CARBONDALE.

PREPARATIONS FOR THE 4TH.

Carbondale is to have the biggest Fourth of July celebration in the history of the city. Among the latest societies to join the line are the Foresters and Red Men, of Jermyn, and the Italo-Americans of this city. The electric company has offered to furnish at a very low rate several incandescent lamps for the buildings of the business men in order to show off the bunting and other decorations at night. The illumination of the arches and of the business places will begin Friday night. The Germania singing society met Saturday and the Grand Army of the Republic will meet Wednesday to complete arrangements for coming out on that day.

All of the local wheelmen take great interest in the bicycle parade and as the participants are not restricted to any organization, this department of the celebration will probably be very

ORGANIZING A KEG FUND.

The miners at the Coalbrook colliery of the Delaware and Hudson in this city are contemplating the formation of a keg fund. This is one of the characteristic institutions of the coal regions and wherever organized has been a source of much benefit. The funds thus laid aside are devoted to helping the members who may have been inthe members who may have been in-jured or incapciated by sickness. They will hold a meeting this week to elect officers and perfect an organization.
