THE GRIFFIN ART COMPANY.

Latest Addition to Scranton's Long List of Enterprises. A well-known business house in this city has undergone a metamorphosis which will interest a large number of people, as it has grown with the town and has become such a well recognized institution that intimation of a change will be received with surprise. Reference is made to the Griffin art studio and gallery, which for years has been successfully directed by its proprietor, C. L. Griffin. This establishment is no more, but has been merged into "The Griffin Art Company," owned and capitalized at a large figure by a stock company made up of some of the most prominent business men of Scranton, with C. L. Griffin as manager. The business is to be vastly enlarged, and the high standard of art goods will be still more marked. The photographic section will continue to be under Mr. Griffin's direction, but the new department is a product of his inventive genius which will be known on the market as "The Griffin Water Color Series," in which will be published reproductions of the most famous pictures of the world in water color of an exquisite type at prices far below anything ever before seen in works of art of that description. Among other new features will be a surprise in the way of a photographic discovery, which will be placed before the public in a fortnight. A separate department has also been made for cameras and kodak supplies, and the new departure of the company promises to be something which in every respect will redound to the glory of Scranton's enterprise.

CLOSED FOR THE SUMMER.

Scranton Conservatory Will Resume on Monday, Sept. 11. The summer term of the Scranton Conservatory of Music closed Saturday and teachers and students enter upon a well earned vacation preparatory to the resumption of work on Monday, September 11th.

In conjunction with its daily work of teaching throughout the year, the Conservatory gave, as is well known, three successful performances of the opera of the Gondoliers at the Lyceum and it was under the Conservatory's auspices that the great pianist, Rosenthal, played to a full house. Recently the second annual concert of the Conservatory was given at St. Luke's parish house, winning unqualified approbation.

BIG SHAKING UP AT HIGH SCHOOL

DR. PHILLIPS AND PROFESSOR LOOMIS ARE IN DANGER.

Report of High and Training School Committee Contemplates Removal of the Principal and Assistant Principal and Promotion of Professor John U. Wagner and Professor E. A. Cruttenden—Miss Mary L. Niland to Get the Vacancy in the Commercial Department. Board Did Not Meet.

But for the absence of two members of the "loyal eleven" of the board of control, Mr. Schwass, who is on his wedding tour, and Mr. Evans, who hesitated in becoming a party to the deal, an attempt would have been made last night to oust both the principal and assistant principal of the high school, Dr. George W. Phillips and Prof. F. M. Loomis. The thing was intended as a surprise, but it leaked out during the afternoon and when the time for the meeting came the board found itself without a quorum, although every member, excepting Mr. Schwass was about the city hall.

Neither side wanted a meeting, the majority because it needed its full strength and did not have it; the minority because it was opposed to the scheme that was on foot. Chairman Davis went through the formality of calling the meeting to order and declaring adjournment. The members who answered roll call were nine in number, as follows: Messrs. Shires, Phillips, Casey, Roche, May, Schaefer, Schriever, Barker, Davis. There was no significant action taken at the attendance. Had there been any danger of a quorum there would likely have been an exodus from both sides of the house.

NO CAUSE ASSIGNED.

No cause is assigned by the high and training school committee for the dismissals their report recommends. Personal unpopularity with the faculty and students and want of harmony with the administration are attributed as the reasons. Prof. John U. Wagner is scheduled to be promoted and E. A. Cruttenden, principal of No. 16, in the Fourteenth ward, is slated to take Prof. Loomis' place as assistant principal. Prof. James R. Hughes, another member of the high school faculty, was threatened, it is said, but was saved at the last minute by outside influence.

The report further recommends that Miss Mary L. Niland, of 429 Chestnut street, stenographer in the office of Jessup & Jessup, be appointed to the vacancy in the commercial department, created by the resignation of Miss Katherine A. Haggerty. The report of the teachers' committee was also presented and ready to be submitted last night. It recommended no dismissals and very few changes, the only one of importance being the promotion of Miss Mary A. Fitzgibbon to the principalship of No. 16, to succeed Prof. Cruttenden. The vacancy to be caused by the resignation of Miss Margaret Wind, of Primary A in No. 21, is to be filled by the appointment of Miss Hart, of Green Ridge.

PERMANENT APPOINTMENTS.

The report further contemplates the permanent appointment of the substitutes who are continuously employed and also finds places for two of this year's graduating class of the Training school.

