NONE GO FROM HERE.
Companies D, G, K, Eleventh Regiment, Will Not Participate.
The members of Companies D, G and K, of the Eleventh regiment, will not go to Harrisburg next Friday, as many expected. Orders were issued yesterday which remove all doubt. The order is as follows:
Headquarters Eleventh Regiment, Third Brigade, N. G. P.
Scranton, May 8, 1899.
Regimental Orders No. 10.
Pursuant to orders of the adjutant general, the field and staff and non-commissioned members of the Eleventh regiment, Companies A, B, C, E, F, H and I, will report in front of the armory of Company H, North Second Street, in Harrisburg, in light marching order (with leggings and one day's ration), on Friday, May 12, 1899, at 12 o'clock sharp, to participate in the ceremonies attending the unveiling of the monument erected to the memory of Major General John T. Hartman.

The occasion is such as to demand that every officer and man covered by this order shall report for duty, and aid in doing honor to one of Pennsylvania's most illustrious men and soldiers.

By order of
L. A. Watres, Colonel.
D. B. Atherton, Adjutant.

LICENSE FUND FOR 1899.
County Treasurer Kelly Has Completed Computation for the Year.
As computed by County Treasurer M. J. Kelly, the county treasury gets $175,818.17 as the result of 537 licenses being paid for as directed by the liquor license law. This fund is for the year 1899 and is owing the state, county and cities, borough and townships in the county.

Out of this fund the state gets $45,072.50; county, $28,532.57; Scranton and Carbonate together, $74,629; boroughs of the county, $24,537.24; townships of the county, $5,847.66. The brewers' wholesale and bottlers' licenses go to the state, and the state gets sixteen and two-thirds per cent. of the hotel and restaurant licenses. The cities, boroughs and townships get four-fifths of the money paid by their respective hotels and restaurants, deducting the treasurer's commission.

FIRST SPRING GRADUATES.
Commencement Exercises of the Montrose High School.
The annual commencement exercises of the Montrose High school occurred Sunday night at the Presbyterian church. They were of a very elaborate character, and were attended by an assemblage that filled the auditorium to overflowing.

The baccalaureate sermon was delivered by Rev. A. T. Broderick, the new pastor of the Montrose Catholic church. Rev. E. A. Warren, of the Episcopal church, gave the Scriptural readings; Rev. A. L. Benton, of the Presbyterian church, announced the hymns; Rev. William Benedict, of the Methodist church, made the opening prayer, and Rev. E. K. Thomas, of the Baptist church, made the closing prayer and pronounced the benediction.

The graduating class this year numbered thirty.

SHORTER COURSE IN TRAINING SCHOOL.
BOARD OF CONTROL ADOPTS SUPERINTENDENT'S IDEA.
Prospective Teachers Will Drop Certain High School Studies and Take in Their Stead a Part of the Training School Course—City Controller Howell Makes a Request That the Board Allow Him Something for Clerk Hire—Schools to Close June 23.

On the recommendation of Superintendent Howell, conveyed through Chairman Jayne, of the High and Training school committee, the board of control last night shortened the training school course from two years to one.

In the letter containing the recommendation, Superintendent Howell explained that a comparison showed that Scranton's complete school course is one year longer than any other large school district in the eastern states. A boy or girl entering school at the age of six years and passing successfully through the primary, intermediate, grammar, High and Training school courses would be twenty-one years of age at graduation. To shorten this a year was advisable, the superintendent thought, and he advised making the cut in the Training school course. By eliminating certain studies in the High school course and inserting in their place in the curriculum certain of the Training school studies the cut could be effected without seriously impairing the training of prospective teachers. Those in the High school who do not contemplate entering the Training school will not be affected by the change. The board unanimously adopted the superintendent's idea.

CONTROLLER WANTS PAY.
A request from City Controller Howell for a contribution from the board toward paying for clerk hire in his department was referred to the finance committee. The school district pays nothing towards the maintenance of the controller's department and fully one-half its clerical duties pertain to work of the board. For this reason Controller Howell saw fit to make a request for an allowance, Mr. Gibbons, upon being informed that none of the former controllers had looked for anything from the board, wanted to indefinitely table the communication. The board allowed it to go to committee for due consideration.

