

EVENTS OF DAY IN WEST SCRANTON

BOARD OF TRADE MEETING LAST EVENING.

Several Matters of Local Interest Discussed—Charles Raine and Katherine Jones Married—Installation at Camp 33—Boy Badly Injured—Another Paskey Episode. Funerals of Mrs. Jones and Markwick's Child—Short News Notes and Gossip of a Personal Nature.

The West Side board of trade met last evening in regular session with the following members in attendance: President, Charles E. Daniels; secretary, Joseph Oliver; treasurer, William Farrell; T. Fellows Mason, S. H. Jones, Jenkin T. Reese, John Fern and E. M. Clarke.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. Several bills reported by the finance committee were ordered paid. Owing to the absence of John R. Farr, chairman of the committee on legislation, no report was made on the second class city matter.

President Daniels and Chairman Clarke, of the manufacturers committee, spoke regarding the location of new industries, and said that a established company was anxious to locate here, and Mr. Farrell reported that William T. Davis, of the firm of Carson & Davies, made an offer to erect a suitable building on Grant avenue, between Washburn and Jackson streets. The site is under consideration, but the promoters would prefer a site nearer town.

The names of William C. Davis, Edward Howell, Charles Sanker and Dr. George B. Beach were proposed for membership, and they were elected by a unanimous vote. The matter of the Franklin engine was referred to, and Secretary Oliver reported that an ordinance had been introduced in council for the purchase of a new engine.

Another effort will be made to secure it under the new management of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company.

The hospital ambulance matter was brought up and a committee of three appointed to take the matter in hand. The committee named is John R. Farr, E. M. Clarke and F. Fellows Mason.

The board instructed the secretary to notify councils that they are favorable to the granting of a franchise to the Lackawanna Telephone company. The attention of the fire department committee was called to the fire hydrants at West Lackawanna and North Main avenues, Lafayette and Main and Hyde Park avenues and Wynms' court, and the matter will be reported to council.

CONCERT THURSDAY NIGHT.

The following programme will be given at a concert by the Hampton Street Methodist Episcopal church choir in the church Thursday evening:

- Vocal Solo, Contralto, "The Angels' Serenade" (G. Housat). With Violin Obligato. Mrs. Lou Evans, Mr. Evans, Violinist. Duet (Cornet), Selected. George and John King.

PART SECOND. Chorus, "On, On Swiftly We Glide," Veazie Choir. Recitation, "Elder Pelligrew's Helpmate" (Miss Anna Bennett).

- Vocal Solo, "The Bitter Land" (Cowan Mrs. W. G. House, accompanied by Nellie House). Violin Solo, "Air with Variations" (Study) (Pagantini). Prof. W. G. House, accompanied by Nellie House.

- Duet (Vocal), "Sailing on the Lake," Major Jennie and Annie Latster. Duet (Cornet) Selected. George and John King. Male Quartette, "The Twins" (Stella W. M. Prestwood, A. Bunde, B. T. Stone, C. A. Bennett).

Ice cream will be served in the church parlor at close of the concert.

RAINE-JONES NUPTIALS.

A quiet wedding occurred last evening at the home of Rev. Thomas de Gruchy, on Jackson street, at 8:30 o'clock, when Charles Raine, of North Park, and Miss Katherine Jones were united. The bride was attended by Miss Gertrude Williams, and Robert Hughes was groomsmen. Both ladies were prettily attired in white, and the bride, who is a handsome young lady, looked exceedingly charming.

Mr. Raine is employed as bookkeeper by C. B. Scott, of Franklin avenue, and his wife is the daughter of Mrs. John Jones, of Dickson city, and formerly resided on North Elmora avenue. The ceremony was witnessed by a few friends of the contracting parties.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Raine were driven to the bride's home in Dickson city, where a reception was tendered them. They will reside in North Park.

BOY BADLY INJURED.

Evan Roberts, a lad employed at the Storrs stone quarry in Bellevue, was badly injured yesterday afternoon by falling from a height into the rock pit. He was picked up by workmen and the Lackawanna ambulance called.

When the boy reached the hospital it was learned that his leg was fractured, his shoulder dislocated and one of his arms badly bruised. His chances for recovery are uncertain at this time.

PATRIOTIC SOCIETY OFFICERS.

District President Mrs. Randolph Jones last evening installed the following officers of Camp 33, Patriotic Order of Americans: President, Mrs. Belle Harris; assistant president, James P. Stanton; vice-president, Mrs.

