SAYS SHE WAS DESERTED.
 And Had Been Married Only Eighteen Months.
 Mrs. Anna S. Hill, of Pine street, Taylor, is seeking a divorce from her husband, Harry Hill. The petition was filed Wednesday with the prothonotary Copeland by Attorney George W. O'Neil. Mrs. Hill alleges that her husband deserted her August 20, 1892, after having lived with her only eighteen months. They were married in Utica and the alleged desertion occurred in that city. The present whereabouts of the husband is unknown to the libellant.

MOREY EXPLAINED HIS BILL.
 The Apparent Excessive Charges Are Accounted for.
 The building committee of the board of control met last night to reconsider the alleged excessive bills for painting sent back by Controller Howell. Moses Morey, who did the work at No. 21 school, was the only claimant to present himself to justify the charges he had made.
 He explained that the work required a seemingly remarkable length of time from the fact that the board had allowed the iron fence to become rusted and it was necessary to file off the rust. The charge of $3 a day for labor, he said, represented the union rate, plus the employer's profit. The committee paid the bill, after demurring some against $3 a day for a man to file off the fence, which portion of the work the committee thought might have been done by a laborer or apprentice. Mr. Morey stated that this was a part of the painting trade and would not be allowed to be done by a laborer or apprentice. No action will be taken on the other claimant, the claimants come before the committee.
 The contract for constructing a retaining wall and laying sidewalks at No. 22 school was awarded to S. Sykes & Sons, whose bid of $1,774 was the lowest of those accompanied by certified checks. Vincent G. Carlucci, whose bid was still lower, did not take advantage of the opportunity given him to present a certified check of $150 as a guarantee of good faith, as required by the advertisement, and his proposal consequently was ignored.

THEY HAVE LOTS OF DUST
 Two Scranton Miners Returning from the Klondike with $100,000—One Has $75,000, the Other $25,000.
 Arthur Thomas, who is reported to have reached Seattle from Dawson City, with $75,000 from the Klondike, is a resident of this city, and formerly resided with his brother, David M. Thomas, at the corner of Sweetland street and Garfield avenue.
 Up to about eight years ago he was employed in various shops in this city as a cigar maker and is a single man, 28 years of age. His parents are dead, but two brothers and two sisters are in the west, and one of the former, William Thomas, also invaded the Klondike several years ago, where he has several good claims staked out.
 The successful miner has three valuable claims in Dawson City, and his good luck is not a surprise to his brother and sister in this city, as they had anticipated such results from previous information received.
 William Thomas has been in the Klondike region about twelve years, and previous to his departure from the city conducted a cigar saloon at 108 South Main avenue. His claims are also very valuable and he expects to realize a fortune from them.
 Arthur Thomas, who arrived in Seattle on the steamer Humboldt, has been in the Klondike about two years, and is a married man, with a wife and two children. His brother expects him to arrive in Scranton some time this month.
 A. B. Hadden, who is reported to have arrived on the same steamer, with $25,000, is a resident of Dunmore, and has relatives residing there.

ASSESSMENT WAS REDUCED.
 City Admitted That an Error Had Been Made.
 A hearing was had before Judge Archibald yesterday on the petition of S. C. Krelin for a reduction of the city assessment on his Millin avenue property.
 City Assessor Charles Fowler and Joseph Oliver, formerly of the board of revision and appeal, admitted that the assessment was too high, and that it was an oversight that it had not been reduced.
 Testimony was offered to show the assessment of adjacent property and Judge Archibald decided that the assessment should be reduced from $2,300 to $1,700.
 O. B. Partridge represented the petitioner, and City Solicitor A. A. Vonburg looked after the city's interests.

