STRANGE DISCOVERY IN THE ROCKS NEAR UNIONDALE.

Dr. Stimpson's Death-The Hurley-Ready Match-A Few Side Lights of More or Less Brilliance-A Requisition for Buckley-Be Dyed No More-Exit Four Wildcats. Sim Randall's Tussie.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

Susquehanna, May 23,-While blasting rocks to enlars, a reservoir near Uniondale, a small pool of water was discovered under a great ledge of rocks. The water in the pool was a bright green, and when the mass of rock was taken off it turned to a dark blue. Around the edges of the tool were strange morses and ferns, which withered as soon as the rays of the sun encountered them. Through the crevices of the rocks ran great red and blue bestles and ants, and great borned snakes with hoods and double fangs wriggled around the edge of the pool. In the pool the workmen found fishes with no eyes and having green scales. When lifted from the water they changed their color to a dark blue, When they encountered the air they gasped a few times and died. In the fissures of the great rock horned toads were found alive where they had been for many years. They lived in the sunlight but a few moments. The place has been visited by scientists, who are mystified at the singular find among the ragged hills of Susquehanna county. Eyeless fishes have been found but twice in Pennsylvania within a cen-

FOUND DEAD IN HIS OFFICE.

Dr. A. O. Simpson, an old and wellknown physician, of Thomson, was found dead in a chair in his office on Saturday morning. There was a re-volver wound in his head and it was evidently a case of suicide. It is supposed that the Doctor had been dead since Thursday. He lived alone. He is survived by a son, a student in Wyoming seminary. His wife died about two years ago. He was a graduate of St. Francis college, Montreal, from which he graduated with the degrees of A. M. and B. S., and of McGill University Medical College, Montreal, from which he graduated with the titles of M. D., and C. M. He joined the Susquehanna county medical society in 1876. During the late war with Spain served nearly a year as surgeon. The funeral took place on Sunday.

When the "Book of Mormon"-which was "translated" in Susquehanna-was published in 1830, there was published with it a certificate of three men, afterward known as "the three witnesses." who declared that they saw an angel of God come down with the golden book, which Joseph Smith, et. al. interpreted. Subsequently all three of these men renounced Mormonism and declared their testimony false. David F. Whitner, one of the trio, died in Missouri. He was a brother-in-law of Oliver Cowderg, who wrote a copy of the book for Smith.

Bre'r More, of the Great Bend Plain-Dealer, had a few, whitened locks, and the dye man sold him a bottle of the stuff. One application made those locks a beautiful cucumber green, and it required the services of a chemist to make them white again. The hair dye man was in Susquehanna a few days ago, and just as the chap was about to take the train for home, a wicked wag asked him why he didn't "sell Sam More a bottle?" Then the aye man winked the other eye, and commenced humming the old, familiar

EXIT FOUR WILDCATS.

Mrs. Woodward, of Mount Pleasant recently had a thrilling experience with four wildcats. She stepped outside the kitchen door, intening to place a pan of milk in a cooler, and as she closed the door she was confronted with four wildcats sitting in a row Her lusty screams brought the hired man with a rifle, and after an exciting running fight three wild cats were killed, while the fourth ran away. Mr. Woodward returned at this juncture, and found his wife on the verge of hysteries. That night she complained of hearing a wildnight she complained of hearing a wildcat outside. To satisfy her, Mr. Woodward went out with his gun, and, sure enough, there was the remaining wildcat It was promptly dispatched, and Mrs. Woodward slept in peace.

SIM RANDALL'S TUSSLE.

Sim Randall, a Gulf Summit lumber man, and his two dogs treed a big wildcat near the Cascade. The cat hid in the branches of the tree, and while Randall was circulating around in the brush and fallen timber to catch sight of the beast, it sprang with a scream upon his back. The cat struck Randall with such force as to knock him down. Immediately the two dogs flew at the cat to protect their master, and a terrific rough-and-tumble fight followed. The dogs made it so hot for the cat that it ran up another tree. Randali then shot it dead.

THE MARKETS.

Wall Street Review.

By Associated Press. New York, May 25.—Transactions in stocks today were on a larger scale and trading more animated than for several days past. There were evidences of a considerable outside interest in the market especially in railroad stocks. But considerable outside interest in the market especially in railroad stocks. But operations continued still in very large part in professional hands. It was a conflict between the bulls and bears for supremacy and the bulls easily had the best of it. The decision of the Stock exchange to keep closed over a double holiday from the coming Saturday until Wednesday was a motive for closing up accounts both long and short. Total sales, 452,500 shares. A Great Bend man recently concected

By Carrington & Cusack. New York, May 25.—The market opened with a considerable show of strength which was caused by the demand to cover shorts. Traction stocks were gencover shorts. Traction stocks were generally firmer in view of the prospect of teh passing of the amended Ford bill. The whole sentiment seemed to have changed over night and as we Intimated in last night's letter, the covering of the large bears seems to have taken place on yesterday's sharp decline. Sugar advanced on relatively small purchases and the Steel stocks gained fair amounts on the covering by belated shorts. The temper has changed to a more builtsh following and there was a slight increase in temper has changed to a more bullish fol-lowing and there was a slight increase in commission house business. The publi-cation of Mr. Sage's bullish interview and the fact that the market is quite heavily eversoid, is doing as much as anything to raily the list, and it tooks to us as if prices would advance some-what further. The news of the Ford bill-indicates the passage of the amended bill, and the Traction steeks showed the efindicates the passage of the amended bill, and the Traction stocks showed the effect of the better feeling from this source. As a matetr of fact, the raily was due as much to manipulation by bull interests and the consequent covering of the short raders as to anything else. Wheat, which should be a certain indication of the octlook for the Granger stricks, was particularly strong and crop reports was of a distinctly unfavorable character, so that it is but fair to presume that the rally in the Grangers was due as much to short covering as to any outside buying for investment. Chicago, which is particularly close to as to any outside buying for investment. Chicago, which is particularly close to the scene of damage, continues radically bearish on the wheat situation and on the advance was a rice seller of Burlington, St. Paul and Atchison preferred, the offerings being absorbed by local interests. The demand for Atchison preferred fair advance and around present values we think is a sale. The close was irregu-
