GAMES PLAYED IN ATLANTIC LEAGUE

SCRANTON RESTED HAVING NO GAME SCHEDULED.

In Saturday's Games Richmond Won Easily from Wilkes-Barre—Lancaster Defeated Newark, and Paterson Again Suffered Loss. Wilkes-Barre Won from Newark Yesterday, Placing Her in Second Place—Paterson Shut Out Reading—National Results—Pick Up from the Diamond.

Scranton suffered defeat at Reading on Saturday, in the presence of 1,000 spectators. The day was raw and cold. Doherty's wild throw, our ragged fielding and a column of six errors, tell the story of defeat.

Lippert met with a painful injury, during the game, by being spiked in the hand by Cockman. He was compelled to leave the game, Risley taking his place.

During the game, a small blaze was discovered in the players' dressing room under the grand stand. The damage was small, but caused considerable excitement. The blaze is thought to have started from a naptha stove.

The Barons were an easy mark for the champions on Saturday. They could not land on Bishop with any effect. Newark was again defeated by Lancaster. Both teams were quick and gingery. Paterson also suffered defeat at the hands of Allentown. West was a hard proposition to solve.

Paterson, in a well played game, shut out Reading in yesterday's game. Wilkes-Barre by timely hitting, defeated Newark. Yesterday's National League games were well played and hotly contested.

SATURDAY'S GAMES.

Scranton Started in Well But Couldn't Keep It Up.

Reading, May 21.—Reading turned the tables on Scranton yesterday and won, 4 to 2. The visitors started out like fiends, but could not score after the first inning. Scranton's errors gave the locals nearly all their runs. Both pitchers were effective.

The playing of Childs was great. The crowd of 1,000,a number of them ladies, were much ecited. Score:

DIAMOND PICK UPS.

Knoll is a hummer at base stealing.

Doherty's wild throw gave Reading her first run.

Reading played an errorless game, while Scranton rolled up six.

Saturday was a cold day at Reading.

Keenan improves daily. His work on Saturday was excellent.

Lippert was badly spiked in the hand by Cockman in Saturday's game. He was compelled to leave the field.

During the remaining eight innings of Saturday's game Scranton only reached third twice. Hard luck, indeed!

HIGH SCHOOL WAS DEFEATED.

They Worked Hard But Costly Errors Lost the Game.

Lackawanna won from the high school at the Athletic park Saturday afternoon by the score of 15 to 10. The exhibition, as a whole, was ragged and uninteresting, save a few brilliant plays. The high school lost the game in the first inning by costly errors and ranted headwork.

Had it not been for Gorman on first base in the beginning the Lackawanna men would not have scored so heavily. Gorman was at last taken from the first bag and Moser substituted. Moser, too, made one very serious error. He was

THE MARKETS.

Wall Street Review.

By Associated Press.

New York, May 20.—Transactions in today's short session were apparently confined to dealings by local room traders who seek a day's turn in prices, either up or down. Prices in the majority of cases are consequently little changed from last night. The course of their fluctuations during the two hours trading reflected considerable hesitation and uncertainty in the minds of the trading element. Many stocks opened unchanged in quotation or moved only ⅛ either way. Stocks of corporations which enjoy franchise privileges in this state were weak on the prospect that the franchise tax bill becomes a law, the prospect of material modifications not being considered lightly. Sugar made an aggressive response to the pressure against it and kept above yesterday's level after the opening decline. There was a dull resistance to the occasional attacks on the market, also by the railroad stocks, especially those in the south and west. The bears were disposed to caution in anticipation of the favorable bank statement, but when the market failed to respond to this, an attack was made on statues. So little stock was brought out on the decline that the bears covered, making the close firm at small exchanges, except in specialties. Total sales, 181,400 shares.

The bank statement showed a larger increase in cash than was expected. The heavy contraction in loans was, of course, a reflection in part of the drastic liquidation, last Saturday. As a consequence the increase in cash almost all went to swell the surplus reserve in the banks. The stock market has been so much unsettled during the week by the contending struggle of the bulls and bears over the Flower group of stocks, that there has been opportunity to discern any reflection of general conditions in its movements. There was ome slight continuation on Monday of the eager selling pressure on those stocks, which had been marvelously advanced in value under the fostering of the late Mr. Flower. But the determined and extensive buying by the decreased financiers associates in those properties who joined resources for the protection of values, soon allayed the apprehensions of timid holders and induced the shorts to cover. The movement towards recovery seemed to meet with no opposition from the bears notwithstanding the pronounced bear position assumed by one of the largest professional operators in the street. But the bear element was looking forward only a short time as the case proved for an opportunity to attack values. They made no very vigorous opposition to the process of recession of valuation while it was pursued with selfish purpose. The rise in wheat and talk of crop damages caused the railroads to waiver and affected the specialties, notably Sugar, Brooklyn Transit and the New York Traction shares with great violence and determination, causing notable recessions. The uncertainties thus engendered led to subsequent dullness.

By Carrington & Cusack.

New York, May 20.—The market during the week has shown two very decided movements, the early part with a sharp and well maintained recovery from the low price caused by ex-Governor Flower's death and the latter part by a renewed attack on values with some loss in prices. There has been no special change in the existing conditions except that the reports from the winter wheat belt are more unfavorable, caused by drought in some sections and damage by insects in others. Kansas, for example, will probably not raise more than 20,000,000 bushels. In the spring wheat belt weather has been cold and rainy retarding growth. As to the general market we are inclined to think that it will have two decided changes because many of the underlying conditions have changed for the worst and the digestion of the enormous issue of industrials stocks has not yet begun. We think that the top of the bull movement, except in specialties has been reached and we shall have a gradual decrease in prices from now on. While the general sentiment is still very bullish and will undoubtedly bring about fairly sustained upward movements, yet the final outcome of prices will be toward a lower level.

Today's market has been somewhat erratic with slight movements both ways. Traders sold the Traction stocks in the early morning which subsequently rallied, followed by another decline. The whole market was so professional that it is impossible to forecast its movements, but for the time being we consider it a sale on bulges. The bank statement while particularly good, was not received enthusiastically, and the market closed unsettled and inclined to weakness.