MR. RUSSELL HERE TO ASSUME OFFICE
 NEW GENERAL SUPERINTENDENT TAKES CHARGE TODAY.
 Mr. Bogart Will Be Relieved Next Thursday, He Announces, But His Successor Has Not as Yet Been Fixed Upon—Superintendents Schwarz and Salesburg, of the Syracuse and Utica Divisions Respectively, Being Considered for the Place—Duties and Powers of the New Office.
 E. G. Russell, the new general superintendent of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company, and, practically, the successor of ex-General Manager W. F. Hallett, arrived here at 3:25 yesterday afternoon to enter upon the duties of his office. He is stopping at the Jermyn and is registered there as "E. G. Russell, Scranton, Pa."
 Last evening Mr. Russell officially announced the resignation of Superintendent Garrett Bogart. It was dated to go into effect July 15, tomorrow, but at the request of President Truesdale he will continue until the 20th inst., next Thursday, by which time a successor will have been chosen to relieve him.
 Mr. Russell could not say who would be selected for Mr. Bogart's place, but gave it out that Superintendent Schwartz, of the Syracuse division, and Superintendent Salesburg, of the Utica division, were considered as about the best of the available men.

PRACTICALLY THE SAME.
 As to his own duties and powers, Mr. Russell was not prepared to give any detailed statement, but when asked if they would not be practically similar to those exercised by Mr. Hallett, he answered in the affirmative. He will not direct the Scranton division any more than the others.
 The division superintendents would report direct to him, he said, but heads of departments such as those directed by Mr. Fitzgibbon and Mr. Cantfield, would regard him as a consultant rather than a supervisor.
 Mr. Russell said that his policy, if he went on to say, "to have his officials confer with one another in all important matters, and all the men he has appointed thoroughly understand and appreciate that. You will find the officers of the road working as a committee, with every consideration save the best interests of the company set aside."
 Mr. Russell further stated that Scranton, as has been announced, will be his permanent headquarters. He expects to have a conference with Mr. Hallett this morning and will at once enter actively upon the duties of his office.
 For the present he will make his home at the Jermyn. He and his family had just established themselves at East Orange when he was called upon to become general superintendent with headquarters at Scranton. His wife and children will spend the summer at the seashore and come on here to reside permanently in the fall.
 Personally, the new general superintendent, resembles in the main, every other Truesdale appointee who has been assigned to Scranton. He is young—42 years of age, thin, energetic-looking, and a gentleman. In appearance he is medium sized, heavy-set, dark complexioned and wears a short, full-faced black beard.

SOMETHING OF HIS CAREER.
 His career as a railroad man does not begin in 1874 as a telegraph operator on the Inter-Colonial Canadian government railroad, at his home in New Brunswick, Province of Quebec. He was promoted to dispatcher and after serving for a short time in this position, came to the states and worked his way up from one office to another on seven different roads until finally he became superintendent of transportation and assistant general superintendent on the Illinois Central.
 Six years ago he accepted a position with the New York Central as superintendent of the Western, Watertown and Ogdensburg road and held it until last April, when he was drafted into the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western service by President Truesdale, as superintendent of the Morris and Essex division, made vacant by the retirement of the veteran, Andrew Beasler. He was with the Minneapolis and St. Louis road as assistant superintendent in 1882-'83-'84, when Mr. Truesdale was president and receiver. He was also a co-official of Superintendent of Transportation J. M. Daly and Superintendent of Motive Power J. W. Fitzgibbon on western roads.
 Mr. Daly went down to Stroudsburg to meet him, yesterday, Mr. Fitzgibbon greeted him upon his arrival at the Jermyn.
 Last evening he was taken for a drive over the Elmhurst boulevard by E. E. Loomis, superintendent of mining.

BILL MATTHEWS' ENGLISH.
 Broke Up a Midnight Fight on the Court House Square.
 The hour of midnight crept on apace. The young moon had shrouded her three-cornered countenance behind the West mountain, and the stillness of court house square was unbroken last night, save for the creak of the best occasional stair runner who had lagged behind the homeward bound procession.
 The sleepers on the red benches nodded drowsily, and Patrolman Bill Matthews seemed lost in reveries of the past as he gazed dreamily from the statue of George Washington down the street past the figures of Hebe and Christopher Columbus.
 Suddenly there was commotion in the vicinity of Hebe.
 From a group of quiet-looking young men in front of Casick's undertaking office came the sound of angry voices: "Na, ye've got to get out of here!" "Shut yer mug, will yer?" "What's dat?" "Close yer jaw. Ye've said enough, or I'll mix me fast wid yer dial." "Wh-a-a-t?" "Whoop! Whi-z-z-z! Swish!" and two strong lads sprang upon the pavement as two forms clinched and whirled about like a Fourth of July pin wheel.
 Arms and legs protruded in every direction for an instant like the tentacles of the giant octopus.
 The sleepers were aroused to action and became excited. Two young men, a few rods distant, who were trying to make love to a girl in a pink shirt waist, forgot their joys or sorrows; broke away, and loudly yelled, "Police! Police!"
 Still the struggle continued until Bill Matthews, who came to the avenue at a hook and ladder truck horse trot, got near enough to be heard.
 "Cheese it, boys! Cheese it!" he shouted.
 At the sound of Bill's voice the combatants separated and disappeared up the alley between the Delectessan and the coffee store quicker than a cat would drop from the back garden fence.
 The lone girl in a pink shirt waist walked disdainfully up the avenue; the sleepers settled back on the benches, and peace reigned once more.
 No arrests were made.

WELLS' SUDDEN DEATH.
 While Walking With His Wife on Adams Avenue the Dread Summons Came Without Warning—Died Almost Instantly.
 Oscar T. Wells, of 324 Adams avenue, dropped dead last night on the 700 block of that thoroughfare, while walking with his wife.
 Mr. Wells was employed as foreman in a South Scranton blacksmith shop and was a man of rugged physique, looked to be the picture of health. He was feeling as well as usual last night and proposed to his wife that they go out for a stroll.
 They took the baby of Mr. Wells' sister with them and they walked up Adams avenue, Mr. Wells wheeling the baby carriage. They walked along until just past the corner of Pine street when Mr. Wells, without warning, fell forward on the baby carriage.
 His son, Guthrie, was coming along the street behind them and upon hearing his mother's screams rushed to the scene. Other passersby summoned physicians but before their arrival the unfortunate man had passed away in the arms of his son.
 Alex. Dunn, Jr., who was driving by at the time, assisted in placing the body in his carriage and then removed it to the home. Dr. Burns arrived at the house soon after and pronounced the man dead.
 Coroner Roberts was notified and, after examining the remains and hearing the statements of those who witnessed the affair, decided that an inquest was unnecessary. He stated that the cause of death was valvular heart disease.
 The deceased was 47 years of age and has resided in this city for a number of years. He is survived by a widow, one son, Guthrie, and two sisters, Mrs. Maggie Meade, of this city, and Mrs. Robert Knapp, of Taylor.

F. L. PECK'S PURCHASE.
 He Has Acquired Three Fine Lots on Jefferson Avenue.
 F. L. Peck, of this city, has purchased from the executors of the Smith estate three lots at the corner of Jefferson avenue and Olive street for 27,750.
 On these Mr. Peck intends to erect a beautiful home for himself. The plans are now being prepared. The building will be of buff brick with Indiana limestone trimmings and will be a notable addition to the many fine residences of the western side.
 Mr. Peck now resides at Jefferson avenue and Gibson street. He is president of the Amberg Lumber company of Allentown, N. M., and general manager of the Lackawanna and J. J. Newman Lumber companies. At present Mr. Peck is in New Mexico looking after his interests there.

