Vice-President Young Could Not Say What the Future of the Bed of the Canal Will Be-Saving Resulting from the Abandoning of the Canal. Steam Road to Be Built Over the Mountain from Waymart to Carbondale-Switchback at Shepherd's Crook on the Gravity.

R. M. Olyphant, of New York, and H. G. Young, of Albany, president and vice-president respectively of the Delaware and Hudson company, arrived here yesterday on their annual tour of inspection and are stopping at the Jer-

They came over the Erie to Honesdale and thence by the gravity to Carbondale and on to Scranton, arriving here late in the afternoon. Today they will inspect the company property hereabouts and, this evening, proceed on their way to Albany, making inspections as they go along and consulting with the various division officers.
Superintendent C. R. Manville, C. C. Rose, head of the coal department, and

J. H. Torrey, the company's local legal representative, conferred with them at the Jermyn last evening. To a Tribune reporter Mr. Young said the visit had no special significance, being the customary annual trip of the president and vice-president over the company's various lines.

DOES NOT KNOW.

Asked concerning the probability of a railroad being constructed along the bed of the canal, Mr. Young said: "You know as much about it as we do. We sold the canal at a good price and the purchaser not vouchsafing any information as to what he intended to do with it, we thought it was not our

The Wall Street Journal of yesterday contained the following:

The Delaware and Hudson Railroad company is said to be able to deliver coal at Albany or tidewater since the abandonment of the canal at Roundout at an actual saving of 45 cents per ton to the company. This saving comes from changing their old methods to modern ones and the economy of hand-ling from cars to boat and from boat back to cars or docks. This great saving per ton will show in the aggregate very handsome net returns to the road.

We hear that arrangements are being made for a trip of inspection over the Delaware and Hudson railroads by the Vanderbilts and their representatives. Although the Vanderbilts are large owners of Delaware and Hudson, this trip is looked upon as of special signineance at this particular time. It is thought also to be the basis, in a mensure, of some of the recent large buying of Delaware and Hudson stock by houses with good Vanderbilt informa-

Mr. Young had read the article, and when questioned concerning it, said: "As much of it as relates to the saving resulting from the abandonment of the canal is true, but the latter part of it, dealing with the proposed trip of the Vanderbilts, conveys an intimation that is a pure manufacture. It is a clear case of someone having nothing to write and writing it."

ROAD OVER THE MOUNTAIN

The following story was sent out last night by the Associated Press: Honesdale, June 29.-The Eric and Delaware and Hudson companies have reached a working agreement. The Delaware and Hudson will begin imme-diately to build a steam road over the Moosic mountains from Waymart to Carbondale. The Eric and Delaware and Hudson roads were joined at Honesdale this week and today President Olyphant and Vice President Young came from New York via the Erie and were the first to ride over the joined section of the two

They announced that a union station will be built in Honesdale immediately and the Delaware and Hudson coal will be run to tidewater via the Erie road The road between Honesdale and Way-mart will be straightened and Shepherd's Crook will be displaced by a switch-back. The grade from Carbondale to Farview is about fifty feet to the mile. Vice President Young could give no in-formation as to the future of the abandoned Delaware and Hudson canal. He stated that it had passed entirely out of the hands of the company and in his pinion nothing would be done with it.

PUPILS ARE INDIGNANT.

Take Action Concerning the Effort to Remove Prof. Phillips from the Position of Principal of the High School.

The pupils who have been attending the high school during the past year held a mass-meeting yesterday morning in Snover's hall for the purpose of protesting against the proposed removal of Professor Phillips, principal of the high school. There were over 600 pupils in attendince and a very enthusiastic crowd they were. Speeches were made by a number and the preamble and resolutions which follow were unanimously adopted. They will be presented to the board of control at its next meeting. The resolutions are as follows:

The relation that exists between the eacher and pupil is akin to that which is observed between parent and child. The conscientious instructor who embodies tenderness and watchfulness with wisdom and patience, wins the esteem, confidence and affection of hose he instructs quite as firmly and lastingly as does the kindest and most considerate father. They look to him as their guide, friend and benefactor, and when unjust criticism is ruthlessly directed towards him they but respond to a noble impulse of nature when they raise their voices in his behalf and invoke justice in his defense. The students of the High school of Scranton learning that their principal, Professor George W. Phillips, is being unfairly dealt with by a considerable number of the school controllers, and in justifica-tion of their action, the said controllers have estimated that the said Professor Phillips is not entirely acceptable to the students of the said High school,

therefore be it Resolved, That we, the students of the High school of the city of Scranton. do hereby record with all the emphasis we can employ our perfect confidence and respect for Professor George W Phillips as a man and educator. We know him to be painstaking in the discharge of his duties, attentive to every letail of his work, commendably firm in discipline and considerate of the feelings, advancement and best interests of those under his charge. We regard even the remotest intimation that he is not in harmony with our every desire as students, as being without a shadow of foundation. No teacher shadow of foundation. No teacher could more fully enjoy the reverence of those he taught as does Professor George W. Phillips, and be it further Resolved, That a copy of these reso-lutions be sent to each school control-ler of the city of Scranton as an evidence of our devotion to the principal of the High school, and as an em-phatic disapproval of the intimation that he is not in the fullest accord with our tastes, desires and highest conceptions of a model educator. John A. Horan, Edward N. Kirkbride, Margaret Ruddy, Ethel Peck, Rolland

KIRKPATRICK-HANLEY.