The building committee recommends that the secretary be instructed to advertise for bids for the erection of No. 38 and No. 9, which are to be located respectively in Deereburg and Pine Brook, but when Messrs. May, Francois, Gibbons and Evans disappeared of going so far in the matter when only the ground plans of the buildings had been presented by the architects, Mr. Shires, chairman of the committee, advised that the bids be allowed to expire for sixty days. He was ill, claiming she was made ill by coal gas from a defective stove, and stovepipe in her school room. The committee could not find that such was the cause of Miss Rankin's illness, and while they deplored the teachers' loss, could not conscientiously recommend the allowance she asked for. The report was adopted.

CLOSE OF SCHOOL YEAR.
The recommendation of the teachers' committee that the schools close for the summer on June 23 was adopted. On motion of Mr. Jayne the question of one-session a day during June was referred to the teachers' committee. Mr. Jayne presented a petition from 159 residents of No. 34 school district, asking that two rooms be added to that building, so that intermediate pupils of that neighborhood would be saved from going to No. 27, over the dangerous Delaware and Hudson crossing.

On motion of Mr. Schwass the building committee was directed to have an iron fence constructed on the retaining wall at No. 30 building, the cost to be limited to $1,000.

The recommendation of Superintendent Howell that 1,000 more Brewster Academic dictionaries be purchased was approved by the text book committee and adopted by the board. The teachers' pay-roll for April was approved, as was also Miss Kate Jordan's application for a Normal school certificate.

IT IS TO EDUCATE.
Buffalo Bill's Wild West Will Soon Appear Here.
Colonel William F. Cody (Buffalo Bill) is always kept busy during the winter months arranging something new in the way of an illustration for some historical event that has happened and which teaches the old as well as the young an object lesson. He has books and writers could never tell as minutely as does these reproductions from facts. This year Colonel Bill will introduce his latest spectacular effort, giving a correct and vivid illustration of the heroic charges on San Juan hill.

In this monster aggregation everything is a scene from real life, a pathetic shadow withal of the past. The various events pass so rapidly that there is not the slightest possibility of dizziness. Miss Annie Oakley will make her reappearance in many new shooting features. Johnny Baker, who leads all the sharpshooters, will also be seen. Riding on bucking mustangs and other western sports will take place.

OLD JAKE GRESS IS DEAD.
"Old Jake" Gress, who for a score of years kept the Buckhorn tavern, just across the county line in Lackawanna, is dead, at the advanced age of 94 years and 6 months. In the old days the tavern was the stopping place of cattle drovers and many interesting stories are told of it.

In his young days Gress was a mighty hunter and when he was eighty-four he boasted of killing a bear for every year of his life.

STATE OF THE COAL TRADE
What the May Letter of the Anthracite Coal Operators' Association Has to Say About It.
The May letter of the Anthracite Coal Operators' association says of the anthracite coal trade:
The anthracite market is showing a slow, but steady improvement in prices, and a greater firmness. At several times during the past month there was a slight weakness, but these were immediately brought to an end before any serious results occurred. The announcement of a new circular of prices for May has had much to do with improving the situation. It is understood that the prices named hold until May 31, after which the companies may either continue them or issue a summer schedule. A steady effort is being made to avoid concessions from the figures given, in order that at the beginning of June the market will be in a satisfactory condition for an advance, anticipating a possible further increase in the fall.

Necessarily, this will depend wholly upon the amount of coal mined during May and June. The production up to the close of April has been a little more than was needed, but not enough, as yet, to cause trouble. As compared with the first four months of previous years it has been as follows:

1894	30,245,000
1895	31,097,000
1896	32,429,000
1897	30,467,000
1898	30,794,000
1899	31,900,000

The fact that such a tonnage has been taken without materially affecting prices, argues well for the future of the year. Indeed, every indication points to this as a year of high prices, which, if the industry has good luck, what it will be as to prices cannot be foretold, but with such an excellent prospect before them, there is no reason to believe that those who control the market will endeavor to avoid any course which will destroy the opportunity. May and June are the critical months in the coal market, held in hand and the tonnage kept within the consumptive requirements, a large and profitable summer and fall trade will result. The estimate of 2,000,000 tons each for these months seems within the needs of the market, since a large part of it will move west.

Miss Annetta is felt over a possible scarcity of miners when the larger tonnage of the fall months is to be produced. Even now many operating companies are unable to secure enough skilled workers to mine the relatively small tonnage of the spring months. If this continues, and there is no relief, a difficult problem to be solved. The reason for the miners' lack of interest is that they can get only from 50 to 175 working days a year in the anthracite fields, and in some of the best districts they can work from 250 to 300 days.