INSPECTION OF THE FIRE DEPARTMENT
 MAYOR AND COUNCILMEN VISITED VARIOUS HOUSES.
 They Found the Department Buildings and Apparatus Run Down and in Need of Immediate Improvement—Change at the Century and Eagle and Hook and Ladder Buildings Are Urgently Necessary—Proposition to Use $10,000 to Get Department in Shape.
 Mayor Moir made his first official visit to several of the companies of the fire department yesterday, accompanied by Chief Walker, William Tannler, clerk to the chief, Building Inspector Jackson, Simon Thomas, Thomas Melvin and John J. Schneider, members of the fire department committee of select council. F. W. Zielman, William J. Smith, John Nagell and C. E. Wenzel, of the same committee of the common council. He made a tour through the quarters of the Nay and Century and Phoenix companies of the central city, between 9 and 11 o'clock. Later the William C. Hill, Neptune and Century companies were visited. The latter company's quarters and its disadvantages were given attention.
 Several months ago ex-Building Inspector Nelson condemned the Century quarters in the Kelly building on Pittston avenue. The company then made its home in the Hartman building nearby. A large storeroom was repainted and partitioned into three rooms. The horses and apparatus are kept in the stable in the rear. When called to a fire Permanentman Kneller is compelled to run a half block, unlock two doors, bring his team from the basement, one horse at a time. The exit from the barn is particularly dangerous, and great care must at all times be made in driving out.
 TO CHANGE BUILDING.
 Mrs. Hartman, who owns the building is willing to remodel the present meeting and sleeping rooms and purchase so as to have the permanent man drive to a fire. When fire matters are next discussed in his body of the city legislature he will call attention to the matter.
 Mr. Melvin is strongly of the opinion that the drivers are too careless in responding to an alarm. The undependent rate of speed they make is entirely uncalled for, he thinks. It does much damage to the wagons and horses, and necessitates an outlay of much money for new horses, repairs and the purchase of new wagons.
 WEST SIDE COMPANIES.
 The Franklins, Hook and Ladder, Eagles and Columbus headquarters were also visited. At the first named house the needed repairs were discussed. Two additional stalls are necessary, the changing of staircase and feed room and a new steamer is needed. Two horses for the hose wagon are needed. It is essential that the space in front of the building be paved while the work is being done on Hydro Park avenue. The mayor, chief and councilmen were pleased with the condition of everything at the Franklin house.
 At Columbia headquarters a new furnace is needed, the barn should be remodelled and a partition on the second floor removed. More hose is also needed for the chemical engine. The party was well pleased with the way the horses worked and the Columbus undoubtedly have one of the finest teams in the city.
 The Eagles headquarters need painting, both inside and outside, and a new floor in one of the rooms is suggested. At the Hooks' house a new floor is needed, the beds want repairing and the barn floor is in bad shape. Other lesser improvements are needed.
 In North Scranton things were found in fairly good shape at the Excelsior and Cumberland houses, but the committee was almost a unit in sentiment as to the necessity of changing the location of either the Liberty or Niagara company and putting the police station in the rooms now occupied by the company it is decided to change.

THE GENERAL PHINNEY.
 It was found that the General Phinney company is in need of a new engine and some repairs. At Pittsburgh it was found that the Relief company is in good shape in almost every respect.
 The impression of the inspecting party was that the department buildings and apparatus were run down and in need of immediate improvement. A proposition to use $10,000 to get the department in shape was suggested. The $10,000 of the $30,000 bond issue proposed for park purposes be used for the fire department.

WHO IS TO BLAME?
 No Systematic Effort Made to Find the Body on West Mountain.
 Over on the West mountain somewhere is the decaying body of a man. Whether he was killed or died from natural causes is not known, but nevertheless no one seems particularly anxious to clear the matter up by finding the body. The inability of the Century, Hook and Ladder and Eagle companies are in need of immediate attention and new steamers are required to replace the General Phinney and Franklin companies.
 To get the department in shape it was suggested that $10,000 of the $30,000 bond issue proposed for park purposes be used for the fire department.

THE MECHANICS CLUB.
 Preliminary Steps Toward Organization Taken Last Night.
 Thirty-five carpenters of the city met last night in Hulbert's hall and effected a temporary organization of the Mechanics club. They will meet again one week from tonight in the same place where permanent organization will take place.
 Membership in the Mechanics club is confined to skilled carpenters. Its members are men who disagreed with the strike policy of the local carpenters unions and did not go out when the strike was declared.