The heretofore announced provision for an increase in the wages of beginners and intermediate teachers who have had twelve years' experience was included in the report. Graduates of a Normal school are to receive $35, where formerly they received only $25. Graduates of the High and Training school are to start in at $40 instead of $32, as formerly. A graduate of the High school who also graduates from a Normal school will be started in on the same footing as a High and Training school graduate. Teachers of the intermediate grade who have taught for twelve years and who now receive $50, are to receive $60 next year, provided the committee's report is adopted, which condition, of course, holds good also in the other case.

The High and Training school committee is composed of the following: B. T. Jayne, John Gibbons, H. J. O'Malley, Louis Schwass, D. I. Phillips. The teachers' committee is made up as follows: D. I. Phillips, Peter Neuls, John Gibbons, Dennis J. Roche, E. J. Leonard, H. J. O'Malley, P. S. Barker. A special meeting will likely be called before the week is over.

RECITAL OF JUNIOR PUPILS.

Given in the Lecture Room of the Penn Avenue Baptist Church. The junior recital of the pupils from the Scranton College of Music, Haydn Evans, Director, was held last evening in the lecture room of the Penn Avenue Baptist church. A large audience was present and showed their appreciation of the selections offered by loud and frequent applause. The pupils all displayed remarkable ability and shrewdness in the result of their training. The following pupils took part in the recital: Mabel Jarfue, Grace Rettew, Jennie Eynon, Notie Edmunds, Helen Lathrop, Gertrude Dennis, Margaret Early, Lauretta Fahoy, Nellie Clark, A. Milton Charles and Ivor Price. A ladies' quartette composed of the following rendered two charming selections: Mrs. Brundage, Mrs. Long, Mrs. Evans and Miss Sadie Edwards. The recital of the senior pupils will be held at the same place on Thursday evening next.

IN SOUTHWORTH'S STUDIO.

Recital by His Junior Pupils and Those of Miss Allen. Professor Southworth's beautiful studios were crowded to their utmost limit last night when his junior pupils and those of Miss Allen gave a delightful musical. The piano solos by these very young students gave evidence of remarkable ability and most careful direction. The programme was rendered by Misses Clara Beesner, Norma Williams, Anna Clark, Lella Woodruff, Elizabeth Palmer, Lida Houser, Angela Healey, May Winters, Mattie Kline, Nan Robertson, Anna Roos, Fannie M. Townsend, Carrie Clifford, Nina Frank, Laura Meldrum and Mr. W. Peck. A group of small maidens with Justo Rodriguez, a little fellow, whose Cuban blood and great musical talent are evident in his dark, enthusiastic face, and MacNair Phillips, son of Prof. George W. Phillips, played most charmingly an ensemble quartet by Lehmann, on violins. The girls were Lida Houser, Edna Cary, Nellie Smith, Venice MePeck, Lizzie Kelly. The violin work gave great credit to Miss Allen's teaching. Misses Nellie Smith and Edna Cary played a violin duet and Misses Laura Meldrum and Edith Davis concluded the programme with a prettily rendered number on the violin and piano.

METHODIST MINISTERS MEET.

Interesting Paper Read by the Rev. R. M. Pascoe, A. M., of Avoca. The Methodist Ministers' association of Scranton and vicinity met at the Elm Park church yesterday at the usual time. Rev. A. Whittaker, of Wyoming seminary, conducted the devotions. Rev. R. M. Pascoe, A. M., of Avoca, made a very strong and scholarly paper on the subject, "The Supreme Lesson of History." The essayist was very optimistic in his view of present day conditions, believing that this century, notwithstanding the pessimistic grumblings, was the best and brightest of all. He aims to refrain from publishing a hundred years from now licensed gallons would be a thing of the past. The essay was thoroughly enjoyed by all and a vote of thanks extended. The following resolution was passed by the association.

Resolved, that we express to Mayor Mott our profound appreciation of the stand taken by him in regard to Sunday base ball and that it be the sense of this association as far as possible to stand by the subject, "The Supreme Lesson of History," in his crusade against Sabbath desecration.

Resolved, secondly, that a committee be appointed to request the Scranton Times to refrain from publishing challenges of Sunday base ball. Signed by the association. The following members were present: Rev. W. G. Simpson, D. D., Rev. C. M. Giffin, D. D., Rev. R. M. Pascoe, A. M., Rev. A. W. Cooper, A. M., Rev. Joseph Madison, D. D., H. J. Reynolds, Rev. EVIDENTLY OF NOBLE BIRTH.