MUNYON'S RHEUMATISM. I will guarantee that my Rheumatism Cure will relieve Jumps, sciatica and all rheumatic pains in two or three hours, and cure in a few days. At all druggists. 25c a vial. Guide to Health and medical advice free. 1608 Arch st., Phila.

Emily Hettes; assistant vice-president, Mrs. Agnes John; conductor, Mrs. Elizabeth Alford; assistant conductor, Mrs. Margaret Kelm; guard, Miss Mary Watkins; sentinel, Mrs. Louise Grass; trustee, James P. Stanton.

The officers of Camp 33, Patriotic Order of Sons of America, were to have been installed last evening in Masonic hall, but owing to the absence of the district president, the event was postponed until the next meeting.

ANOTHER PASKEY CASE.

Tony Paskey, of Wilkes-Barre, brother of Joe Paskey, a former proprietor of "The Red Onion," on North Main avenue, imitated his brother's manner of escape, from Chief of Police Kline, of Wilkes-Barre, yesterday, but was captured by Hardwareman Beers, and taken back to Wilkes-Barre.

Paskey stole a watch from some one in Wilkes-Barre and gave it to a young woman residing here. The prisoner came here in company with the chief to recover the timepiece, and after having secured the stolen article, Paskey tried to escape. He ran down West Lackawanna avenue, but was overtaken by Beers on horseback and handed over to the officer.

TWO FUNERALS YESTERDAY.

Rev. E. J. McHenry, of St. David's Episcopal church, officiated yesterday at the funeral services over the remains of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Markwick's child. The services were privately conducted at the house on Hampton street, and interment was made in Washburn street cemetery.

After the funeral services yesterday the remains of the late Mrs. Llewellyn Jones were held at the house on Thirteenth street at noon yesterday. Undertaker Price conveyed the body to the city cemetery at Wilkes-Barre, where interment was made.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Phenix Truesdell will be conducted at Mrs. Steenback's house on Oxford street at 12 o'clock today. The remains will be taken to Carbondale on the 1:35 Delaware and Hudson train.

GENERAL NEWS NOTES.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Morgan, who were recently married, returned from their wedding trip and were tendered a reception at the home of William E. Reese, on Fifteenth street, Monday evening. The event was very enjoyable.

Margaret Shaughnessy, of Longoran court, who lost the power of speech a few days ago, has almost fully recovered. At first she spoke in a harsh whisper, and her strength gradually increased until the soreness had disappeared.

St. Paul's Pioneer corps and St. Leo's battalion will enjoy their annual outing next Sunday at Gravel pond. Special cars will be provided this morning for the conveyance of the pupils from the First Wesleyan Baptist church to Nay Aug park, where the annual picnic will be held this afternoon. The children are expected to be at the church not later than 9:30 o'clock. Superintendent B. Hughes will have charge of the little ones.

So many species of the famous kissing bug are on exhibition in various places around town that it is hard to distinguish the horse fly or grasshopper from many of the specimens. The only genuine one, however, is on exhibition in G. W. Jenkins' drug store window, which was captured shortly after having bitten a woman who came to the store for treatment.

The choir of St. Patrick's church held a business meeting and rehearsal last evening. Litany will be said at St. David's church at 8 o'clock this morning by the pastor, Rev. E. J. McHenry.

A party of friends were entertained Monday evening at the home of Miss Kate McHugh, on Lafayette street, in honor of Miss Hooley, of Troy, N. Y.

The Keyser Valley Hose company have purchased the lot on Langstaff avenue, referred to in The Tribune some time ago, and will beautify it with trees and shrubbery. A picnic will be held there on August 8.

The officers of West Scranton council, No. 497, Junior Order of United Americans, were installed at Co-operative hall Monday evening.

The members of the Columbia Hose company will meet at headquarters at 1 o'clock this afternoon and attend the funeral of the late District Chief Charles Wirth.

Ex-Superintendent B. Hughes, of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western lines, who is president of the Schuylkill Anthracite Coal Company, has consented to act as general manager of the company and was in Pottsville this week looking over the plant.

Rev. Thomas de Gruchy, of the Jackson Street Baptist church, was unable to leave with the R. Y. E. U. delegates yesterday for Richmond, but will go this morning on the 8:30 train. On Monday he will be the guest of Rev. Dr. Whitman, president of Columbia college, at Washington, D. C.