Ceremony Performed in the Second Presbyterian Church at Noonday.

A beautiful noonday wedding took lace yesterday in the Second Presbyterian church, when Miss Margaret porothea Hanley, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hanley, was married to H. S. Kirkpatrick.

The day was fine beyond the resiest expectations of the most interested friends. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. C. E. Robinson. The altar and chancel were massed high with palms and starred with daisies Indeed it was a Marguerite wedding.

fitting alike in loveliness and significance the bride's Christian name. Bouquets of daisles were tied to the pews set aside for occupancy by the relatives and the bridesmaids carried huge clusters of the pure blossoms and wore them in their hats. Their gifts from the bride were pearl rings thus carrying out the pretty sentiment. The bride wore white satin with real lace and pearl trimmings. Her veil was fastened with a diamond star, the gift of the groom. She carried bride reses. Miss Hanley, the bride's sister, was maid of honor. She were white organdie with a tunic bordered with acordion plaiting, with yoke and sleeve of delicate insertion and tucks. fichu trimmed with plaiting and knotted low on the shoulders completed the simple but effective costume, bridesmaids, gowned precisely like the maid of honor, were Miss Mary Linen, Miss Annie Hand, Miss Alice Siebert. of Columbus, O., and Miss Ruth Hanley. All wore picture hats, trimmed with taffeta ribbon and daisles. maid of honor carried American beauty roses. Little Grace McLean, a cousin of the bride, were white organdle and carried daisles.

The ushers were Messrs, William Hanley, jr., James B. Cook, of Bellefonte; Charles Foster, of West Pitts-ton; Bevan Decker, Arthur Williams and Robert Snyder. The groom was attended by his brother, Willis Kirkpatrick. The processional was particularly effective, as the maids and ushers walked down the centre nisle and back to the church door to meet the bride and her father, whom they preceded to the altar. The wedding music was rendered by Mr. Charles Doersam.

At the conclusion of the ceremony, a breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents on Monroe avenue, when only relatives and a very few immediate friends were entertained. The gifts were many and unique in beauty and design.

The bride is one of the gentlest and fairest members of a large circle. Her charms of character, her beautiful charitable work, and many graces have given her more than the usual measure of devotion accorded a young girl. Mr. Kirkpatrick is the able assistant cashier of the County Savings bank, and is universally respected. Upon their return from an extended journey they will reside at 911 Monroe avenue. Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Misses Margaret and Blanche Cook, of Bellefonte; Miss Linterberg, Columbus, O.; Miss Fretz, Doylestown; Miss Strong, New Brunswick: Mrs. Foster, Miss Anna Law, West Pittston; Miss McMahon, Bradford: Miss Kathleen Hand, Wilkes-

Barre. MEETING CALLED FOR TONIGHT. Members of the Board of Control Will Assemble. By direction of President B. N. Davis, notices for a special meeting of the school board tonight, were cent out yesterday by Secretary Palaws. There s little or no question but what a quorum will be present as much business of a routine nature must be at tended to, but whether or not the much discussed reports of the high and training school and teachers' committees will be presented depends on a count of nones after the meeting is convened. A caucus of the prevailing faction was held last night and it is under-stood that they had secured a majority to support the reports. The return of Mr. Schwass from his wedding tour gives them assurance, so it is claimed that their programme will go through. Mr. Evans and Mr. Langan were still wavering, yesterday, but, last night, it was stated that their objections to dismissing Principal Phillips in the absence of specific charges were over-come and they would be found tonight supporting the committees reports. The building committee will present report awarding the contract for No. and No. 38 buildings to the lowest bidders. Peter Stipp on No. 9, and Washburn, Williams & Co., on No. 38.

An out-of-town teacher whose name could not be learned, is slated to succeed Professor Wagner if he is promoted to the principalship. The vacancy at No. 16, which will result from the transfer of Professor Crittenden and promotion of Miss Fitzgibbon will filled by Miss Larkin, of West Lackawanna avenue, a recent graduate of the training school .

THE LANGSTAFF CONTEST.

Only One-Third of the Witnesses for Respondent Yet Examined. At the hearing in the Langstaff election contest yesterday witnesses from Spring Brook and Jefferson were heard The respondents have now been examining witnesses steadily since Febru ary 6 and as yet have heard the testimony of only about one-third of the voters who are challenged in the bill of particulars. The time allotted to them expires August 15.

From now until then will be devoted to hearing the testimony of witnesses who reside in this city, and the attorneys for the respondents predict that there will be some very interesting testimony given. Officers for the respondents have been making investigations for weeks past, which the attorneys say has put them in possession of facts that insures a lively time for some residents of Scranton when they are placed on the witness stand. The witnesses examined yesterday were:
