Guernsey Hall

Is destined in the near future to hes jof repairs and the councilman of the come more famous than any other mu- ward, sic center in Northeastern Pennsylvania. There are many good reasons why we come to this conclusion; first, all its appointments are of the highest and most artistic class, refining in their influences, and adapted in every way to supplement and embellish the delightful attainments of the highest musical art. The public are invited to call and spend a few moments strolling through our music ware-rooms, society and entertainment hall, music studios, etc., etc. J. W. Guernsey, Proprietor,