The concert given by the Lawrence band last evening attracted a large crowd, and the programme rendered was of an enjoyable nature.

William G. Phillips, of North Rebecca avenue, left yesterday for Richmond, Va., to attend the B. Y. P. U. convention.

The Electric City Wheelmen met last evening but nothing of importance was transacted.

An eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Hughes, of North Sumner avenue, fell from a tree yesterday and fractured his arm.

that all members who can will attend the funeral of Charles Wirth today. They will meet at the engine house at 1:30 o'clock.

A woman whose name could not be learned, carried a two-month-old baby to Dr. M. J. Williams' office last evening for treatment, but the little one died before assistance could be rendered.

An infant child of Mr. and Mrs. James Murphy, of Sumner avenue and Sweetland street, died yesterday morning. The remains will be privately interred in the Cathedral cemetery this afternoon.

THE LOVER'S LEAP.

The Romance and Reality of Woman's Love.

Of all lover's leaps sung in song or told in story, that was the greatest. Do you remember the story as Mr. Browning tells it in the rhyme of the Duchess May? A tale of those fierce feudal times when might was right, and when the law was writ in the sharp edge of a man's sword. Sir Guy had stolen away the bride of a rival suitor. And now the rival has besieged the castle, which has sheltered their brief happiness, until there is no more use in defense. In despair Sir Guy climbs to the topmost tower and sends for his steed. He will take one leap from the battlement and die like a man. But his wife hears the steed's hoofs on the stair, and follows. It was the horse that had borne them on the night of their bridal, swift and safe from pursuing vassals, and her hand was on the bridal when spouse and steed swept upon the tower.

Down she knelt at her lord's knees And she looked up silently, And he kissed her twice and thrice For that look within her eyes, Which he could not bear to see.

Then putting her away from him, He bade her go back to her bring room and her maid. But she by wifely bond and woman's love swore that in death or life she would not be parted from him. He turned and sprang the saddle, but she caught and clung to the stirrup rein. With bit and spur he backed his horse for that wild leap from the battlements, "whence a hundred feet went down." But she still clung, half swooning, her hair sweeping the ground and her limbs dragging. Three times her husband broke her claps and three times her hands closed again with the same convulsive clutch. Then, as commending her to God, he pressed his horse back for the fearful leap, love gave her almost superhuman strength and she climbed to the saddle with him. "By her love she overcame."

Where she smiled like one at rest, Then the horse in stark despair with his front hoofs poised in air, On the last verge rears again.

Now he hangs, he rocks between, and he nuzzles with his nose. Now he shivers head and hoof, and The flakes of foam fall off. And his face grows fierce and thin.

Then back-toppling, crashing back, A dead weight flung out to wreck, Horse and riders overfell.

Oh! men sigh, that was a woman to die for. There are no such women now-a-days. The high heroism is a thing of the past. Let the men who think so go into his kitchen awhile and watch his wife, worn and weary, while he orders his evening's washing.

It's harder to live with the average man than to die with him. There are doubtless women, worn out, broken down, crushed by the duties of wifehood and motherhood, who would gladly trade all these years of suffering and pain for a few joyous months that followed marriage and then like the Duchess May, smile at the dark leap, with the arms of the man she loved close-clasping her.

Every wife, every mother is a heroine. Is there no courage in putting that little hand in yours, and forsaking father and mother for your sake? Is there no heroism in assuming the responsibility and risk of motherhood?

It is doubly heroic when the young woman can look around her and see what loss marriage so often entails—loss of health, of figure, of complexion, of strength.

The best recognition that can be given to the heroism of women is that which minimizes its perils and smooths the path of duty as much as possible. It's a very beautiful thing to have a monument getting forth the virtues of the wife and mother, with a weeping husband hanging wreaths about it. But it is a very much more beautiful thing to be a happy, healthy woman and a "joyful mother of children."

The crown of motherhood ought not to be a crown of martyrdom. The most practical recognition of the worth of woman, her courage, her suffering and her needs, is to be found in that "God-send to women," Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. There is no extravagance in that statement. The martyrdom of motherhood is done away by the use of this great remedy for female troubles, debilitating drains, and the inflammation and ulceration which cause such suffering.

