.

New York, May 8.—The weakness which pervaded the stock market today was accentuated by a bank statement much more favorable than expected. The surplus reserve fell off over $1,000,000 and the loan account increased over $1,000,000. Speculation was very feverish with the result that the market was somewhat overdone. The expressed opinion of certain railway officials that some decrease in stock prices was to be expected induced selling of the railroads for western account, and they showed signs of being overdone. The market was weak, the maximum decline being that of Reading, which fell 1/2 cent. The market was somewhat overdone, and the maximum decline being that of Reading, which fell 1/2 cent.
