M'NULTY AND KILKER CHARGED WITH ROBBERY. They Were Tried Yesterday Before Judge Weand—Charles Wrigley, Who Ran Down Anna Harris While Riding a Bicycle, Was Returned Not Guilty—A Similar Verdict Found in the Case of John Hoffman, Who Was Charged with Embezzlement—Other Cases.

Before Judge Henry K. Weand in court room No. 2 yesterday Michael McNulty and John Kilker, young men who reside on Luzerne street, were tried on a charge of robbery. It is alleged that on the morning of May 29 about 2 o'clock they met Charles Taylor on Main avenue, this city, between Price and Lafayette streets, held him up and attempted to rob him. He had $60 in his pocket, but he was able to prevent the young men from getting it. He alleges that they tore his trousers while endeavoring to get into his pockets. The defendants deny absolutely that they attempted to rob Taylor. They say they walked along Main avenue on the morning in question with Taylor, but made no attempt whatever to take any of his valuables from him. Immediately after the alleged attempt at robbery the young men were arrested by Patrolman Stephen Dyer, who was on the Main avenue beat that morning. The young men were defended by Attorney Conroy and Assistant District Attorney Thomas looked after the interests of the commonwealth. The jury will be charged this morning.

COSTS ON PROSECUTOR. Anthony Galovitz was tried for selling liquor without a license and on Sunday during January of this year in Fell township. Martin Stungess was the prosecutor. The case of Margaret Kelly, charged with assault and battery by George Herron, was given to the jury in court room No. 2 yesterday morning and a verdict of not guilty was returned after the prosecutor was directed to pay the costs. Both prosecutor and defendant reside in the Seventh ward of this city.

Charles Wrigley was tried on a charge of assault and battery, Anna Harris walking along Luzerne street one day when Wrigley came out of an alley on his bicycle and ran her down and quite seriously injured her. There was no evidence of intent on the part of Wrigley to injure the prosecutrix and a verdict of not guilty was taken and the costs placed on the county. Michael Obeliski and George Obeliski were returned not guilty of cutting timber trees and the prosecutor, John J. Greening, was directed to pay the costs. John Hayden, of Old Forge, who was tried Wednesday on a charge of selling liquor without a license preferred by Constable Matthew Beam, was yesterday returned not guilty, but directed to pay the costs.

Max Rosenbluth was acquitted of a charge of perjury and the costs were placed on L. Friedman, the prosecutor. A verdict of not guilty was taken in the case of Thomas Parr, who is charged with larceny by bailee by Joseph Rosenzwyk.

A verdict of not guilty was taken in the case of the commonwealth against George T. Helfrich, who is charged with violating the food laws. R. M. Summers, of the agricultural department, who was the prosecutor, was directed to pay the costs. In the case of false pretenses against P. Waldron a verdict of not guilty was taken and the costs placed on Thomas O'Boyle, the prosecutor. John Durkin was returned not guilty of assault and battery on P. P. McGovern, and the latter was directed to pay the costs. John Durkin was returned not guilty of being an accessory to the robbery of Kapushinski and the latter was directed to pay the costs.

THEY NEEDED THE VOTE.

So the Election Officers Went Out and Secured It. Up in Fell township an improvement to the existing laws was put in operation last spring that is worthy of consideration when the legislature next takes up the question of ballot reform.

On the day the February election was held, one George Washington Smith, a qualified voter of the Fourth district of Fell township, was too ill to go to the polls. The election board of that district considered it extremely unneighborly to deprive George W. of his vote because he was unable to cast it, and, anyway, they needed it. So they sent a committee armed with an official ballot to the residence of the disabled man, had him prepare it, and then went back to the voting booth and deposited the ballot as that of George Washington Smith.

All of this was disclosed at a hearing in the Fell township case, Tuesday, during the examination of James J. Ward, judge of election of the Fourth district hereinbefore mentioned. The contestants in the Fell township election contest now in progress are mean enough to question the legality of the vote of George Washington Smith and to intimate that the election officers of Fell were guilty of an illegal act.

The cotton used in these is one of the best known makes in America and the very best grade that is made.
