OBSERVANCE OF MEMORIAL DAY

Graves of the Honored Dead Decorated in the Morning.

PARADE IN AFTERNOON

It Was a Very Creditable Demonstration-In Line Were the Veterans, Sons of Veterans, Thirteenth and Eleventh Regiments and the Soldiers Who Served in the Engineer Corps-Exercises in Griffin Post Room After the Parade-Patriotic Exercises Held Last Night by the Two Local Posts.

CRANTON observed the new Memorial day most fittingly The heroes of the two wars, in many instances father and son, joined in paying tribute to the memory of their fallen comrades in appropriate exercises at their graves during the morning, a parade during the afternoon and various exercises within doors in the evening.

The weather that had been so threatening for the preceding three days turned out fair with the rising of the sun and when the hour for the beginning of the exercises arrived the day was ideal. The delightful weather and the fact that the holiday was generally observed throughout the city resulted in a large attendance at all the various events.

Decorating the Graves.

ETAILS of the Grand Army posts decorated the graves of soldiers in the various cemeeries of the city during the morning. The charming weather attracted an mmense crowd to the beautiful Forest Hill cemetery, where the usual Memorial day services were held. The exercises took place on the soldiers' plot and so great was the crowd that hundreds were unable to hear the speakers.

Commander A. B. Stevens, of Griffin post, was in charge. A large chorus of children from No. 27 school, under the direction of J. B. Hawker, principal of the school, rendered patriotic songs with splendid effect.

Rev. W. J. Simpson, of the Asbury Methodist Episcopal church, a veteran of the war, delivered an eloquent address. He made a special reference to the great patriotism displayed by Abraham Lincoln. A pretty and unique feature of the exercises was the placing of flags and flowers upon the soldiers' graves by forty-six young misses and forty-six young masters. Offerings were made by the members of the Women's Re lief corps, No. 50, and of the Sons of Veterans. The former were represented by Mrs. Fred. Warner and the gift was accepted by the Rev. W. Q. Scott. chaplain of Lieutenant Ezra S. Griffin post, No. 139, G. A. R.

Acting Commander Dewey Boyce endered the offering from the Sons of Veterans and Commander Asa B. Stevens, of the post, accepted. The rollcall of the dead was read by E, W, Pearce, officer of the day, and prayer and benediction was offered by the Rev. W. Q. Scott.

The formation was as follows: Lawrence band; George Okell, grand marshal; Scranton division, No. 60, Knights of Pythias, Uniformed Rank; Sons of Veterans; Fairview lodge, No. 369, Knights of Pythias, Petersburg; Relief Hose company; Electric City council, No. 958. Junior Order of American Mechanics; school children to the number of 400, led by School Controller Jacob Schaeffer and Rudolph Buenzli. The school children all carried flags and made a fine appearance. R. O. Bryant, acting commander, and George F. Millett, officer of the day, took charge of the services at the Petersburg Protestant and Catholic cemeteries. The former read the ritual service and the latter the roll call of the dead. At the Protestant cemetery the choir of the Presbyterian church sang "Honor to Whom Honor Is Due" and "Through the Dark Valley," and prayer was offered by the Rev. Mr. Steinberg, who also delivered the address of the day. His remarks were full of patriotic fervor and received hearty applause. COMMANDER BRYANT SINGS

Commander Bryant sang "Cover Them Over," after which the silent salute was given. Lincoln's Gettysburg address was read and a chorus of pupils from No. 5 school sang 'America" and "The Star Spangled Banner." Rev. Fuller, F. Kline, F. Wintermuth, John Leber and John Johnston.

The members of the squad and J. Howard Poust represented the Sons of Veterans at the services and the G. A. R. was represented by George F. Millett, Philip Sweitzer and Henry Knoepfel.

At the Catholic cemetery the same services were conducted, the children assisting in the singing. The address of the day was delivered by Dr. E. W. Grewer, of Colonel W. N. Monies post, No. 319. The same firing squad and committees were in charge.

Past Commander S. B. Mott and a detail from Lieutenant Ezra S. Griffin post, No. 139, G. A. R., had charge of the services at the Washburn street cemetery. Commander Mott read the service and Officer of the Day W. J. McDonnell the roll call of deceased comrades, following which the silent salute was given, Rev. J. P. Moffatt, pastor of the Washburn Street Presbyterian church, offered prayer, and "America" was sung by a quartette comprising the Misses Sallor and Davis and Messrs. Reppert and Derman. Rev. J. P. Moffatt, as orator of the day, delivered an address which evoked much applause from the vast assemblage. He spoke of the thrilling war scenes and paid a high tribute to the memory of the dead of both wars.

PRESENTATION OF FLOWERS.

Commander Mott read Lincoln's Gettysburg address, after which the quartette sang "Our Fallen Comrades." The presentation of flowers to the "Unknown Dead" by the ladies of the Women's Relief corps, Mrs. T. H.
