MINE ACCIDENTS.

Falls of Rock in Northwest and Wilson Creek Mines.

Michael Garboro, who resides in the old tannery boarding house at Simpson with his wife and two children, was seriously and possibly fatally injured yesterday. He was at work in the Northwest mines, when a heavy fall of rock caught him, crushing his left hip, breaking two bones near his right ankle and fracturing three ribs. He is suffering from shock and Dr. D. L. Bailey says he may not recover.

At the Wilson Creek mine, James Johns, of Dunfield street, was the victim of a similar accident, though he was not so badly hurt. His left leg was severely bruised and in removing him from the weight which pinned him down his ankle was badly wrenched. He will be laid up two or three weeks.

SCHOOL BOARD COMMITTEES.

President Moon, of the school board, has announced the following committees for 1899-1900: Building—Hughes, Vannan and Moon; janitors—Dimock, Hughes and Kerwin; books and supplies—Boylan, Kerwin and Vannan; course of study—Dimock, Boylan and Moon. At the instance of Mr. Vannan, one of the new directors, several of the janitors will be instructed to keep the buildings in their charge in better sanitary condition.

NOT ONE ARREST.

A remarkable fact in connection with this city's great Independence Day celebration is that there was not a single arrest. That so many visitors should be indulged in without a single case of disorderly conduct is certainly worthy of note. Where is there a town that can boast of such a clean record?

TAYLOR NEWS.

Miss Fannie Scrivens and Mr. Samuel Mallett United in Marriage—Other News of Interest.

At high noon Tuesday, Miss Fannie Scrivens, an estimable young lady of this town, was united in the bonds of holy matrimony to Mr. Samuel Mallett, a popular young man, of Ulica, N. Y. The ceremony was performed in the front of the bride's home on Union street by the Rev. Dr. H. H. Harris, of the Calvary Baptist church. The bride looked very attractive in a neat gown and presented a charming appearance. They were unattended, and only the relatives and immediate friends were present. A sumptuous dinner was served and several hours were pleasantly spent. They were the recipients of valuable and costly presents. Mr. and Mrs. Mallett left on a midnight train for Ulica, N. Y., where the groom has a neatly furnished home. Both have many well-wishing friends.

PECKVILLE.

Cuba, the twenty-two ton locomotive which pulls the coal from the Grassy Island shaft of the Delaware and Hudson to the Klondike breaker, owned by the same company, at Olyphant, was wrecked yesterday afternoon. The fireman, Frank Lemon, was quite badly injured.

The cause of the accident was the washing out of a part of the road bed at a culvert. The slow rate of speed no doubt saved the lives of both engineer and fireman. The engine had just been to the shaft and was returning to the breaker with a trip of cars when at a point near the Grassy breaker the engine struck the wash-out and toppled over on its side. Fireman James Lemon, on whose side the wash-out occurred, was quite badly injured by being thrown out of the cab, while Engineer John Williams escaped injury. It is expected that the engine, which is not badly smashed, will be placed on the rails today.

OLYPHANT.

D. Y. Davis, of Lackawanna street, sustained a painful injury Tuesday morning. He slipped on a banana peel and fell, spraining his ankle severely. Dr. Kelly was called and is attending the injured man.

A large number from here attended the picnic given by the congregation of Rev. J. M. Smouter's church, at Rock Lake, on Tuesday.

PITTSBURG.

William Godoski, a Poland, a workman in the P. & S. plant, dropped dead upon reaching the surface, on his way home, last evening. Although there was nothing to indicate the necessity of a coroner's investigation, that officer was notified and will decide if an inquest is necessary.

GO NORTH, BALDHEADS.

Some May Miss Finding Gold in the Klondike, but All Will Grow Hair From the San Francisco Call.
The experience of Hoderick Dhu Smith, who recently returned from the Klondike region with a big budget of experience, quite a little sum of money and a head of hair which almost qualifies him to take an engagement as a Circassian girl in a circus, is of especial interest to a large contingent of his fellow men and women. For he it knows that Hoderick, before making his perilous way to the Arctic regions, though otherwise pleasing to look upon and still on the sunny side of forty, was the owner of a head which made theatre ushers, whenever there was a ballet on the programme, escort him down to the front row without even glancing at his seat check.

While this might have been considered an advantage by some people, it was not pleasing to Mr. Smith, who is an essentially modest man and averse to being made prominent on any occasion. It is said, too, that this baldness was the real cause of his starting out in search of gold, since he spent all his patrimony in the purchase of hair-restorers, and it was necessary for him to do something, no matter how desperate, to retrieve his fortunes.

Be that as it may, he went to Alaska, and after a two years' residence there, has returned a modern Samson, as far as chevelure is concerned, and he declares that the transformation is entirely due to the rigors of the climate in that quarter of the globe.

"The intense cold kills all the germs and microbes," he asserts, "and stimulates the scalp, and nature does the rest," and he proudly exhibits his lionlike mane as a proof of what nature can do when she takes a fancy, un-
