A WELL PLAYED GAME.

Scranton Took Another Contest from Allentown and Gave a Fine Exhibition of Ball Playing as Well.

In the presence of two hundred spec tators, Scranton defeated Allentown yesterday in one of the best played games of the season. The victory was won by a small margin, and the game was interesting throughout.

Lippert was again in his old place, in right field, while Risley covered the second bag. Keenan was in the box and twirled well for the home team. Henderson continued his rank decisions in yesterday's game. Scranton was first to bat and Knoll the first man up. He succeeded in beating out a bunt, reached second, stole third and made a run on an error made by McCormick. The next three men were disposed of in one, two, three.

Risley made a pretty steal to sec-ond in the second inning. Knoll scored again in the third on Dillon's fly. Doherty scored in the fourth. Knoll scored again in the fifth, after getting first on an error by Lote, who lost himself in trying to find the ball. In the seventh Lippert and Dillon scored. In the eighth we died to the tune of one, two, three. The ninth closed without any special feature, making our total runs six.

For Allentown, Henry, Lote and Mc Intyre batted well. Lote was five times to bat, and made five hits; three singles and one double. It was not un til the fourth inning that Allentown succeeded in making any runs. In thi inning she made three, scored by Mc Intyre, McManus and J. Delehanty Delehanty secured his base on a ball by Keenan Keenan made a motion to throw ou McManus on first, but did not delive the ball. McCormick's score in the sixth was due to McMahon's error, on which error he reached third, and later was taken home on J. Delehanty's liner over Risley's head.

In the eighth McManus sent a long fly in left field and reached third, scoring on J. Delehanty's fly to Knott. In the ninth, McManus and J. Delehanty flew to Lippert; West secured first on an error by McMahon. Things looked dark at this critical stage of the game Although there were two men gone, still it looked uncertain for our victory, with Lote to bat; but fortunately for Scranton McMahon was ready for Lote's hot grounder, and the hitter never saw first.

Allentown closed her half of the ninth with a total of five runs. Allentown had less errors than Scranton and more hits, but the sharp fielding of Swift's men proved too much for the Dutchmen. If Scranton continues to play ball in the future as she did yesterday there will be no reason to complain. The score:

Richmond Won Three Straight from Newark.

Richmond, May 10 .- Richmond made three straight from Newark by hitting out seven runs in the middle of the game. Both Pfanmiller and Mc-Partlin pitched good ball, but the former's support was brighter than his opponent's. Hess was presented with very pretty diamond scarfpin by admirers. Score:

Lancaster Shuts Out Reading.

Lancaster, May 10 .- Lancaster this afternoon shut out Reading in a game replete with errors. Neither club had scored up to the fifth inning when a succession of three errors by Reading gave Lancaster their first four runs. Although his support was of the yellowest description, Fertsch pitched well. The four hits off Schmidt were scattered through three innings, Score:

DIAMOND PICK UPS.

Hodson's injury continues to improve. Ill luck has been Hodson's fate the Risley is the only good all 'round bell player we have. He seems at home on any part of the field. Lipper: is perfect in his position at right field, but when it comes to playing second he is out of his class. Burns, of Avoca, who is playing such a star game at short for Wikes-Barre, is sure to win laurois this season. The Barons will do well to hold on to him. Hardie Henderson is not giving the rans of Scranton very good satisfaction. It is reported that Henderson is going to try for a position in the National league but unless he gets the dust out of his eyes and watches the players more closely he will be retired from the Atlantic league.

A strange tale is that of Tom Daly's base ball ife. Ten years ago, or the spring after the return from Europe of the Spaulding globe trotters. Daly was released from the Chicago club, and was in the hunt for a job till the base ball season of '89 was half over, then he was signed by Arthur Irwin for Walter Hew-itt's Washington league team. Daiy's catching that season surpassed the work catching that season surcassed the work of any backstop in the league, barring, perhaps, Buck Ewing. Tom was streed for the following season by the Brooklyn league club, and had a $4.600 contract with that team. His arm weakened, and Brooklyn finally released him to the Milwunkee team, of the Western league. The downfall of Tom's was regarded as his final passing, but he has taken unon idence of a new lease of base pall life, and, as second basman for Hanlow's Superior's, his superboried in the distribution of the season of the perbuls, his superb indelding is of the many brilliant points of play Handonites. AMATEUR BASE BALL NOTES.

The Scranton high school continues to mprove daily. Under the management of Mr. Rose and Captain Tropp the team s becoming more perfect as each prac-ice continues. This year's team is un-loubtedly the best ball team the high chool has ever mustered together. Philips behind the bat is a star. Captain Tropp is a twirler of considerable repu-tation, but he does not hesitate in saying that Harrington is one of the best men he has to manipulate the sphere. Har-chigton's exhibition against the Lacka-counts boys was a credit to himself and the school he represented. Corbett left field is getting better every day in left field is getting better evelope into and Dellow in center will develope into a crack fielder with lots of hard work. A number of the annateur enthusiants were disappointed to know that Horan, of foot ball fame, was unable to make the foot ball fame, was unable to make the team. There were several candidates who were taken from the list owing to their weakness. The men Captain Tropp has placed upon the diamond this season are a fast lot of amateurs, and it takes a fast amateur to stay in their class. The team was gotten together under many unpleasant circumstances. Captain Tropp deserves a great deal of credit for the team he is plucing upon the dia The Lackawanna boys are hard at work on the James Boys' ground. They are enxlous to administer another defeat to their rivals, the high school team. The Lackawanna boys are a strong aggregation of ball players. There is talk of removing the short stop for one more speedy. "With this change," said a member of the school, "we hope to put a team against the high school that will win for us victory. The Lackawanna boys are sure of winning the second game, and there is no doubt but what Captain Tropp and his men will have all they can do to defeat us." The teams are so evenly matched it is hard to as-certain to whom the victory will go.