"I would like to express my gratitude to you for the benefit I have received from your wonderful medicine, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Mrs. H. C. Anderson, of South Britain, New Haven Co., Conn. (Box 22). "During the first month after I found I was going to become a mother I could not keep anything on my stomach. Was so sick that I had to be bed and stay for weeks. In fact I went to bed the 28th of June and never got up until the first of August. I tried different doctors, but with little benefit. I read about my being helped by using your medicine, so I thought I would give it a trial. I began to take your "Favorite Prescription" in November and I had a nice little baby girl in February following. My baby weighed over eight pounds. I was only in hard labor about one hour and got along nicely during confinement; was up and dressed on the eighth day. I never had the doctor with me at all; just the nurse and one or two friends. My friends thought that I was sick a "mother's friend," for it helped me wonderfully. It kept me from having a miscarriage. This makes my second child; with the first one I did not take "Favorite Prescription" and I had a miscarriage. The little one lived just about two months and she was sick all the time. This last baby is as plump and healthy as any mother could wish. She is now three weeks old now and is gaining in flesh every day."

That letter offers a practical example of what "Favorite Prescription" has done for thousands of women. Almost all of the letters received by Dr. Pierce dwell on the wonderful absence of pain, the cheerful spirits, the perfectly safe and comfortable feeling as the hour of trial draws near, and then the crowning surprise of all, that the ordeal of the birth hour is so short and almost painless. But a good many other women are pleased to tell of the other side of the story, how robust their health becomes, how fine the form and fair the face that follows the use of this health-giving medicine.

Mrs. Mary E. Lewis, of Tanner, Gilmer Co., W. Va., writes: "I will always recommend Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, his Favorite Prescription and Pleasant Pellets, for they cured me when doctors and other medicines failed. For fifteen years I suffered untold misery. When I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's medicines I had given up all hope of getting well. I could not get to sleep at all, and everything I ate would cramp me to death. Was very nervous and could hardly walk across the room. I only weighed ninety pounds when I commenced taking these medicines six years ago; I now weigh one hundred and forty pounds and am having better health than ever before. My friends all say that they can hardly believe I am the same person; after being sick so long I have changed to be robust and rosy cheeked. I have taken fifteen bottles of the "Prescription," fifteen of the "Pellets," and fifteen of the "Pellets." I take great pleasure in recommending your medicine to the sick, for I know that if it had not been for them I would not be living today. I am very thankful to God, who put the great power in your medicines that cured me."

The secret of these changes in health and appearance is easily explained. The general health of women cannot be separated from the local health of the delicate and sensitive womanly organs. When these are diseased, the whole health suffers. The nerves are affected and the result is sleeplessness and restlessness. The functions of the stomach are disturbed and the body suffers from lack of nutrition. Offensive drains sap the strength and undermine the constitution, while female weakness and ulceration and inflammation afflict the mind as well as afflict the body.

The action of "Favorite Prescription" is such that all the delicate and sensitive womanly organs are promptly helped and surely healed. Debilitating drains are dried up, inflammation and ulceration healed, female weakness cured and the system invigorated and elasticity. As a result of this the body's coming is not dreaded, and its advent entails no trial beyond the natural strength. When local health is thus established, the causes of the hollow cheeks, dull eyes, and thin form are taken away.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. R. V. Pierce by letter without charge. For more than thirty years as chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute at Buffalo, N. Y., Dr. Pierce has made the treatment of disease of women his special study. Of a half million cases treated, ninety-eight women out of every hundred have been perfectly and permanently cured. It's a wonderful record, attested by grateful letters from women in every part of the country. There is positively no charge for such consultation. Every letter is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential, and to preserve that privacy throughout, all answers are mailed in perfectly plain envelopes without printing or advertising upon them. Write without fear as without fee.

Designing men sometimes invite women to "write to a woman" on the score of receiving "a woman's sympathy" and that "a woman understands woman's ailments." The "bearded lady" is evidently not found in the dime museum alone. The fallacy of such statements is evident when it is considered that if any woman can cure woman's diseases it must be by medical knowledge. It is only of recent years women have entered the medical profession. All the medical knowledge any woman can have she must have learned from some man or the writings of some man, which makes ridiculous the claim that "woman understands woman" better than the men who teach and trained her. There is as far as known no woman physician qualified to practice, connected with any proprietary medicine. It is absolutely certain that there is no woman with a record equal to Dr. Pierce's; more than thirty years of special study of women's diseases in which more than half a million have been treated and ninety-eight in every hundred have been completely cured.

There is no alcohol, whisky or other stimulant in "Favorite Prescription." It contains no opium nor other narcotics, and it entirely free from syrup or sugar, which disagrees with and is injurious to some stomachs.
