FRANK CARLUCCI HAS RESIGNED

SEVERS CONNECTION WITH THE BUILDERS' EXCHANGE.

Stonecutters Employed by Him Say They Will Refuse to Go to Work Today-At Strike Headquarters Mr. Carlucci's Resignation Is Said to Be a Trick for the Purpose of Breaking the Backbone of the Tie-up-Building Trades' Council Met Last Night.

The resignation of Frank Carlucci, the well known contractor and dealer in stone, from the Builders' exchange was the event of importance as regards the strike situation yesterday. Mr. Carlucci's resignation was tendered in the morning and was discussed and accepted at a special meeting of the exchange which was held in their rooms at 11 o'clock.

Mr. Carlucci is the sub-contractor for furnishing the stone for the new emigrant station which is being built in island, in New York harbor. Since the stone cutters have been called off from his yards by order of the Building Trades' council he has been unable to ship all the stone required by the masonry contractor in New York. The contractor has, of course, been clamoring for stone, and it stated that Mr. Carlucci was informed that if he did not ship stone it would be procured elsewhere and charged to

Mr. Carlucel states that he reagned from the exchange for this reason and that he will take back all the men who went out on sympathy with the strik-

STONE CUTTERS MET.

The stone cutters, at a well attended and orderly meeting held late yesterday afternoon, unanimously decided to stay out until the existing difficulty between the carpenters and the exchange is settled. This action was, as a matter of course, the only one that ould be taken if the members of the Stone Cutters' union wished to continue in affiliation with the Building Trades' ouncil. That body, having ordered a complete tie-up, would of necessity expel any union which refused to obey ts mandates, At strike headquarters it is said that

Mr. Carlucci's resignation was a diplomatic move on the part of the Builders' exchange to break up the tie-up. The strikers argue that the members of the exchange thought that the stone cutters would go back to work upon learing that Mr. Carlucci had resigned and that the other unions out on sympathy would follow suit when they aw the tie-up was broken. This would allow work to be resumed on several large jobs which are tied up and in which the services of bricklayers in particular are required.

Whether or not this is true is not known. At all events Mr. Carlucci's resignation has been tendered and acrepted and his check deposited as a forfeit is now in the hands of the reasurer of the exchange. B. F. Laudig, secretary of the exchange, stated yesterday afternoon that the resignaion would have no effect whatever upon the members of the exchange and that that body stood just as solid as

He stated that in the majority of cases they only have two or three and that there they have more they are so unskilled in the craft that they are practically of no use.

A few carpenters and plasterers left city yesterday for New York, where they have obtained positions, but the exodus so far has practically amounted to nothing.

The situation as regards the plaserers and tinners is the same as on the very first day and it is probable that there will be no settlement of this difficulty until the carpenters' strike is dages have become popular. With few exceptions, all these words are technical, and their true significance is only understood by the electrician and the machinist. The members of the Flemish Academy of Anvers recently deermined to frame a word which would be readily intelligible to all who under-tand the language of Flanders and who have ever seen a horseless carriage, and the result was that after much deep hought they framed the following word Snelpaardelooszonderspoorwegperrolrij

This cuphordous word signified "a car tage which is worked by means of per roleum, which travels fast, which has no horses and which is not run on rails. That is, from one point of view, a fin xample of multum in parvo, but it may e questioned whether one extraordinarily ong word is preferable to half a dozen

The Flemish people, however, think differently, and the Academy of Anvers has been highly complimented by them on its linguistic skill as seen in this nique word.-New York Herald.

OF PAVE REPAIRS

CITY ENGINEER IS BOUND ON HAVING GOOD WORK.

To Make Sure That the Specifications of the Contract Are Lived Up to, He Has Detailed Two Specially Schooled Members of His Corps to Watch the Mixing and Laying of Asphalt-Train Load of Sand That Didn't Just Suit the City Engineer Was Condemned.

If the Barber Asphalt company is not aying good pave under its repair contract it is no fault of City Engineer Joseph P. Phillips. Unlike any other contract for improvements or repairs into which the city has entered, the city engineer is in the present instance made inspector. Ever since entering upon the office, Mr. Phillips has contended for the placing of all inspectors in charge of his department and now that it has for once been done he proposes to show that what he has conended for is a wise move. His first step as inspector was to conemn a train load of sand which the Barber company had purchased and accepted from T. B. Howe. Mr. Philips specified that coarse sand should be used and gave the company a sample of what he wanted. When the first train load of the sand was delivered the company was satisfied with it and thought it just the proper thing, but Mr. Phillips staked his judgment against that of the Barber company's xperts, declared the sand too coarse and refused to allow it to be used.

A bed of sand that matched the entineer's sample exactly was found at Moosic after two days search and a bargain was made for such of it as the paying company might want to use. Yesterday the active work of resurfacing was commenced, and before the day was over the southerly side of the 300 block of Luckawanna avenue was all but completed, Patrick Coar and Charles Schroeder, of the city engineer's corps who have been specially schooled by Mr. Phillips in asphalt mixing and laying are ermanently occupied as inspectors, Mr. Schroeder overseering the mixing proess at the asphalt plant and Mr. Coar inspecting the laying. Before a load of asphalt starts from the plant it must bear Inspector Schroeder's approval as to ingredients and consistency. Before the asphalt is allowed to be dumped at the scene of at several points to ascertain its temperature. If it is above 300 or below 250 degrees it is condemned and sent back to the nt. As yet not a single load has been condemned either at the plant or the scene of the paving operations, indicating that the company, to say the least for it, has a high regard for expert inspectors.
