He has filled the office with great efficiency for the last six years, and his re-election is a just recognition of his valuable services for the improvement of the schools of the ounty. He had opposition Tuesday, but he easily vanquished those who contested with him for the honor. Professor Taylor's six years of hard work for the improvement of the county schools won for him the high regard of a large percentage of the directors and made his election a certainty During the period Superintendent Taylor has been in office he has introduced new ideas that have brought the county schools to the highest degree of usefulness they have yet attained. A uniform course of study has been introduced, the graded system em-done in various districts were heard, ployed so far as possible, county examinations for pupils established and many other innovations introduced with a view to giving the pupil in the sparsely settled country district so far as possible the same advantages as his more favored brother in the city. There has been a distinct improvement in the teachers, too. This was secured by local institutes, and the mapping out of a course of study for teachers holding provisional certificates which was followed by an examination to determine their fitness for a professional sertificate. This course of study and subsequent examinations have shown nany teachers in just what they were ieficient and has induced them to take lantyne, Jeffersonville, N. Y.