FIENDISH MURDER SAY THE CORONER
BABE WAS STRANGLED AND STABBED MANY TIMES.
Coroner's Jury Last Night, After Hearing Such Testimony as Was at Hand, Returned a Verdict to the Effect That the Child Was Murdered by Some One to the Jurors Unknown—An Unconfirmed Report That the Police Have Made an Arrest.

The coroner's jury in the case of the dead infant found Sunday night in a field near the Moses Taylor hospital met last night in the arbitration room at the court house, and, after a brief sitting, brought in the following verdict:
"We find that the child met death from strangulation and stab wounds from some sharp instrument and other criminal assaults by a person or persons unknown to the jury."

Signed, E. D. Owen, S. E. Sloat, John B. Day, Harry D. Taylor, Rowland D. Thomas, Wadkin Matthews.

The verdict is founded upon the testimony of Coroner J. J. Roberts and Clinton Potter, a young married man who lives at Monroe avenue, on the edge of the field, near the place where the body was found. Mr. Potter related how he saw an apparently young woman moving mysteriously about the field during Sunday afternoon and early evening. His dog "Nero" first discovered the woman while she was in a stooping posture only a few yards from Mr. Potter's home.

She went away, but returned later, going to the spot where the body was afterward found and finally disappeared at dusk. Mr. Potter described the woman as wearing a light grey or blue dress with a snowy hat. She wore the clothes in a slovenly manner, and he thought she was a foreigner. He remarked that if she (Mrs. Potter) owned such good garments she'd "use them right." The woman went away when she saw a crowd gathering. "She seemed to want to run, but was afraid," was the way Potter put it.

Coroner Roberts described what he discovered in his autopsy Sunday night. The child undoubtedly had lived a short time after its birth, though it was evident that some one had attempted to deny the little one even a peep at this world.

Black marks indicating strangulation, were found on the neck, and the body and head bore fifteen tiny wounds, as though some sharp weapon—a hat pin or darning needle—had been driven repeatedly into the flesh.

Coroner Roberts described the case as a "fiendish murder." He intimated that the police were at work on the case.

It is said the police have already arrested a young man who is supposed to have been the father of the child, but Chief Robling was not prepared last night to make any positive statement.

FANNY MENDELSSOHN CONCERT
Sale of Seats Continues Today at Powell's Music Store.
The sale of seats for the Fanny Mendelssohn concert, which will be given Thursday evening at the Lyceum, opened auspiciously at Powell's yesterday. Appearances indicate that it will be a musical and social event of the highest order. The society congratulates itself upon having secured Frau-lein Gaertner, the 'cellist, and Madame Katharine Flisk, contralto.

The latter, according to the last number of the New York Musical Courier, which devotes a column to her last New York concert, "has made New York her home; she is fresh from signal London triumphs, which she will not exploit, desiring to stand upon her merits as an artist only. She has acted wisely, for now she has won an unique position; she stands quite alone among Americans, and New York can congratulate itself that she has come here to stay. When one remembers the artists that have sung here this winter, and can say that always with one signal exception, Mrs. Flisk's intonation was superior to any, one can know conclusively what manner of artist she is."

CORONER IS INVESTIGATING.
Some Queer Facts Surrounding the Death of Miss Sender.
Coroner Roberts went to Dunmore yesterday and began an investigation in to the cause of the death of Miss Philippine Bender, the young woman who gave birth to a still born child Friday afternoon and died Saturday evening at 6 o'clock from blood poisoning.

The fact that she died of blood poisoning within such a short time after the birth of the child is presumptive evidence, the coroner says, of a criminal act. Miss Bender's father says the child was buried immediately after birth, but he admits that he had no death certificate or burial permit. The coroner will not empanel a jury until he has cleared up the apparent mystery that seems to surround the death of the child.

M'ALL MISSION MEETING
Held at the Home of Mrs. L. J. Northrup.
Mrs. L. J. Northrup entertained the members of the McAll Mission auxiliary yesterday at her home, 609 Quincy avenue. A large number of ladies attended the meeting. Mrs. J. A. Price presided. Many interesting articles relating to the work were read. Mrs. R. Q. Powell offered the opening prayer. Mrs. F. W. Hazard acted as treasurer in the absence of Miss A. A. Clark. Mrs. LaTigue gave the secretary's report. Mrs. W. H. Buel, Mrs. G. W. Phillips and others read selections.

The June meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. W. H. Richmond, at Richmond Hill.