Examination of the Effects of Rev. John Kowala. An examination of the personal effects of the late Rev. John Kowala, who was found dead in bed Saturday morning at his apartments on Summit avenue, was conducted yesterday by a committee of the Lutheran ministerium with a view of ascertaining some knowledge of his family connections. From letters found in his trunk it was gleaned that he has a son and daughter living in Silecia, Austria, and an uncle who is or was an officer in the Austrian army. The character of the correspondence would indicate that the dead minister was from a family of noble birth. Diplomas and certificates found among his effects disclosed the fact that he was a graduate of the Vienna Theological seminary and the Royal University of Erlangen, and that he was accorded high honors in his classes, especially in the languages, having certificates of excellence in Latin, Greek, French and Hebrew. He was born in Nedeck, Austria, May 21, 1845, and was, therefore, 54 years of age. His children will be notified at once of his death. The funeral will take place this morning at 10.30 o'clock. Services will be conducted at the Holy Trinity Lutheran church by Rev. C. G. Spieker. Interment will be made in Dunmore cemetery.

EXAMINATION OF PRIESTS.

Will Be Held in St. Thomas College This Week. Next Friday will begin the first annual examination of the priests of the Scranton diocese who have been in the ministry less than five years. It will be held at St. Thomas college and will be conducted by Rt. Rev. Bishop Hoban and the permanent board of examiners, consisting of Rev. John Koepfer, of Williamsport; Rev. John Berghoff, of White Haven, and Rev. R. A. McAndrew, of Wilkes-Barre. There are thirty priests who will be called upon to take the examination. The branches in which they will be examined are ecclesiastical history, moral and dogmatic theology, canon law and liturgy.

CONSPIRACY ACT NOT GOOD LAW

OPINION HANDED DOWN BY JUDGE GUNSTER.

He Says the Act of June 4, 1897, Is Unconstitutional and Therefore He Made Absolute the Rule to Quash the Indictment in the Case of the Commonwealth Against George Clarke, Who Was Indicted at the Instance of Lewis A. Mack. Reasons for the Judges Action.

Judge F. W. Gunster yesterday declared unconstitutional the act of the legislature of June 4, 1897, known as the "conspiracy act," which was intended to "protect employees of corporations in their right to form, join or belong to labor organizations by prescribing penalties for any interference therewith."

When the case came up for trial a motion was made to quash the indictment on the ground that the act was unconstitutional. The matter was argued at the last term of argument court and yesterday Judge Gunster handed down his opinion declaring the act unconstitutional and making absolute the rule to quash the indictment. The opinion is as follows:

JUDGE'S OPINION. Many reasons have been assigned in support of this rule. Many of them are aimed at the constitutionality of the act under which the indictment is drawn. We do not think it necessary to consider all of them. The indictment is drawn under the act of June 4, 1897, P. L. 184, entitled "An act to protect employees of corporations in their right to form, join or belong to labor organizations by prescribing penalties for any interference therewith." It is a fundamental principle of our government, firmly engrained on the constitution by the fourth amendment, that no state shall deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the law. The act in question affords no protection whatever to the employe of the individual or firm or limited partnership. On the contrary while the employe of a corporation, under its protection, may freely form, join or belong to any lawful labor organization, his neighbor engaged in the same occupation or trade when employed by an individual or firm, may be as freely banished for doing the same thing. The word liberty as used in our constitutional declarations means more than freedom of locomotion. It includes and comprehends among other things freedom of speech, the right of self defense against unlawful violence, the right to live and work where he will, to earn his livelihood in any lawful calling, to pursue any lawful trade or avocation, and to freely buy and sell as others may. Story on Constitution, 5th ed., sec. 127, and it may be added, to employ and discharge whomsoever you will for reasons that are satisfactory to yourself. Commonwealth vs. Brown, 8 Superior Court Reports 22, is a case bearing upon this question, and is well worth careful study.

A SPECIAL LAW.

But the question need not be decided on these well established principles. The act of assembly under consideration is in violation of article 3, section 7, of our state constitution, which provides that "the general assembly shall not pass any local or special law. A law regulating labor, trade, mining or manufacture." It cannot be sustained as a police regulation. It is a special law applicable only to cases of employees of corporations. The rule is made absolute.

This opinion is of importance from the fact that this was the first prosecution in the state under this act and consequently the first time it received a judicial review. Smoke the Hotel Jermyn Cigar 10c.
